Crowd Fills Aldermanic Hall At Lively Hearing On Use of Clark House

Petition Proposes To Make Home a Retreat For Friendless Girls; Needham Cites Plan As Detriment To Residential District

Nearly one hundred persons crowded into the aldermanic chamber at City Hall on Monday night to attend a public hearing held before the Board of Aldermen on the petition of Mildred Clark Sears and the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company for a permit to use the large residence on the James E. Clark estate at 80 Claremont st., Newton as a home-school for friendless girls. Because of the number interested in the hearing, it had to be held in the aldermanic chamber instead of in the large committee room. The hearing was conducted by the Claims & Rules Committee, but all the Aldermen were present.

The first speaker for the petitioners was John H. Eaton, Jr., of Wellesley Hills, vice-president of the Boston Safe Deposit Company, and a trustee of the estate of James E. Clark. He said that his company and Mildred Clark Sears had been appointed trustees in 1933 and had since been endeavoring to sell the estate on Claremont st., Newton. Although the property had been listed with 25 brokers, no offer had been received for its purchase as a single residence until February, 1936. Two years ago Mrs. Sears went to reside at the house, and had since spent her time trying to sell the property. The property would have to be subdivided into house lots unless the petition for its use as the home-school is granted. Mr. Eaton said that in February of this year an offer of $15,000 for the property had been received from the real estate office of John T. Burns & Sons; and another offer of $11,000 from the Florence Crittenton League. He stated that Mrs. Sears is desirous of giving the neighborhood the alternative of considering whether the property shall be divided into small house lots, or retained in its entirety and turned over to a charitable use. He said it is not a selfish attempt to force the property onto some purchaser.

Mrs. Mildred Clark Sears spoke at considerable length. She commented that she would speak personally and wanted to find a use for the property that would not be in conflict with her neighbors. She explained that the house was built by master craftsmen in 1910, took two years to build, and that both builders and real estate men say they never saw its equal. (Continued on Page 2)

Consider New Picture Plans To Replace Pictorial Section

The NEWTON GRAPHIC wishes to thank the many people who have so kindly evidenced their interest in the pictorial section of this paper.

The pictorial section was introduced in the nature of a four-week experiment to determine whether or not there was a demand for such a supplement. We are happy to state that the reception of this pictorial among our readers has been most satisfactory.

However, because of the many mechanical and editorial problems encountered in the publication of a section of this type it is best, at this time, to go further into methods and means of production and for these reasons the supplement is being suspended. The GRAPHIC, meanwhile, is considering several possible plans for the greater use of pictures in its regular columns as an added feature of interest to our many readers, one of which plans, we hope to offer in the near future.

All members of the council and others interested in the bicycle problem are invited to attend.

State To Probe Soldiers' Relief

Employees of the Department of State Aid and Pensions are to conduct an investigation of Soldiers' Relief in Newton. Representatives of Commissioner Richard Flynn of this department have already conferred with Mayor Childs and Director Edward Dungan of the Newton Soldiers' Relief Department. The city will pay the cost of the investigation which is a result of charges recently brought by Alderman Frank McCabe. Major McCabe, a retired officer of the United States Army, at a recent meeting of the Board of Aldermen criticised the activities of a man who has been an investigator for the Newton Soldiers' Relief Department the past few years. McCabe also informed the Board of Aldermen that during 1938 this investigator had received from the City of Newton $4915.52 for soldiers' relief, and in addition $570 from the Federal Government.

Cost of Carrying WPA Men $2000

At the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen Mayor Childs will present a recommendation for a $10,000 appropriation to provide transportation for Newton men on the WPA lists who (Continued on Page 6)

Budget Passed By Aldermen; Finance Committee Recommends Methods of Economy In Report

STRESS BUDGET CONTROL BY DEPT. HEADS

Blanket Contracts For City Gas, Oil, and Tires Advocated

The Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen at the meeting of the Board on Monday night presented a report in conjunction with the annual budget which contained a number of recommendations which, if accepted, are calculated to promote savings and more efficiency in the conduct of city affairs. The report follows:

"During the past twelve months there have been occasions for many criticisms of the city government. It might be expected that the annual report of the Finance Committee accompanying the budget would review these. They have all had a direct bearing on the moral and financial well-being of the city. But since they are so fresh in your minds and the public's we will omit them in this (Continued on page 12)

Several Aldermen Want More Economy

A few members of the Board, including Aldermen Schipper, Hoffman and Tiffin, voted against accepting the recommendations of the Finance Committee on a number of items, and expressed the opinions that the Aldermen had not gone far enough in reducing the budget recommendations of Mayor Childs.

Economy Rests With Executive Declares Colby

Mayor Criticized For Not Attempting To Reduce School Dept. Costs

Alderman Clarence Colby, in a prepared statement to the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, called attention to the financial crises which face this nation, our State and the City of Newton. He said that in spite of shrinking incomes and the necessity for greater economy, our home owners will have to pay a higher tax than heretofore. He commented that although the heaviest increase in the State tax is responsible for the increase in Newton's tax rate, this does not shift the burden of the city government to limit expenditures to the minimum amount necessary to maintain the city's services. He asserted that were it not for the fact that the city received $121,000 from the gasoline tax, this year's expenditures (Continued on Page 2)

Mayor Details Patrolman As Investigator

Mayor Childs established a new precedent in the police department on Monday when he ordered Patrolman Charles Jenkins to be detailed to his office for special duty. It is the first time in the history of the city that a policeman has been used for such a purpose. Mayor Childs declined to state what Jenkins' duties will be, but it is believed that the Mayor will use the policeman as a special investigator.

BOARD DEFERS ACTION ON THREE ITEMS

Burwise Wants Investigation of Two-Platoon System by Special Committee

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night passed the budget for 1939 just as recommended by the Finance Committee and identical with the figures printed in the GRAPHIC last week, with the exception that action on a few items was deferred. The budget items passed by the Board totaled $4,348,158.19. The deferred items included $674,375.79 for serial bond retirements. The reason for postponing action on this item is to permit the Finance Committee to reduce this appropriation by spreading the $100,000 hurricane loan over a period of years. The second deferred item was that of $57,190 for the retirement fund; the committee believing that this appropriation can be reduced to $50,000. Another item was $10,450 on insurance of city property. The Finance Committee is considering lowering the item for boiler insurance.

A few members of the Board, including Aldermen Schipper, Hoffman and Tiffin, voted against accepting the recommendations of the Finance Committee on a number of items, and expressed the opinions that the Aldermen had not gone far enough in reducing the budget recommendations of Mayor Childs.

In discussing the budget of the General Department Alderman Hughes asked why the item for the License Board expense had been increased from $141 in 1938 to $2026 in 1939. Alderman McKay said that the License Board had asked for $1000 for an investigator, and the Finance Committee of the Aldermen recommended $555, which will give this investigator $15 per week for the balance of this year. Alderman Hughes said this is no year in which to increase expenses. Aldermen Fahey, Gaddis, Schipper, Hoffman and Tiffin agreed with Hughes. Alderman Temperley asked why an investigator is needed by the License Board now? Alderman Schipper commented that the License Board has operated since license went into effect without the services of an investigator, and it is the duty of the Newton Police Department to keep watch on liquor places in this city. Alderman McCabe said the Newton License Board is composed of three members who are unpaid, that the city obtains $40,000 in liquor license revenue, and some of the places selling liquor need to be properly supervised. He said that Chairman Glidden of the License Board had asked for an investigator. (Continued on page 12)

THE SOLE HOPE FOR PEACE

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the necessity for a more Christian and humanitarian outlook upon world affairs of today. At Easter time our thoughts are centered more deeply upon religion than at any other time of year. The Son of God was sent to guide us into peace on earth and good will to men. He gave His life that we might come closer to God. In the midst of the toil and trouble of these days when war and world havoc hover over us the world wants no war. A more Christian attitude in the hearts of all men is the sole remaining hope for peace.

THE POWER OF THE MINORITY

The public mass meeting staged by taxpayers of the state this week is, in all probability, the forerunner of similar meetings which will take place before the difficult problem of financing our government is solved. Proposals have been made to cut a considerable amount from the state budget. Some of these proposals are sound and desirable, and some will probably be adopted. Others which are also sound and desirable will not be adopted because of the pressure of minority groups. The basic problem behind the entire question is the fact that these minority groups have had the power to get what they desired at the expense of all. When, and not until, these minority groups are willing to forego benefits from these appropriations there can be some progress made. But until that time there can only be minor reductions and relief from our tax burdens.

Economy Rests With Executive Declares Colby

would exceed those of 1938 by $70,000.

Colby asserted that while it is the duty of the Board of Aldermen to appropriate funds adequate to carry on city affairs, the responsibility of spending the money appropriated economically and efficiently rests upon the Mayor and department heads. He said: "The citizens should clearly understand that their hope for a reduction in taxes rests upon the Mayor and the executive departments." Alderman Colby asserted that Newton has the most expensive department, per pupil cost, of any city in the State; its pupil cost for 1938 was $4 more than Boston and $10 more than the average of all cities having a cost of more than $100 per pupil. The cost per pupil in Newton was approximately $120. If the cost in Newton were reduced to the average of the top 20% of cities and towns over the $100 per pupil cost, the savings to Newton taxpayers would be annually $125,000. Colby asked: "What are the Mayor's efforts with relation to this department?" The Ward 7 Alderman answered this question by saying that in 20 years as Mayor, Mr. Childs has attended but two meetings of the School Committee, although he is ex-officio a member of that body; and the Mayor submitted the School Department budget to the Board of Aldermen without making one change in it, and without even having had a conference with the School Committee.

Colby continued by saying:

"There has recently been called to public notice the fact that one favored recipient of Soldiers' Relief received from city funds during 1938 the sum of $4,915.52 in addition to $570.00 paid him by the Federal Government. Extravagance of this nature is unwarranted."

"The expenditures in one city department have increased during the last four years $381,128.16, an increase of 133%. In the same period the total city expenditures have gone up $992,760.03 or in round figures a million dollars. Lack of executive planning and waste have helped to swell this total."

"These are only a few of the pertinent facts available from the record. One cannot expect the operating cost of the city or the tax burden under which we live to be reduced, while such conditions exist. In your private life, extravagance or waste does not lie in the amount of funds available but in the manner in which those funds are spent. It is my belief that the same rule holds here. It is our duty to appropriate adequate funds to meet the city's needs based on past experience, and have no other sound policy to rely upon."

"It is the manner in which these funds are spent by the executives of the city which determines waste or extravagance on the one side or efficiency and economy on the other. Unless the Mayor and department heads recognize this fact and act upon it, or the citizens of Newton take steps to correct this situation, we shall have no relief from our tax burdens."

In conclusion Mr. Colby paid tribute to Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee, for the large amount of extra time he had put into studying the 1939 budget recommendations.

Baron Guilty of Manslaughter

Mathew Baron, alias Baronsky, a former Nonantum resident, was found guilty at Providence last week of manslaughter and sentenced to the Rhode Island State Prison. On February 4 Baronsky's wife, the former Julia Gilmore of Nonantum, was found beaten to death at her home in Woonsocket. Last year when she moved from Newton, to Woonsocket, she predicted that she would be murdered by her husband.

Neighborhood Divided On Permit For "Welcome House" on Claremont Street

She said the house does not deserve to die, that it is in excellent condition and will need no repairs for some years to come. Mrs. Sears said that in February after receiving offers for the property from the Florence Crittenton League, John T. Burns and another offer through a friend, she started to talk with her neighbors to ascertain whether they would prefer the property to be used as the school-home, or to have the house destroyed piecemeal and used for storage purposes. She received letters from two neighbors, one an abettor, and the other living opposite the Clark residence, who favor the use of the property as a home-school.

Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims & Rules Committee, who presided, commented that the Aldermen are the trustees of the City of Newton, and have to look a long way into the future when such matters are being considered. He said the interests of the city are paramount to the interests of any individual or institution. Herman Holt, Jr., president of the Florence Crittenton League, a resident of Newton Center and a former member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, spoke briefly relative to the use the League would make of the Clark property as a school-home for young girls. He answered questions asked by several Aldermen relative to "Welcome House." He assured Alderman McCabe that the house and grounds would be kept in as good condition as at present and no exterior changes would be made on the house. Alderman Rawson and Walker asked if girls were sent to "Welcome House" from juvenile courts or corrective institutions, and Mr. Holt said that no girls had to come to "Welcome House" against their own desires.

Mrs. Mary E. Chute, superintendent of "Welcome House," now located at Jamaica Plain, explained in detail the routine at the home-school, the types of girls who were admitted to it, and the objects it seeks to accomplish. She admitted that some girls who had been in juvenile courts had come to "Welcome House," but she said these girls had mostly been in court for truancy, or had come from broken homes, and they were not tough or bad girls, or moral delinquents. She told the Aldermen that in four years not one girl has ever run away from the institution, and she answered questions about a fence which surrounds Welcome House at Jamaica Plain by saying that the fence was erected to keep dogs from intruding and destroying flowers, and not to keep the girls in. She stated there is no connection between "Welcome House," and the other activity of the Florence Crittenton League, the maternity aid at Brighton.

Among the neighbors who favor the permit for the use of the property for the school-home were Miles Clair of Surrey rd., who does not believe the home would injure nearby real estate values; Edmund Boucher of Concoral ave., an abettor, a life-long resident of Newton, and Ellis Royvald of 18 Surrey rd. When those who favored the petition were asked to stand, about 50 arose, but when Alderman Rawson asked how many of these were property owners, residing in the vicinity of the proposed home, about 20 stood up.

Daniel A. Needham of Newtonville was the first speaker in opposition. He said he represented Curtis Nye Smith of 68 Lombard st., and Donald Holbrook of 69 Claremont st. He said that Mr. Smith had resided in that locality for many years, and while he regretted to see the former, large Converse estate cut up for house lots, this development had not injured his property, and Mr. Smith was not appalled by the prospect of the Clark estate being subdivided. Mr. Needham said that while it is admitted that the work of "Welcome House" is wonderful, and that its superintendent, Mrs. Chute, is doing wonderful work for the girls there, the fact remains that if the petition is granted, an institution will come to Newton, to which girls come from juvenile courts. He asked—"Do we want such an institution in the midst of a fine residential section?" He said the use of the Clark property by the institution will cause Newton to lose considerable tax revenue, and if the petition is granted, a precedent will be established that may result in other large Newton estates being taken over by institutions, with further loss of taxes.

A. H. Brewster of 44 Concoral ave. said he had purchased his home in good faith that the section would remain a single residence zone, and that he does not want his young children to grow up in the environment of the proposed home for girls. Former Alderman Henry D. Lloyd representing his wife, who owns property on Claremont st., said it had been brought to his attention that "Welcome House" has been used as a temporary home for parolees from Sherborn Prison, and a residential section is not the place for that type of institution. Mrs. Chute replied by saying that no parolees from Sherborn have resided at "Welcome House," as the age limit for the girls at the home is 16 years, and girls are not sent to Sherborn until they are 17 or older. Albert Shaw of 85 Cabot st., said that while he admires the work the Florence Crittenton League is doing, he has two children, and is opposed to the home being established in his neighborhood.

Robert Burns of John T. Burns & Sons, speaking for owners of two properties in the neighborhood, said Welcome House would depreciate real estate values in the vicinity, whereas a real estate development would bring in increased tax revenues. Alderman Rawson asked for those present who were opposed to the granting of the permit to stand, and 27 arose. Alderman Hutchinson asked Mr. Holt if the Florence Crittenton League would agree to a time limit of 5 years being placed on the permit for "Welcome House" on the Clark property, so that if the institution proved undesirable, it would not remain permanently. Mr. Holt said he would take his proposal up with the directors of the League.

Two Men Fined on Gambling Charges

In the Newton court on Wednesday Judge Weston fined John Badaracco, Jr., of Roland st., Newton Highlands, $50 on a gambling charge. Badaracco was arrested last week by Inspector Hammell for having lottery tickets in his possession, and he was fined $50 for that offense. The next day he was again arrested, on a similar charge, that time by Patrolman McCormick. Badaracco told Judge Weston that when McCormick arrested him, he was not selling horse race pool tickets, but was only playing off bets on the tickets he had sold when arrested by Hammell. Judge Weston suggested that Badaracco might make a test case, and the defendant took an appeal. William Alexander, 62, of Brookline, who was arrested by McCormick on similar charges at the same time as Badaracco, was fined $100 by Judge Weston.

On Tuesday Captain Goode and Lt. Crowley of the Newton police arrested Floyd Demmons of Chapel st., Newton, and Samuel Fried of Cook st., Newton; the first for registering bets, and the second for collecting bets. They were arraigned in court on Wednesday and their cases continued.

Last Friday afternoon Captain Goode and Lt. Crowley trailed Dominic Ignier of Bromley st., Roxbury, from Newton Centre to the shoe repairing shop of Ares Smerjian at 269 Centre st., Newton, and arrested him and Smerjian for having number pool and horse racing slips in their possession. They were arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday and their cases were continued until April 6. Ignier was arrested on a similar charge on March 28, 1938, by Captain Goode.

Woman Threatened Policeman, $50 Fine

Mrs. Anna Parritz, 36, of 136 Eastbourne rd., Newton Centre, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday by Judge Mayberry for refusing to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman. Patrolman David Cummings testified that on January 3 while he was on school traffic duty at Waverley ave. and Ward st. he signalled the Parritz woman to stop her car so that children might cross the street. He said she disregarded his signal, and when he blew his whistle she turned her head, but continued on to the school with her children. Cummings said that he stopped Mrs. Parritz as she drove back from the school and she said to him: "You are nothing but a wise guy, and you don't deserve a job. I'll have your route changed."

Driver of Death Car Fined $25

Gilbert Coon, 38, of 29 Prentiss st., Cambridge, was fined $25 by Judge Donald Mayberry in the Newton court last Thursday afternoon when he was found guilty of driving an automobile so as to endanger the lives of the public. A car driven by Coon on January 13, shortly after midnight hit and fatally injured Mrs. Carrie Edwards, 40, of 214 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre.

The woman had alighted from a bus near her home and was crossing the street when Coon's car hit her. Chester Cogswell, superintendent of the apartment house at 219 Commonwealth ave., witnessed the car hitting the victim and told Judge Mayberry that the car was going very fast. Cogswell testified that he said to Coon after the accident—"If that was my wife, I'd fear you apart with my bare hands." Mrs. Alma Murray Clark of 219 Commonwealth ave. testified that she was seated at a window when she heard the screeching of automobile brakes. She looked out to see Coon's car weaving on the street and then hitting Mrs. Edwards. Assistant City Engineer Leonard testified that he measured the skid marks made by the tires on Coon's car, and they extended 50 feet. Coon said he was driving at the rate of 35 miles before he hit the woman, and applied his brakes when she ran across the street.

Sunbeam Chats

Women folks make me laugh they all have to have new hats every-thing for Easter. Us men folks don't bother our heads about such things. Daddy said "Okay" when Mother asked him to have his suit cleaned and she bought him a new tie. He hates new things. Wish you could see his hat but I like it that way.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Novelties for Easter—sachets, greetings, crosses etc., at the Newton Bazaar.

The winter term of the public schools ends today and the scholars will enjoy a week's vacation.

Additional subscriptions to the Pomroy Home fund: Mrs. I. T. Burr, $100; Mrs. Joseph E. Merrill, $25; Mrs. George C. Lord, $100; total, $275.33. An entertainment by Jefferson st. children netted $13 for the home.

A large lot of land on Richardson st. is being levelled and prepared for the courts of the Newton Tennis Club, where they hope to hold many a friendly "racquet" the coming season.

Mrs. Catherine Bryson of West Newton won't be likely to leave another train while it is in motion. She tried it on Monday night at the Newton station, fell and was drawn under the train. Her dress was torn off but by a miracle she escaped injury.

There will be an auction sale of horses, carriages, cows, bees, poultry, farming implements and household furniture at Dr. J. W. Bartlett's house on Hunnewell ave., Newton, next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Newton Bicycle Club's annual meeting and dinner will be held at Hotel Hunnewell on Saturday evening, April 12. The membership of the club long since reached its limit and applications are refused at every meeting. So many cyclists want to join that some new rule may have to be made, and a system of associate membership is talked of. The club is anxious to have a racing track laid out at Farlow park around the proposed playground.

The watering carts will probably be on the streets on April 1, as the appropriation for them has passed the City Council. The relief from dust will be appreciated, and now would be a good time for the collection from the citizens of the subscriptions to pay part of the cost of the watering carts.

The Newton postoffice was inspected on Thursday by Inspector Rogers, who found everything in first class order. He said that Newton has a good postoffice and a postmaster who knows how to run it.

Mayor Burr called a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on last Monday night to take action in regard to the abolishing of grade crossings. The question is such an important one for Newton that he recommended the creation of a joint standing committee, which was done. The following were appointed—Aldermen Harbach and Tolman; Councilmen Rice, Hale and Bond.

In the Newton police court the past week there were 13 cases tried; 11 drunks; 2 violations of city ordinances.

At the meeting of the Common Council on Monday night Councilman Fenne moved to have the order on the high service water system taken from the table. Councilman Hale asked for details of the plans and City Engineer Noves explained that it is proposed to put a stand-pipe on Institution Hill, which would be 360 feet above tide water, and one of the highest points in the city. This will give service to any house, no matter how high the land on which it will be built. It will add greatly to the efficiency of the fire department. Councilman Luke stated that 180 persons are without any water service, and double that number have only partial service.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Alderman Harbach presented an order granting the Newton Street Railway Company the locations named in their petition, and the right to run electric wires on poles of hard pine, which must be 25 feet long and 5 feet in the ground; the overhead wire to be 20 feet above street level, and the poles to be properly trimmed and painted. The order was laid on the table.

The garbage contract for the next three years has been awarded to William H. Mague at $6000 per year. The new contract includes a large area in Oak Hill, which has not been served in the past.

Powers' Paragraphs

The large mass meeting in Mechanics Hall, Boston on Tuesday under the auspices of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations, was organized by a resident of this city, Norman MacDonald of Collins rd., Waban. Mr. MacDonald is an aggressive, courageous, resourceful man who has been doing good work in arousing public interest in a campaign to protect the interests of taxpayers, and in exposing extravagance and graft in public affairs. With many of Mr. MacDonald's recommendations we heartily agree. With one recommendation he made at the big meeting on Tuesday we strongly disagree—that to reduce the monthly payment by the State on Old Age Assistance from $15 to $10, which would result in lowering the amount paid to persons over 65 in indigent circumstances from $30 to $25. The Federal government contributes $15 of this allowance. Mr. MacDonald in his present occupation is drawing a large salary. How would he like to attempt to exist on $25 per month? We believe that $30 per month is little enough to sustain an aged man or woman.

We also believe that the State can save largely on the cost of old age assistance if it enforces the law which specifies that children who are able to do so, must contribute to the support of their parents. This law has not been enforced in all too many cases, with the result that a large number of men and women in Massachusetts are receiving old age assistance who should be supported by sons and daughters who are in prosperous circumstances, but who are so lacking in pride, and so dishonest, that they not only want the public to support their fathers and mothers, but even lie about their financial circumstances. If the parents of those who transfer their duty onto the shoulders of others, far less able to bear this burden, are taken off the old age assistance lists, and their "four-flushing" sons and daughters are compelled to assume their legal responsibility, the State and the Federal government would be paying far less for old age assistance.

Last week the Newton Community Council, which was organized two years ago, held its annual meeting. According to one report of the meeting, those present cheered the information that juvenile delinquency cases in the Newton district court had dropped from a yearly average of 95 in the 1920's to 60 per year at the present time, and today there is no Newton boy in the State training school at Chelmsford. Members of the Newton Community Council and citizens of Newton should not delude themselves that Newton boys and girls are more angelic today than the boys and girls of this city were a decade ago. One principal reason for the large drop in the number of boys summoned into the Newton juvenile court is—that Newton policemen frequently cannot get complaints against juveniles when they ask for them. When a Newton policeman seeks a complaint against a juvenile he must confer with the assistant probation officer, who has charge of the juvenile cases. The present assistant probation officer has adopted the practice of having many juvenile offenders told to come to the Newton court building to have an informal hearing before this officer, instead of getting a summons, instead of being summoned into the juvenile court. This method has been used in cases of boys who have maliciously damaged property, who have stolen property from new houses, and even in the case of boys who desecrated the old Colonial cemetery at Newton Highlands and broke headstones there. If Newton people are so concerned about juvenile crime, let them continue to get complaints against juveniles when they ask for them. That this method is not discouraging vandalism by Newton boys seems to be proved by a telephone message we received last week from one of Newton's leading realtors. This gentleman asked us to give publicity to the prevalence of wilful destruction of windows of houses in this city by boys who use air rifles, or who throw stones through the glass. He said that in twenty-five houses which his company either owns or has charge of, from 2 to 7 panes of glass have been broken during recent months.

Two old citizens of Newton, who were valuable assets to the city during their many years of residence here, died during the past week: James Kingman of Fisher ave., Newton Highlands, and Thomas Delaney of Jackson rd., Newton. Mr. Kingman had resided in Newton Highlands for 43 years. He took an active part in the civic affairs of the city and gave freely of his time for many years as a member of the Planning Board, much of that time as its chairman. He loved Newton and was usually desirous of preserving its attractiveness as an outstanding residential community. He was at all times a courteous gentleman, and was

ONE THING and ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Letter-Box Mystery

The mysterious ways of our celebrated postal system have always been beyond my comprehension but since I received an out-and-out snub from a mail collector I have been more deeply puzzled. It was a few nights ago that I was properly habited and I have been so busy since I have had no opportunity to investigate. The effort of the young man in uniform to humiliate me was so successful that it will be a long time before I forget.

As I approached the mail box at the corner of Waverley ave. and Tremont st., an automobile drew up and the collector stepped out with his bag in hand. I reached his side just as he opened the box. "Ah," said he, brimming with hope and cheer, "just in time." He looked at me as if I had insulted him. "Now," he snapped, "nothing doing," and scooped up the letters from the box. I made no further protest, partly because I was momentarily speechless with surprise and also that I knew how useless it is to argue with that type of public servant. "You can't take it!" I finally stammered, trying to placate him and striving to be apologetic. He declined only to grunt and slammed the door of the automobile as if he thought I was going to hold him up. There was nothing for me to do but drop my letter in the empty box.

It has surely occurred to me that he did not like my appearance. Possibly I should not have smiled or sought to be friendly without proper introduction. Of course it was my fault and I probably had asked him to violate one of the strictest rules of the P. O. department. It has occurred to me that this young man will be an excellent salesman for tickets to the next letter carriers' ball.

Ready for Easter

I'm looking forward to the day When I may go without The Winter togs that load me down When I would trapse about.

No scarf to wind around my neck, No rubbers "draw" my feet, No thick-soled shoes that weigh a ton, Each nail more like a cleat.

No overcoat of bulky style, That needs a waist-ender strap, No gloves to lose from either hand, No pull-down woolen cap.

No silk umbrella to mislay, (How quick the disappear!) No undergarments extra long, And neither here nor there.

O, Easter, please don't disappoint, Let Winter have a rest, And bring a temperature wherein We'll don our very best.

Caution to Chiselers

A reawakened interest in distant kindred and in long-forgotten friends who live within reasonable commuting distance of the New York World's Fair is said to be epidemic throughout our land. I personally am a trusting soul and unwilling to accept the cynical explanation that there is a substantial reason for it. Far be it from me to intimate on my own initiative that so many people would be inspired by the same motive. But if others make the charge and there is no denial forthcoming, I feel that the subject is a fair one for our discussion.

I dislike to use the word chiseling, although I suppose it applies to those who feel that by sheer force of personality they can make themselves wanted as guests, at the same time accomplishing a worth-while saving in hotel expenses. I was going to remind any who have started the high pressure stuff on New York relatives or friends, that it might be a cause of genuine inconvenience to their hosts. However, if we pause for such trifles we won't get very far. Nevertheless, I think I am doing prospective chiselers a service when I warn them that if they are invited to put up in a private home at no cost to themselves they must remember that they will be expected to return the favor. Not that they'll be obliged to do so, but trying to wriggle out of it will be a ticklish job.

Those Plausible Excuses

Naturally, fine Spring weather is welcome after so much snow and rain, cold and wind and every other melancholy meteorological combination conceivable. We are going to miss this fine old New England winter alibi, see if we don't. What I mean is that if we have furnished us with a reason for not showing up at affairs we were supposed to attend but which we were glad to duck, "I would have been there if the weather hadn't been so rotten," was the most popular explanation. I'm afraid, however, that it has been overworked. Then there was, "We got ready to go and would have been there if the snow hadn't been so deep we couldn't get the car out of the garage." This must have been used so often that it is shopworn. Between the weather and the road conditions no one was really without an alibi. What I am wondering is, what will we resort to when we can't fall back on the old reliable weather excuse?

Money Saved, Too

I listen with admiration to those brave men who tell of the work they plan to do "about the place." Screens, doors, paintwork and this and that are on their list for attention as soon as conditions are ripe. "Splendid!" I say as I study the advertising columns of the GRAPHIC wherein I find the names of skilled people who will do just what is wanted, efficiently and promptly and without the bungling of an amateur. More economically, too.

Fisher, Mrs. Henry Goodman, Mrs. Franklin Hoyt, Mrs. Richard Kenney, and Mrs. Eldin Lynn, from the Senior Club, were the models.

This display was put on by two dress and accessory shops of Wellesley; and by a hat shop in Cambridge. A representative from the first concern had charge of the Fashion Show. She prophesied a return to the very feminine styles of a decade ago; and full, frilly skirts, shirt waists, and taffeta skirts that would rustle, were among the types portrayed. However, she explained, that if a style was not becoming, common sense still ruled, and a less extreme style should be chosen.

A bridal procession concluded the Show, with Mrs. Kenney as the bride, and the other models in the roles of flower girls, bridesmaids, and matron of honor.

The music, which was in charge of Mrs. E. Dana Kendall, and which accompanied the talk, was by a Trio, of violin by Irene Forte, cello by Ruth Masters, and piano by Mrs. Franklin Leland.

During the business meeting preceding the program, with the president, Mrs. James Dunlop presiding, Miss Adelaide Ball of Newton gave a talk on the work done by the local Girl Scout Troops, and a film was shown picturing the Sailors' Camp at Martha's Vineyard.

Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron was Day chairman, and the invited guests were the seniors from Lasell Junior College.

Exhibit of Old Jewelry

Old jewelry, which appeals to every woman, not only for its beauty but for the sentiment that is often attached, will be the basis of the talk, "A Century of Adornment," by Mrs. Walter C. Watson, for members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Wednesday, April 12, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. J. Ernest Gibson, 16 Fair Oaks ave. Mrs. Watson, who is a member of the State Federation division of Antiques, has collected many lovely pieces of old jewelry, as well as old buttons, and she will bring to the talk her treasure box containing a rare collection of pins and brooches. Club members are invited to bring their own heirlooms in jewelry, and enjoy the pleasure of taking part in their display. Mrs. Edward C. Fales, chairman of the Education committee, will have charge of the exhibit, and members of her committee will serve the Silver Tea.

With a luncheon at the 1775 House in Lexington, Tuesday, April 11, the Club president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, will entertain the members of the Executive Board who have served during the two years of her term.

Varied and interesting entertainment made up "Play Day" at the Newtonville Woman's Club, Friday, March 31. In her short Style Talk, Mrs. H. Tucker Capen, of a Boston shop, explained how different types of women could bring out their best points by careful selection of materials and of basic colors. There was then a Play-Reading in which the following Club members took part, Mrs. Thomas Walcott, Mrs. Jean L. Petry, Miss Carol Stevenson of the Junior Club, Mrs. George Hinman, Mrs. Howard Thomas, Mrs. Robert Gleason, Mrs. W. F. Stevenson, Mrs. Edward Fales, and Mrs. John Duff, with Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, Drama chairman, giving the stage directions.

After luncheon, there was bridge, with a prize at each table. A chance on a radio was won by Mrs. Walter S. Menden, of Highland ave. This enjoyable day for Club members and guests ended at 4 o'clock.

In the Book World

The last regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club before the Annual Meeting was held Tuesday, April 4, with a dessert-coffee, at which Mrs. John F. Brant, Mrs. Fred H. Daniels, and Mrs. Edward P. Hendricks poured. The speaker of the afternoon, Alice Dixon Bond, was introduced by Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, Program chairman, who said she had thoroughly enjoyed Mrs. Bond's Book Reviews.

Among the dozen or more books discussed by Mrs. Bond were "Que Vadimus", by E. B. White, a book of witty essays with a touch of Voltaire; and "Ordeal", by Nevil Shute, an English story whose theme was of the horrors of a future war to civilization. The genius of this book lay, Mrs. Bond stated, in its tremendous implications of the horrors of war. Historical novels, especially about America, have been numerous, and Mrs. Bond chose to mention "Song of Years", by Bess Streeter Aldrich, as a typical pioneer novel with its western background of Iowa. There was a great deal of homely wisdom in the philosophy of Jeremiah, the father, to "Pull on Through" no matter what the circumstances, in this wholesome novel. Quite different in vein was "Demon Daughter", by Honoré Wilsie, which Mrs. Bond said should be required reading for every mother. This book, really an autobiography of Mrs. Wilsie and her adopted and capricious daughter Felicia, was warm, alive, and brought out the thought that the only security is in love that asks no return.

To New Englanders, Dorothy Canfield's "Seasoned Timber" made an especial appeal with its scene laid in a small Vermont town. In this novel, Mrs. Bond stated, the author presented a problem world-wide applied to a small town, and her characters were people, Americanism would be saved by the courage and vision of the people in meeting each small town issue, was Mrs. Fisher's sturdy conviction.

Mrs. Bond recommended "The Patriot", by Pearl Buck, the story of an international marriage, for giving the reader the fundamental dif-

LA SALLE'S SECRET IS CADILLAC ENGINEERING

THE SECRET of LaSalle's reputation is engineering. LaSalle, you know, is designed completely by Cadillac. Every part and unit has the full benefit of Cadillac's thirty-seven years of engineering leadership—and is built in the Cadillac plant, by Cadillac craftsmen. That's why LaSalle's performance is so matchless—why the car rides so well, and why it behaves so superbly on the road. And, of course, Cadillac engineering also explains LaSalle's exceptional economy. Nowhere else can you get such engineering at LaSalle's low price. Why not prove these facts for yourself—today?

"Grand Illusion" Full Week At Community Playhouse

Named "the best film of the year from any country," by the National Board of Review, "Grand Illusion" begins its eight day engagement at the Wollesley Hills Community Playhouse on Sunday. ## Unusual Program Begun Over WCOP

The unemployment situation being of wide interest, a group of young people has started to "do something" about it. The "Job Hunters," as these unemployed men and women, aged 18 to 30, are known, have started a radio program over WCOP, Boston.

Sponsored by the Boston Council of Social Agencies, their unusual programs are heard Sundays from 5 to 5:30 p. m., and consist of interviews between members of the group and Boston business and professional leaders.

The "leader" explains how jobs in a particular field may be obtained; questions of interest are answered. Some of the more common questions regard: qualifications; type of work; salary; chance for advancement.

Some fields that will be discussed during WCOP's new program will include communications, advertising, social service, law enforcement, journalism, education, medicine, and entertainment.

Young job seekers are invited to send questions to "The Job Hunt," at WCOP, where they will be answered, on the air, by competent and successful business and professional men and women.

Merrill Madden, of Boston, formerly on the announcing staff of a New England network, has joined the announcing staff of WCOP.

Harold Young, WPA sponsor agent for the City of Newton, states that the Federal government will not bear the cost of this transportation, which is now amounting to about $2000 monthly. On these projects 188 Newton men are employed, 151 of whom would have to be given welfare aid or soldiers' relief if deprived of the WPA assistance. He states that the WPA officials will only grant transportation allowances to cities and towns in dire financial circumstances, and the local men will be kept on hurricane clearance work for months to come.

Newton Center Traffic Problems Are Discussed

About 100 persons attended a meeting of the Newton Centre Improvement Association on Wednesday night at the Woman's Clubhouse. Albert Chandler, president of the association was in charge. Lyscott Bruce of the Newton Community Chest talked on "Welfare and Unemployment." He said the Community Council has sent out 1500 questionnaires to persons on welfare and the WPA asking for vocational histories of the persons to whom the questionnaires were sent. About 1300 replied. Bruce said it is planned to start an employment bureau in Newton.

A plan offered by Rupert Thompson of the Chamber of Commerce, proposing to construct a street parallel to the Newton Centre st. from Beacon to Langley rd., using land near the Mason School and also land at the village green, in order to relieve parking congestion, was disapproved by most of those present. The sentiment was against using the historic common land at Newton Centre for such a purpose. Alderman Max Gaddis, chairman of the Traffic Committee of the Newton Aldermen, told the gathering that a speed limit of 30 miles for automobiles in Newton is being considered. Such a limit has greatly reduced accidents in Providence and Worcester, Albert Chandler said he would call a meeting of presidents of the various improvement associations in the city to discuss this matter.

respected for his high ideals in business.

Thomas F. Delaney had lived and worked in Newton for 56 years, for 45 of those years as the "village blacksmith" at Newton Corner. A man of rugged physique, and with a heart big in proportion, he was ever ready to assist persons in need. Tom Delaney possessed friendliness and good humor to a marked degree. His ready wit and contagious laugh brought sunshine into many a person's life during the more than half century he was a loved resident of Newton Corner.

Last week we made our annual visitation to Bigelow School as the guest at luncheon of Haydn Pearson, principal of the school, and to enjoy the company of Frank W. Chase, former principal of the school, and Mr. Pearson's other guest on this occasion. The Bigelow School has been fortunate in having competent principals, Henry Chapin Sawin, its first principal served 34 years, and Mr. Chase 29 years. The school and its present activities and facilities present a striking contrast to the old Bigelow School that we attended over two-score years ago. School to children of our generation was a serious, and to a degree—an unpleasant part of our young lives. Much of the school activities of today would have been regarded as recreation and pleasure to us youngsters of the mis-called "Gay 90's." We had teachers in those years to instruct us how to paint pictures; no gymnasium in which to play basketball or to learn tap dancing; no typewriting-room equipped with a large number of excellent typewriters; no cafeteria in which to eat appetizing lunches, prepared by competent, young cooks; and no music teacher, especially assigned to the school. If the boys and girls of the present generation only realized what added advantages they possess over those we had in our school days, they would surely appreciate how much more enjoyable it is to go to school today than it was in the "horse-and-buggy days." We hope that before many years economic conditions in this country will have reached the state where boys and girls will have opportunities after leaving school, somewhat approaching those they have while attending school.

Car Crashes Fence, Driver Is Injured

At 4 a. m. last Saturday Patrolmen Brosnahan and Dalton observed an automobile suspended over an embankment at 48 High st., Upper Falls. The car had gone through a fence and hit a stone wall. From the registration numbers on the car the police found it was owned by Frank McDonald, 1268 Boylston st., Upper Falls. Going to that address they were informed that McDonald had fallen asleep at the steering wheel of the car and had crashed through the fence about 2:30 a. m. Saturday. He received a fractured nose and other injuries.

Doll Exhibit Planned April 20 In Newtonville Church

Dolls from many lands will be exhibited on Thursday, April 20, for the benefit of the Women's Guild of St. John's Episcopal Church, at the Parish House, corner of Lowell ave. and Otis st., Newtonville. The hours are from 2 to 5 p. m. Admission for children up to 14 will be 10 cents, adults 25 cents.

The owner of this collection, Mrs. Louis T. Golding of Brookline, was fortunate to secure a set of the Coronation dolls made by the famous "Liberty of London" during a recent visit overseas. These dolls will be displayed with the various flags of the British Empire. Royal Guards, the King and Queen and Princesses in their velvet robes and jeweled crowns, the Knights of the Garter, and the Lord Chief Justice will all be there. Last but not least there will be the Archbishop of Canterbury in his robes and golden cape. These are portrait dolls, made with the approval of the Royal family. There are very few in this country.

Two other portrait dolls will be shown, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. This distinguished pair were made in Baltimore and the heads modelled by a well-known sculptor. The clothes are all hand made and Wallis wears one of her trousseau frocks.

There will be a sizable showing of brides and grooms from various parts of the world. There will be brides in gay peasant costumes, in white satin and hoop-skirts, with long trains and flimsy veils, and some brides wearing the less formal costume of the Philippine natives.

An interesting group of character dolls will be found, ranging from the stately Martha and George Washington to the dashing Scarlett O'Hara in her green velvet portiere frock. Russian dolls in the silks and jewels of the old empire will be shown beside the rougher dolls of the Soviet Russia, and there will also be some unusual Brittany dolls made at a Paris studio.

There will be a guessing contest for children where Mother Goose and fairy tale characters will be shown and prizes awarded to the winners. This contest will close at 4:45 p. m.

The foreign and character dolls will be of special interest to school children as well as to the adults.

Mrs. Golding will give a brief talk on adventures in doll collecting at 3 p. m.

Court was in session in a small city in New Jersey and the Judge began to think that perhaps something was amiss when the tenth defendant in a row claimed that he had not noticed a parking tag on his car door handle and consequently had failed to report to the local police station as requested. The Judge closely questioned the prosecuting police officer and was assured by the officer that he had tied the tags to the door handles of the automobiles parked in the restricted areas. The Judge assessed the normal fine, but two weeks later all fines of that particular court session were returned to the defendants.

It was discovered that a dog living in the area was making a practice of pulling the tags off the door handles after the police officer tied them on. Evidently they flapped in the breeze and attracted the animal's attention, so up he would go and pull or chew them off.

Until about twenty-five years ago meat for dogs had been limited to beef, mutton and occasionally, pork. Then a few experimenting breeders began feeding horse-flesh. At the time there was considerable propaganda against it, but scientific laboratory tests proved that horse meat had just as many nutritive qualities as the other kinds of meat. There are still many dog owners who will not give their pets horse meat, yet on the market today are canned dog foods the base of which is horse meat. You might be interested to know that reindeer, whale and fish are also canned as food for dogs.

There is no such thing as a thoroughbred dog. Thoroughbred is a technical term usually applied to a strain of horses bred in Kentucky. It can be correctly used only when talking about horses. A pedigreed dog is a purebred dog, but never a thoroughbred dog.

Black Tongue, or Sore Mouth as it is called by many, is not a contagious canine disease. It is not caused by germs, but is of dietary origin and can be cured by changing the dog's food.

Mrs. Golding will give a brief talk on adventures in doll collecting at 3 p. m.

TRAVEL JOTTINGS

London-Paris Air Route Twenty Years Old

This summer will mark the completion of twenty years of flying on the London-Paris route. At the beginning of the Paris service in 1919 there was but one flight daily. This summer, by the Paris service operated jointly by Imperial Airways and British Airways, as many as eight services will be scheduled in each direction daily, enabling a two-hours' frequency to be maintained throughout the day. The first of the daily services will leave London and Paris at 8 a. m., and the last at 10 p. m. These services will be maintained by the fastest four-engined air-liners on the European airways.

John Stow's Pen

John Stow, author of the "Survey of London," first published in 1598, is buried in the church of St. Andrew Undershaft in the City of London, and every year on a day near the anniversary of his death—this year on April 24—a commemorative service is held there. Stow's marble and alabaster mural monument shows him in effigy, pen in hand, writing in a book, and at the annual service a new quill pen is placed in his hand by the Lord Mayor.

As his epitaph records, "he exercised the most careful accuracy in searching ancient monuments, English annals, and records of the City of London." He wrote excellently and deserved well both of his own and subsequent ages."

Aldershot Tattoo

The dates of the Aldershot Tattoo are June 7-10 and 13-17. The theme of the pageant is "Steady and Strong," based on the stirring legend of Drake's Drum.

Of the two mechanized items, one, "Co-operation," shows the Royal Air Force in a humane, rather than a destructive, role, and the other is a mechanized artillery drive.

In addition to their own individual item the Massed Bands will provide the musical setting for a grand scale Physical Culture Display.

Liner Queen Elizabeth To Have Place in New Film

The new Cunard White Star liner Queen Elizabeth, now building in Scotland, is to figure prominently in "Live and Let Live," Grace Fields' new motion picture on the Clyde. It will be a Paramount picture.

Incredible Extent of Spanish Exploration

Although Columbus was not the first discoverer of America, it was he who made America known to Europe. Spain, desirous of finding a route to the trade markets of the Orient, and finding Columbus' discovery an obstacle in her path, explored that new land with an enthusiasm which was astounding. Not for two centuries was it proved that America was not a part of Asia; but Spain in so trying opened up a greater sphere for man's endeavors. The geographical knowledge learned, the almost incredible extent of Spanish exploration, and the imposition of Spanish culture through colonization, remain a story, which, even today, is only partly understood.

Excellent For Poise

While a Jamaican woman is eating a bun or sandwich on the street, she will put it on her head between bites. Natives never carry anything in their hands. They even fetch water in large kerosene tins, place the containers on their heads, and walk home without a quiver, their hands swinging at their sides.

Cherry Blossoms In Full Bloom for Washington Tour

The ARNOLD TOURS are in receipt of word from Washington that the double blossoms which follow the singles by about two weeks should be in bloom the week of April 16th.

This will be ideal for the members of their special Patriots' Day Tour which will be in Washington that week.

European Travel Held Safe By Educators

George E. Marsters Co., 171 Tremont st., Boston, feels that the following information will be of interest to prospective European travelers this summer.

A nation-wide symposium conducted among a group of American educators shows a strikingly unanimous view that there is every prospect of continued peace in Europe, and that travel conditions across the Atlantic will be normal this summer.

The twenty-five men consulted by telegram and letter are all prominent members of university faculties, museum directors, and nationally known lecturers thoroughly familiar with European affairs. Their responses were in answer to a questionnaire submitted by Dr. Henry M. Willard of Newton, Massachusetts, president of the Bureau of University Travel, an educational foundation with which all the contributors have been associated as leaders in Europe.

The general consensus of opinion can be summarized as follows: (1) the view supported by sensational channels of publicity in this country that a war is imminent in Europe is not justified by the actual facts; (2) the very fact that the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia and occupation of Memel occurred without destroying the general peace is further proof that a major conflict is highly unlikely; (3) private sources of information from abroad are in complete agreement that there will be no serious outbreak; (4) European travel conditions are normal so that the ordinary pleasure and profit of a trip can be expected; and (5) visitors to Europe this summer can be assured of the usual hospitality and courtesy, enhanced by the friendly desire of foreigners to be understood and liked by Americans.

Typical of the replies is one from Harvard University's Professor Samuel H. Cross whose own family is to spend the summer in Europe: "While there are many factors in the diplomatic situation which tend to produce recurrent international crises of varying intensity, the temper of virtually all European peoples, including those of the totalitarian states, is utterly opposed to war, and it is doubtful whether any government, however firm its grip on national sources of information, would frivolously incur the risk of provoking a major conflict. The best European information indicates a decreasing belief in the likelihood of war in the immediate future. The four most potent factors in this development are the progress of British rearmament, increased ability in French politics, the outspoken interest of the United States in the defense of democracy, and the economic problems of the Fascist and Nazi systems."

Plan Montreal Trip To See King and Queen

The greatest celebration in the history of Montreal is being planned for the visit of their majesties, King George VI, and Queen Elizabeth, to that city on May 16.

The royal visitors will ride slowly through miles of streets at the head of the biggest and most colorful procession the city has ever seen. Mounted police, with their scarlet uniforms; Highland regiments in their kilts; Dragoons with their silver helmets and white plumes; French-Canadian regiments and societies in brilliant regalia will follow behind the royal car in a parade which, it is estimated, will take two hours to pass a given spot. Nowhere in Canada will there be a better opportunity to see the king and queen in a more regal setting than during their 12-hour visit to Montreal.

Among the many out-of-town delegations which are planning to visit Montreal for this historic event, one of the largest is that from New England, under the auspices of the Canadian Club of Boston. This group will go via the Boston & Maine and Central Vermont railways, arriving a full day ahead of their majesties, and will start the return trip to Boston just an hour after the royal visitors have left for Ottawa. It is expected that the New England group will number about 500 people and the Canadian Club through the Caledonia Travel Agency of Boston has already engaged hotel accommodations for that number in Montreal where such accommodations, even now, are at a premium.

No group going to Montreal for this occasion has made its preparations so carefully. The party leaves Boston at 8 p. m. Sunday, May 14, arrives in Montreal the following morning and leaves Montreal at 9 p. m. Tuesday, May 16, for Boston where the train is due to arrive the following morning at 7 o'clock. An all-inclusive rate covering rail transportation, Pullman, hotel accommodations and meals in Montreal and a motor tour of the city through the decorated streets a day in advance of the royal visit has been arranged. Because these plans were made early, the sponsors of this trip secured choice hotel rooms. The trip is not restricted to Canadian-born residents of New England but is open to anyone and both the Caledonia Travel Agency at 100 Milk st., and the office of the Canadian National Railways 186 Tremont st., Boston, report exceptionally heavy bookings.

It is expected that almost 1,000,000 people, the biggest crowd Montreal has ever known will fill that city on the day of the royal visit and while every effort is being made by city officials, hotel keepers and restaurateurs to organize to meet the requirements of this huge throng, they admit that only those who have been wise enough to make their reservations in advance can be assured of finding proper accommodations and dining facilities when they arrive.

ferences between Chinese and Japanese in their faults and virtues. Built up with a nice element of surprise, it is a book to linger over and to make newspaper reading clearer. Mrs. Bond summarized:

A good "escape" novel was "Wine of Good Hope", by David Rame, an author who had travelled all over the world and who chose South Africa for the setting of his book, exquisite with beauty and tenderness.

In the field of non-fiction, there were three outstanding books. "My Day in Court", by Arthur Train, his autobiography of his interesting life as lawyer and writer; second, "Reaching for the Stars", by Norah Wahn, a tremendously important and just account of what is going on in Germany as seen by a sensitive English woman who married a German diplomatist and musician; and last, "A Peculiar Treasure", by Edna Ferber, which was, Mrs. Bond declared, an unusual book combining her own life-story and revealing also the panorama of America.

Arrested For Use Of 1938 Plates

Ghevant Tachjian, 38, of Irma ave., East Watertown, was arrested on Saturday night by Patrolmen Wheland and McEnaney when they observed him driving a car along Watertown st. with 1938 registration plates. The car was uninsured and Tachjian was without a license. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and committed to the psychopathic hospital for observation.

Brookline Day To Add Girls' Camp

For the past three years Mr. Thomas W. Leydon, 74 Puritan rd., Newton Highlands, director of athletics at the Rivers School in Brookline, has been conducting a summer day camp for boys at that location. This camp has been operated in every way as a first-class boys' camp. The boys have been called for each morning and have then followed a regular schedule of activities, including all sports, a daily swim, with expert instruction and life-saving tests.

group games, tennis, archery, camp crafts, handicrafts, art, dramatics, nature hikes, beach trips and trips to historical and other worth-while points of interest. An excellent hot meal has been served at noon at the camp. Optional activities have included riding, overnight camping and mountain climbing trips.

This year Mr. Leydon is pleased to announce that at the request of many patrons of the boys' camp, he will also open the Brookline Day Camp for Girls at Longwood Day School, Brookline. This camp will have the same comprehensive program that has been in operation at the boys' camp with added features adapted to girls. Though the two camps will be separate in location and staff, they will be under the direct supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Leydon.

The counselors of the girls' camp will be the same experienced and trained types of persons that have been employed at the boys' camp, each an expert in some major field of camp activity. Heading the list will be Mrs. John C. Clifton of Wellesley Hills, who will be assistant director in charge of activities. Mrs. Clifton is well known as a former teacher and as organizer and director of several girls' day camps for the Girl Scouts. Last year she was on the staff of the former Beacon Day Camp.

Boys from the Newtons who have already signified their intention of returning to Brookline Day Camp for the third successive season are Hunter, David and Atlee Orr, James F. McInerney and Hugh Naum, Jr., of Newton Centre; Arthur Walker of Newton, Robert Morse, Chestnut Hill.

Aldermen Pass Budget; Three Items Deferred

investigator. The majority of the Board voted to appropriate the $585 for the investigator. The investigator will be A. Leslie Moriarty of River st., West Newton, one of the 3 members of the License Board, Mr. Moriarty was recently retired on a pension from his position in the Street Department.

Alderman Hoffman said that the expenses of the General Department have increased largely since 1937, and like most city departments it has too many employees. The budget of the Engineering Department caused differences of opinion among the Aldermen. Alderman Temperley argued that $200 should be restored to the item for engineering assistants salaries, which had been cut from $28,000 to $27,800 by the Finance Committee. Temperley said that two field engineers are getting low salaries, less than laborers under them, and should get the $100 increases which the Finance Committee did not approve. Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee said that he had changed his mind on this matter, and now favored the granting of these two increases. Alderman Rawson and Jamieson also favored the two salary increases. Alderman Schipper said the Finance Committee had adopted the uniform rule not to recommend salary increases this year to any city employee not getting over $1000, and if exceptions are made in the Engineering Department, exceptions should be made in other departments. He called attention to the fact that the assistant engineers in question were given a $100 increase last year. The Board voted against granting the two increases.

The budget of the Buildings Department also caused a discussion among the members. The first item which produced an argument was that of $15,500 for salaries for inspectors. Alderman Schipper said this item should be cut, and provision made for five instead of six inspectors. Alderman Tiffin repeated his statement made at the previous meeting—that the number of inspectors should be cut from six to four. Tiffin stated that in 1929 when the building boom was at its height, there were only four inspectors, and now, when there is practically no building, the city has six inspectors. The Board, however, voted to retain the six inspectors. Alderman Hoffman, Schipper and Tiffin being the only members to voice opposition. These aldermen also were defeated on efforts to reduce the telephone appropriation for City Hall from $5300 to $5100, and maintenance of public buildings from $18,500 to $16,500. Alderman Hoffman argued that while other cities in recent years have cut down largely on their appropriations for the maintenance of public buildings because of WPA grants, Newton has shown a decided increase in this expense. Alderman Tiffin said that the city has been paying all or part of the costs of home telephones for some department heads, and this practice should cease.

In considering the police department budget, Aldermen Barwise, Fahy and Hughes were the minority voting against cutting the Mayor's recommendation for 6 additional patrolmen. These additional policemen would have allowed the change of a day off in six, instead of a day off in eight for the policemen. President Floyd stated that the Board has received no communication from Mayor Childs recommending either a day off in six for the police, or the two-platoon system for the firemen, so there was no guarantee that the police would get a day off in six, even though the 6 extra men were provided for. Alderman McCabe commented that within the past week four policemen were taken off regular duty by orders of the Mayor; three for the Traffic Bureau, and one as a special investigator assigned to the Mayor's office at City Hall.

Referring to the recommendation of the Mayor for 53 additional firemen to establish a two-platoon system, Alderman Barwise said that while he did not favor this recommendation, he had received figures from some of the firemen showing that a two-platoon system can be established in Newton by adding 20 or 22 men to the fire department. He asked that a special committee be appointed to study this system.

Alderman Hoffman, in discussing the Welfare Department budget, remarked that from the trend shown by the Board of Aldermen in refusing to make large cuts in the budget recommendations of the Mayor, said that the expenses of this department will increase as home-owners will lose their property because of high taxes, and will be added to the list of welfare recipients. Alderman Hughes questioned the need of additional investigators for the Welfare Department. He said that one of the present investigators seems to have sufficient time to spare to do work other than that connected with the Welfare Department.

Alderman Jamieson inquired regarding a recommendation from the Mayor asking for an appropriation of $228 to pay for the use of a stable at Oak Hill for emergency work on snow removal. He was told that 6 hired horses were kept in this private stable on Parker st. during the month of January so that they would not have to be driven from the Eliot st. stable to plow sidewalks, in case of snowstorms. None of the Aldermen knew whether the $228 was for the care of these six horses, or for the feed they consumed. It was voted to have this $228 taken from the budget appropriation of $40,000 for the care of stables.

Alderman Hoffman commented that the budget is altogether too large. Alderman Schipper agreed with him, stating that more items could be cut out or further reduced.

Fin. Com. Suggests Economy Methods

report, and merely express the hope that satisfactory explanations and corrections will very presently be forthcoming.

"In the interests of economy we have reported at the recent special meeting that certain offices should be discontinued, and where vacancies exist no unnecessary replacements be made. It is always easy to create positions and difficult to abandon them. The most careful scrutiny should therefore be given contemplated additions of a permanent nature.

"We reiterate what has been said many times regarding budgetary control. Department heads must be required not only to keep accurate accounts of commitments but must keep the comptroller advised. The Finance Committee expects monthly reports from each department which will clearly disclose all expenditures and incurred liabilities.

"We recommend closer supervision of all medical and surgical bills in the Welfare, Soldiers Relief, Health, City Physician and Workmen's Compensation departments. Many doctors and surgeons are rendering care for very low fees, but there are instances of charges to the city which seem unreasonable and exorbitant.

"We recommend that purchase of gasoline, lubricating oil, and tires for all departments be delegated to the Chief of the Fire Department, who seems best qualified to act in that capacity. Blanket contracts covering these commodities would seem to offer economies. We further suggest that frequent stock inventories be required and carefully audited. The right to purchase all other supplies should be returned to department heads, obviously the ones who should be responsible.

"We view with amazement the loss of tools in the Street, Forestry and WPA departments. A carelessness is evident which is expensive. Common prudence requires an immediate correction. A penalty system should be inaugurated holding employees responsible.

"A study of truck-hire—a large item of expense—should be made to the end of establishing economical rates and an accurate record of time-cards. These cards should have a more accurate check than now is being made by division foremen and inspectors.

"Because the school year is nearly over when the Board of Aldermen examines the calendar-year budget, we recommend that the School Committee give immediate attention to further possible economies for the school year beginning next September. It is the duty of the School Committee to eliminate bills and to keep costs at a minimum that is consistent with the maintenance of reasonable standards.

The annual Sophomore Prize-Speaking Contest sponsored by Alpha Beta and supervised by Miss Thumin provided the entertainment at the sophomore assembly on March 22. The first to speak was Carl Clark who briefly summarized the pranks and brainstorms of Johnny in his "Incidents in the Life of a Scamp," after which Donald Van Rousen gave a heart-rending narrative concerning Olaf, his wife, and their piano in "The Pianer." Thalia Weston's interesting incidents in her "Excerpts from a Camper's Diary" preceded Lane Kutz's recital of her own poem, "A Modern Chant," concerning the ultra-modern times in which we live. John Saunier portrayed most vividly the school life of a sophomore in "Johnny Q. Sophomore." Elizabeth Sherman made a graphic picture of the wearisome job of a guard of an art museum in her "Blessed Damosel." Mary Gill enchanted the audience with her selection "Chocolate Cake." David Carpenter's clear description of "My Summer Home" was followed by Leo Hession who made clear a truth in his anecdote, "Crime Does Not Pay." Because these speakers were the survivors of a process of elimination and were chosen in the semi-finals, they are all eligible for a prize which will be a book of their own choosing to be awarded by Alpha Beta at its next meeting.

Pool Room License In Newton Highlands Is Cause Of Controversy

Rector, Police Favor Renewal As A Recreational Need; Dr. Ward Says Boys' Club Could Not Survive

Ordinarily the renewal of a poolroom license in Newton is not a matter of much import, but the question of renewing the poolroom license of John Geraci at 27 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, brought a considerable gathering of Newton Highlands residents to a meeting held by the Newton Highlands Improvement Association at "The Workshop," Columbus st., on Monday night, and also caused a large delegation of Newton Highlands residents to go to City Hall on Wednesday night either to favor or oppose the renewal of the license.

Geraci's license for the poolroom expires on April 30 and the Aldermen will vote on its renewal at the meeting of the Board next Monday night, when all such licenses will be acted upon. At the meeting before the Improvement Association on Monday night, Howard Whitmore opposed the renewal of the license. He argued that a poolroom is a gathering place for "certain elements," that frequenters of poolrooms engage in illegal gambling games, and that the presence of a poolroom in a community of homes is unfortunate. Dr. Mark Ward also spoke against the granting of a renewal of the poolroom license to Geraci. He claimed that the poolroom is breaking down what is being built up by the boys' club at Newton Highlands, and he asserted that the poolroom is a danger spot, which should be gotten rid of. Ward mentioned certain conditions which he alleged had existed at the poolroom, but he admitted that this information was on hearsay. He moved that the Newton Highlands Improvement As-

TAXPAYERS ELECT JONES PRESIDENT

At a meeting of the Directors of the Newton Taxpayers' Association last Friday evening, Mr. C. B. Jones of 15 Locke rd., Waban, was elected president to succeed Mr. Leon B. Rogers who retired after having served as president since organization of the association in 1936. Mr. Jones recently retired from the position of general manager of the New England Division of the Socony Vacuum Oil Corporation and has since been devoting a major share of his time to public service. He was chairman of the Advance Gift Division of the Newton Community Chest for 1938 and since has been devoting his principal efforts to the work of the Newton Taxpayers' Association.

Many Employees On WPA Dropped

Congressional Action Forces Decrease of 95; Some Will Need Welfare

The action of Congress in appropriating $100,000,000 for WPA expenses the next few months, instead of the $150,000,000 asked by President Roosevelt, has resulted in the dropping of many thousands of persons from WPA rolls throughout the country. The number of Newton residents dropped from WPA last week totaled 95, including 18 "white-collar" men, 75 men on other projects, and 2 women on the sewing project. Fifteen of those dropped had been working on fire hazard projects at Waban and Sudbury, and their places have been taken by 15 other men transferred from local projects. The total number of Newton residents now on WPA projects is 755.

Of the 95 removed from the WPA lists, it is expected that at least half of this number will apply for aid to the Newton Welfare Department.

Give Concert Next Monday—Chinese Soloists To Sing Numbers

Under the sponsorship of the Church Committee for China Relief, the Highland Glee Club of Newton, assisted by Chinese soloists, will present a Benefit Concert in Jordan Hall, Monday, April 17th.

Celebrating its thirtieth year as a men's singing organization, the Highland Glee Club, under the direction of D. Ralph McLean, has come fast to the fore, having thrice in five years won grand awards in competition with clubs all over New England.

Assisting the glee club will be Miss Grace Feng, Chinese vocal soloist, and Mrs. Mei-sheng L. Tsao, pianist, now studying at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Mr. T. K. Cheng, medical student from Amoy, China, will direct the glee club in the popular Chinese patriotic air—"Song of the Volunteers"—a stirring march typical of the unquenchable spirit of the Chinese people. Other numbers to be presented by the glee club are Chesterton's "The Donkey," "Lamp in the West," "Forest Invocation" by Sibellus, "Old King Cole," "Lost Chord," the popular rollicking cowboy favorite "All Day on the Prairie," and "The Day of Judgment," a number specially arranged for the club by Samuel Richard Gaines.

The Highland Glee Club will participate in the annual contest and combined concert of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs on May 13 at New Haven.

Teachers Hold Meeting To Organize Federation

Pearson Elected President, Warren Asks Cooperation For Economy

A large gathering of Newton public school teachers was held on Monday evening, April 10, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club to organize the Newton Teachers' Federation, composed of all teachers in the Newton public schools. Following a dinner, Clarence Churchill, principal of the Hyde School, served as toastmaster, and an explanation of studies made by the Research Commission was given by Helen Lewis of the Levi Warren School. Ruth M. Twiss, chairman of the advisory council of the new federation, gave an address on "Strengthening Education Through Ourselves," and Supt. of Schools Julius Warren spoke on "The Present Situation in Education." He said that every member of the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen is anxious to maintain the integrity of our school system, but that cuts in the 1939 budget make serious curtailments necessary. He asked all members of the teaching staff to cooperate.

Officers elected included Haydn S. Pearson, Bigelow School, president; John FitzSimmons, Trade School, vice-president; Helen E. Conroy, Davis School, secretary; Irene Haworth,

RECOVERS WATCH BY GRAPHIC AD

Two weeks ago there was a classified advertisement in the GRAPHIC about a lady's wrist watch that had been lost at Newtonville sq. Richard Haas of 371 Highland st., Newtonville, found the watch, saw the advertisement in the GRAPHIC and returned the watch to its owner. Honest persons do find lost articles, and GRAPHIC classified advertisements bring results.

High School, treasurer. The constitution of the Advisory Council of Newton school teachers' clubs was adopted, with an important amendment to the article providing for dues. The income received from dues will be used in opposing legislation hostile to education, and in working with other community organizations in sponsoring projects intended to make citizens aware of the returns on the money invested in education, and the importance of its support.

Committee Recommends Use Of Clark House As School-Home For Girls

Vote 5-2 Favoring Petition To Sell 30-Year-Old Estate To Florence Crittenton Society; Proviso Limits Number To 24

Stores To Close On April 19

Most Retail Stores To Close At Noon; Others Close All Day

The Newton Chamber of Commerce calls attention to the fact that next Wednesday, April 19, is Patriots' Day, and that retail stores in Newton, in general, will close at noon on that day, while other stores will be closed all day. For the benefit of persons who apparently do not know it, or who have forgotten the fact, it was on April 19, 1775 that the first battles in the cause of American independence were fought at Lexington and Concord by the farmers of Middlesex County. So, many years ago the day was set aside as a holiday to be observed by residents of this Commonwealth. April 19th should be sacred to all residents of Massachusetts and to people of Middlesex County in particular.

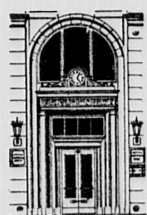

In recent years there has been too much of a tendency on the part of some store owners to keep their places of business open on April 19. A large percentage of those who have done this are persons of foreign birth, who obviously have not become properly inculcated with respect for those founders of this country who were willing to make the supreme sacrifice for liberty, and by so doing gave oppressed peoples in other lands the opportunity to come here and better themselves. Residents of Newton can cooperate in the proper observance of Patriots' Day by not making purchases at stores which keep open on the afternoon of April 19, or better still, by purchasing food supplies and other merchandise on Tuesday, April 18.

The Claims & Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Wednesday night voted in favor of recommending the granting of the petition of Mildred Clark Sears and the Boston Safe Deposit Company, trustees, asking that the Florence Crittenton Society be permitted to use the Clark estate at 80 Claremont st., Newton, as a school-home for girls from the ages of 14 to 16. The proviso was included that the number of girls in the home be limited to 24. At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen about 75 persons attended a hearing on this petition. Sentiment among those residing in the neighborhood was divided. Many favored the granting of the petition, and about an equal number of persons owning property in the neighborhood objected, thinking that such an institution would adversely affect the value of their real estate. In the discussion at the hearing it developed that some young girls who have resided in "Welcome House" at Jamaica Plain, which it is proposed to transfer to the Clark estate, had been in juvenile courts. In answer to this charge, Mrs. Chute, manager of the home, said that no girls were compelled to come to the home, none were tough girls or sex delinquents, and no girl had run away from the home in the past four years. She read letters from neighbors of the present home at Jamaica Plain, lauding the manner in which the place is conducted, and approving of its presence there.

The Clark mansion was built about 30 years ago by the late James E. Clark, and it is one of the best constructed residences in the Newtons. It was built by day work, and is reputed to have cost well in excess of $100,000. Mrs. Sears told the Aldermen that she had endeavored for

You want to know what makes children get sick with whooping cough? The District Nurse said its germs. Well, whatever it is I'm glad I won't have it. Some mothers think their kids are getting a cold and they let them play and go to school and give it to other children. Bye and bye they cough awful hard and hold their breath and vomit. They are sick a long time and sometimes get pneumonia.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

Sir: Without doubt very many of your readers are at this time discussing as a topic the weather conditions of the past winter, pro and con, but what is uppermost in my mind is the ice skating conditions for a past few years, and I enclose herewith a list of dates (not complete, however), showing the last trace of ice melted from Crystal Lake. April is always a late month, and the date of April 4, 1939, is the latest recorded one I have. Other dates are: 1909, March 16; 1910, March 17; 1911, March 27; 1912, March 20; 1913, March 14; 1914, March 30; 1915, March 13; 1917, March 28; 1918, March 19; 1919, March 5; 1920, April 2, 1939, April 1. I have missed skating but one season during the last 70 years.

Skating is most decidedly on the upturn, and statistics give an increase of 400% in the last 5 years; suppose that applied to our business.

The interest in figure skating transcends popularity, and let me raise that parents should take the suggestion, buy for their children "rink skates" for their first pair of skates, for their ease in learning when they first begin and forever afterwards.

Skating conditions on Crystal Lake have been unusually good and largely patronized.

The carnival held Feb. 28 was a great success, and the surface of the ice in fine condition.

Yours respectfully,
EDGAR B. SAMPSON.

B. U. Alumni In Newton To Hold Dinner at Brae Burn

Marking the opening of a drive to aid their Alma Mater, the B. U. alumni of its School of Medicine, local alumni of Boston University will gather at a dinner to be held at the Brae Burn Country Club April 26.

With 1000 alumni invited to attend, the dinner is expected to surpass all previous Boston University gatherings in Newton.

Mrs. Cecil Clarke, 363 Walnut st., is chairman of the dinner. Assisting her is Mrs. Raymond Lag of 311 Lowell ave., College of Liberal Arts '14, and Mrs. Elizabeth Howlett, 40 Newtonville ave., School of Education '36 and '37.

The drive, which will weld local Boston University graduates into a united body, is headed by Mrs. Alden H. Spauld, 69 Pelham rd., College of Liberal Arts '06. She is being assisted by Mrs. Walter Hartstone of 950 Centre st., vice-chairman, School of Law '05.

A chairman for each of the nine Newton districts will be appointed next week. It was announced by Mrs. Spauld. Organizations will then be set up to carry on the work of the drive.

The new building for the Boston University School of Medicine is to be erected on its present site, adjacent to the Boston City Hospital and the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. Half of the money to be raised will be used for the structure itself, and half for endowment.

Newton Juniors To Attend Red Cross Convention

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross will send two Junior delegates and chaperone to the Annual Red Cross Convention to be held in Washington April 24th-27th. Anne Avantaggio and Anna Scalia of the Bigelow Junior High School have been chosen for their interest in the Red Cross and their ability to represent Newton Juniors. Mrs. James Dunlop, Chapter Secretary, will accompany them. With the exception of last year, when the Annual Convention was held in San Francisco, the Newton Chapter has sent two Junior delegates (boys one year, girls the next) since 1929. They were chosen one year from the Senior High School and the other from the various Junior High Schools in Newton.

Newton Highlands Mens' Club Holds Annual Ladies' Night

The Newton Highlands Men's Club holds its Annual Ladies' Night at the Parish House of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, Tuesday evening, April 18, 1939, at 8:00 o'clock.

Hamilton H. Jones, one of the outstanding amateur photographers of the world will show his new film "Canadian Rockies Holidays." This colored film in kodachrome reveals in addition to the beauties of the Jasper National Park, the grandeur of the Columbia icefields, the world's biggest glacial field outside the Arctic Circle. Mr. Jones was recently awarded the Hiram Percy Maxim trophy, the highest motion picture honor conferred by the Amateur Camera League of New York.

The Annual Business Meeting of the Club will be followed by a reception to the new officers to be elected, after which refreshments will be served.

The members of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands have been especially invited to be the guests of the Men's Club that evening.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Dr. Winslow gave an illustrated talk on Puerto Rico on Monday. Mrs. Arthur G. Robinson, recently from China, will speak Sunday evening. A recital by organ and piano pupils was given at the Tuesday assembly period.

Other events for the week were: a tea for the students and their guests, a French play Thursday evening, and a concert by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Glee Club and the Lasell Orphan Club on Saturday evening at Winslow Hall.

Rotary Club

"Glass" was the subject presented at the Monday meeting of the Rotary Club by Mr. L. L. Frederick, a member of the club. Mr. Frederick is president of the Newton Glass Company at Newton Corner and his talk showed that glass is both a vocation and an avocation to him.

Although glass products abound in every aspect of modern life and the known history of glass dates back at least 5000 years, flat glass as we know it in window glass is hardly more than a couple of centuries old and the modern, machine-made product goes back only as far as the opening of the present century. Until about 1903, all glass was manufactured by hand as either crown glass or cylinder glass, and the processes were a very closely guarded secret held by relatively small number of families in various countries and passed jealously down from father to son.

Mr. Frederick illustrated his story of the history and manufacture of glass with many samples and diagrams and gave the club several novel and interesting facts not known to the average man. For instance, there were glass-blowers in the original settlement at Jamestown, Virginia, and so the glass industry can lay claim to being the first industry established on this continent.

Again, a four-paned window was an important part of every load that accompanied settlers in the days of our westward expansion; the law required that each dwelling built on a homestead should contain at least one window. "Cullet," or broken glass, is an essential element in the manufacture of glass; without it the other elements fail to properly fuse. And finally, the "Ford" in Libby-Owens-Ford is not Henry Ford at all but is an Edward Ford, who has long been in the glass business.

The most striking part of the talk was the demonstration of the qualities of a new glass which will withstand hammer blows, extreme heat, dropping from a height on steel or concrete, and similarly unusual stresses; and yet, if once its strength is penetrated, will disintegrate in a startling manner.

Health Report For March

Among the causes of death were—cancer, 13; heart disease, 26; diabetes, 2; cerebral hemorrhage, 7; arterio sclerosis, 1; broncho pneumonia, 6; lobar pneumonia, 2; nephritis, 4. Communicable diseases reported during the month included chicken pox, 20 cases; German measles, 10; measles, 15; lobar pneumonia, 15; mumps, 10; scarlet fever, 23; pulmonary T. B. 1; whooping cough, 25. Measles are quite prevalent this month. Between April 1 and April 7, 58 cases were reported. During March 15 persons were bitten by dogs in Newton, and on Wednesday of this week 5 cases of persons having been bitten by dogs were reported.

West End St. Railway Company of Boston has for sale 1000 horses which can now be seen at our NECK STABLE, 2000 Washington st., Roxbury, and can be purchased at private sale until Tuesday, April 16, when the remainder will be sold at Public Auction (advertisement)

The Telephone Company's remonstrances against the single trolley system of propelling street cars were received by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, and a hearing was granted for the next meeting. Some 180 names were secured for the petitions and it will be interesting to see how many of the signers appear. It is said that the telephone is a convenience, while street cars are a necessity; the one is used by comparatively few, while the other would benefit the whole city. In addition, the telephone company has no legal location on our streets, and has never given any return for the privileges it has enjoyed. If we cannot have but one, street cars would be a greater benefit to Newton, but probably the telephone can find a way to easily remedy any trouble that might come from the single trolley system, if the company were disposed to go to a little expense.

As a special additional feature on Friday evening dancing will follow the performance.

Newton Graphic April 5, 1934
There were 403 births in this city in 1883, against 411 in 1882.

The cost of the newly dedicated Eliot schoolhouse to date is $15,761. The few outstanding bills will probably make the total but little over $16,000, the amount appropriated.

Mayor Kimball and City Marshal Hammond have decided that a mounted policeman is more ornamental than essential, and Officer Bosworth who has nightly patrolled the streets on horseback, has been assigned for regular and more useful duty as an additional guardian of the peace at No-nantum.

The differences between Joseph N. Bacon and the Boston & Albany railroad regarding land damages along the line of the Circuit branch are to be settled by referees. Three gentlemen will be selected to award damages and Mr. Bacon will have 3 months to remove his farm buildings.

The worst week of the season is the verdict for the past 7 days. On Sunday there was a genuine blizzard, heavy drifting of snow, wind 35 miles an hour, thermometer 11 degrees; a fall of over 30 degrees during the night. Wednesday brought another fall of snow, the storm lasting into Thursday, leaving a foot of snow to celebrate Fast Day. This snow changed to rain and the streets since have been rivers of slush.

Members of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. and their families held a very successful social meeting at the headquarters in Newtonville on Thursday night; about 100 being present. Quite a number came over from Newton Centre in a barge.

The Board of Aldermen held a special meeting on Monday evening and disposed of several matters. Quite a batch of petitions for improvement came in from Newton Highlands, Charles Clark Jr., and others asked to have the "Square" at the junction of Boylston, Eliot and Woodward sts. put in order, and James Edmonds asked for a street light at the same place. Samuel Farquhar of Channing st. asked to have the privies at the Lincoln School removed further from his house. Purdy & White asked leave to run a 10 horse-power engine and a carpet beating machine on Murray st. It was voted to purchase 18 iron lamp posts and 12 street lanterns, to cost $185.

Powers' Paragraphs

The Massachusetts House of Representatives on Monday gave some attention to a bill to put additional legal restraint on barking dogs. To the credit of most dogs and their owners, comparatively few canines are barking nuisances. And when there is a dog in a neighborhood annoying persons by incessant barking, or by barking at late night or early morning hours, the dog's owner is usually to blame. Dogs, like children, must be trained, and few are incorrigible. Anyone who permits his or her dog to disturb other persons sleep or comfort by unrestrained barking, has no consideration for neighbors, and neighbors should not be lacking in moral courage to complain against such a selfish individual.

On Monday Boston's police commissioner stated that he would abolish the practice of police setting speed traps in Boston, in which the police are hidden alongside houses or road, side trees. He was quoted as saying such traps are unfair to motorists. Mr. Timilty is not the only person who has taken this stand. How do they expect the police to effectively apprehend speeders? By standing out on the highways and waving red flags? Are the motorists who drive at high speeds along the streets, killing pedestrians and other motorists fair? Is it reasonable to suppose that these potential murderers will be deterred when they read of others of their ilk getting off with $25 fines or no fines at all? There will be appreciable decrease in the horrible, annual total of serious automobile accidents in this country until the mushy sympathy for "speeders" ceases.

President Roosevelt says this country should go to war to save the "great democracies." England and France. If England is a democracy, we don't know the meaning of that. Was England practicing the principles of democracy, Mr. Roosevelt, when she invaded the Transvaal about two-score years ago to grab the land of the Boers because of the gold and diamonds there? Is France as concerned about democratic principles as she is about her colonies in the Orient, Mr. Roosevelt? What about the attitude of these two countries toward the United States between 1918 and 1938, Mr. Roosevelt; in the matter of paying anything on the billions loaned to them by our people for instance? If this country became involved in another European war, Mr. President, how would you feel to have your four sons in the front-line trenches, or aviators in combat planes?

The President says this country may have to choose between isolation and self-sufficiency, or take measures to preserve its world trade by a lower standard of living. Just what advantage would there be to lower our standard of living in order to barter with nations that are nearly poverty stricken because they use most of their wealth and energy in manufacturing arms and munitions, either to gain territories they need to better their economic conditions, or to hold territories they seized during the past century or so, in a greedy quest for riches and empire? George Washington, the principal factor in creating this democracy, urged his fellow countrymen to beware of foreign entanglements. Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaims that this country should become involved in foreign entanglements and wars. In our opinion, Washington was right and Roosevelt is wrong.

The writer does not play pool and never did. Millions of men and youths have played pool and enjoyed it. The game calls for concentration and skill and for generations has occupied an important place in the activities of individuals and clubs. It is a dignified and enjoyable pastime. Yet numbers of youths, and youths through this country like to play pool, but are not members of clubs and therefore depend on public poolrooms. A public poolroom need not be a liability in a community, and most of them are not. A well conducted poolroom provides reasonable recreation for men, both young and old. All men and youths who want to play pool do not belong to clubs, and many clubs have but one pool table which provides inadequate facilities for those desiring to play. Because some poolrooms have been resorts for gamblers and undesirable elements, many persons are prejudiced against all poolrooms. Some of these persons would condemn even a well conducted poolroom.

The writer does not know the owner of the poolroom at Newton Highlands which was the cause of much discussion at the meeting of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association on Monday night, and he has no knowledge of the manner in which this poolroom has been conducted, but he does know that one man who is prominent in opposing the renewal of the license for this poolroom was also prominent last year in opposing the granting of liquor licenses in this city, and at that time was one of those responsible for the issuance of a statement contrasting conditions in 1932, the last year of "no-license" with those in 1937, and blaming liquor licenses in Newton not only for things they should be blamed for, but also for things it seemed hardly fair to blame them for. These included an increase in the tax rate, an increase in the number of fatal automobile accidents, and an alleged large increase in the number of juvenile offenders. We know that the large increases in our tax rate the past 10 years is due to the welfare burden and increased State taxes. We know that the records of fatal automobile accidents in Newton during 1937 show that the most of them were not caused by drunken driving. Only two weeks ago the Newton Community Council was told that offences by juveniles in this city have fallen off considerably since the 1920's. As

Holiday Problem

Here we are confronted with a holiday next Wednesday, which prompts the query, "How are you going to spend mid-week?" Hard to answer for those who specialize on week-ends. Coming as an interruption to business the problem will be how to pass the time away. Many are so skilled in taking a day off they will have no trouble in arranging diversion. Some men will have pointed out to them by the head of the family things around the house an able-bodied should get busy at. It used to be on this holiday that people looked over their summer places but you don't hear so much of that now. But there are plenty of sports, and—I almost forgot this one—some may remember that it's Patriots Day and review the teachings of Concord and Lexington by visiting those places.

Bravo, Newton!

Maybe we do allow many less important things to occupy our minds when we should be seeking to improve them. No doubt trivia consume many hours that might better be used for substantial purpose. But don't get discouraged. Certainly I'm not after reading the annual report of the Newton Free Library for 1938. We may well congratulate ourselves as Newtonians that here in this city self-improvement is gaining. Librarian Julius Lucht says: "A total of $85,373 books and magazines were issued for home use (last year) which is a 7 per cent increase over last year (1937) and nearly 2 per cent larger than the peak year of 1933." Then, to heighten our satisfaction we find that in describing the various tables in the report, Mr. Lucht reveals that one proves "how all of the different classes, from philosophy and religion, through fiction, show an increase in usefulness, with the fine arts and music collection enjoying the largest percentage of gain."

Feast and Be Frank

Have you ever observed somebody doing that which you hadn't the courage to do? And have you, with consequent envy, nipped at your fingernails and made caustic comments? Never mind giving any answer for it's quite unnecessary. The questions were asked merely to put you in the mood for recalling the person who nibbles away all day at candy, nuts, etc., while you are trying to follow the strict rule of "going without" between meals.

When I demanded of a friend the other day his reason for carrying a little box of crackers in one pocket and some nuts in the other, he was indignant. "Don't you know the value of carbohydrates or proteins?" he asked. "My dear man, take these crackers with peanut butter in them," he went on. "Most sustaining thing I could eat. Why, some sugar, honey or nuts—yes, plenty of nuts—are worth all your beefsteaks and French fried potatoes."

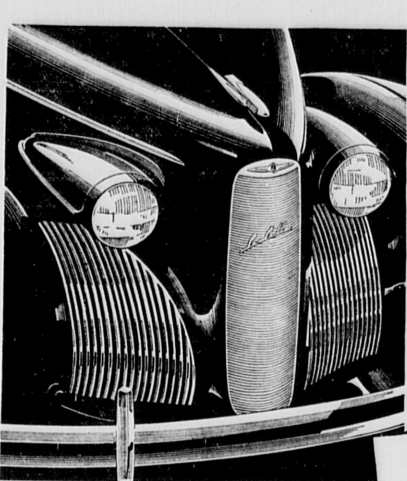

I admit having experienced the envy that comes of watching a person getting away with candy, nuts and things between meals. That makes me out a

6 Months In Jail For Newton Burglar

Bert Gibson, who was captured by Patrolman Dowling a few weeks ago after he had broken into the home of James Lannon on Burnham rd., West Newton, was treated to leniency by Judge Gray in Middlesex Superior Court last Friday. A Roxbury minister pleaded for Gibson, told the judge that he would obtain a job for the defendant when he got out of jail, and also stated that Gibson had become reconciled with his wife, and would return to her and their child, apparently caused the judge to impose a light sentence on Gibson. The prisoner was given 6 months in Billerica reformatory. Gibson had previously served 2 years in Federal Prisons for violation of the Mann Act.

He was detected on March 15 by a neighbor breaking into the unoccupied Lannon residence, and the police were notified. When they arrived and searched the house, the burglar could not be found until Patrolman Dowling opened the rumble seat of a car in the basement garage at the house. Gibson had crawled into the luggage compartment and slammed the cover down. He probably would have soon suffocated had Dowling not found him. In his pockets the police found considerable loot which he had stolen from the Lannon home.

He was taking a practice ride on a motorcycle when he lost control of the machine near the corner of Nevada st. He was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Social Service Index At Community Chest Hqs.

One of the activities of the Newton Community Council which Newton people hear comparatively little about but whose work is fundamental to the efficient functioning of all social work in the city is the work of the Social Service Index maintained at the Community Chest Headquarters at 93 Union st., Newton Centre. The primary purpose of the Social Service Index is to avoid duplication of service by social agencies either public or private, to prevent fraud by applicants for aid and to provide the social agencies with an adequate record of the family or individual as shown by their previous contact with social agencies either in Newton or Boston.

First organized in September of 1936 the work of the Index has grown steadily so that last year 880 cases were cleared through the Index office. At Thanksgiving and Christmas nearly all organizations—28 last Christmas that gave dinners to the less fortunate checked with the Index and in that way make certain that there lists do not overlap.

Here is an example of how the Index works. Let us assume that the Smith family applies to the Newton Family Service Bureau for aid. If it is an emergency case assistance is given at once but at the same time the Index is asked what it knows about the Smith family. Perhaps the record will show that two years ago the District Nursing Association helped the Smiths and has important information about their health needs. Or it may be that the Boston Social Service Index shows that one of the Smith children has been assisted through the Children's Aid Association of Boston; their information is then made available to the Family Service Bureau. With all this information at its disposal the Bureau can give its assistance much more wisely than it would be possible otherwise.

It should be emphasized that the information at the Index is strictly confidential and available only to recognized social agencies. By this careful record keeping occasional cases of fraud are uncovered but, even more important a comprehensive list of interested agencies is available which enables the social worker to plan the rehabilitation of those in need.

Mrs. Lucius E. Thayer is chairman of the Social Service Index Committee which takes an active and constructive part in the operation of the Index.

Hands that perform MAGIC in your home!

YOUR HAND flicks a switch and you change a cold, unlivable house into a haven of friendly, health-giving warmth and comfort. Your hand turns a faucet and you have at your service an inexhaustible flow of pure, fresh water either cold or piping hot.

Your hands can perform this magic in your home because of other hands — the skilled hands of the Heating and Plumbing Contractor. His hands are backed by the years of training, study and experience necessary to assure you care-free heating comfort and health-protecting plumbing service.

For heating and plumbing are twin guardians of your family welfare. Heating safeguards your home against cold, dampness, and discomfort upon which sickness thrives. Plumbing supplies the fresh, pure water so essential to well-being and carries away the wastes so dangerous to health.

Together, heating and plumbing work hand-in-hand—to make new or old homes more enjoyable—to provide them with the comfort, cleanliness and protection that have made American homes the envy of the rest of the world.

Good heating and plumbing make an old home seem like new, a new home more inviting, comfortable and enjoyable. And every home today can have modern heating and plumbing on convenient, FHA terms.

Both heating and plumbing mean too much to the welfare of your family, to the uninterrupted enjoyment of your home and to the actual value of your property to be entrusted to any but the trained hands of the Heating and Plumbing Contractor. Our long years of experience have proved that your best interests are served when you consult your Heating and Plumbing Contractor first on any heating or plumbing problem.

Announce Winner of Child Popularity Contest April 6

All Contestants to Receive Free Passes For Saturday Matinee

Nearly fifty Newton children have entered the CHILD POPULARITY CONTEST which is being conducted by the Paramount Theatre in conjunction with the J. Dunham Jones Co. Mr. Parker, manager of the Paramount Theatre, announced today that the votes will be counted on Saturday morning, April 6, and the trophy will be presented at the matinee show that afternoon.

In order that all contestants will be posted in the lobby of the theatre for at least three weeks the J. Dunham Jones Co. has announced that no sittings can be arranged after April 18.

The Paramount Theatre will give two passes to all contestants for the matinee on April 6 in order that all may be present when the winner is announced and the prize awarded. These tickets may be obtained at the theatre.

Eight children from one family have been entered in the contest and it is reported that they have initiated an active campaign to round up their voters. Besides the eight pictures they have been entered as a group also.

Latest reports indicate that approximately 700 votes have already been cast and that the balloting is growing heavier as the contest nears its close.

The trophy at the right is the one which will be presented to NEWTON'S MOST POPULAR CHILD FOR 1939 when the winner is announced April 6. In addition the winner will also receive a large framed colored portrait from the J. Dunham Jones Co.

FOR NEWTON'S MOST POPULAR CHILD

Firemen Serve As Plumbers

Firemen in Newton and elsewhere are more and more becoming community handy men. At 6:13 last Friday evening firemen from Engine 3 were called to the home of Charles White, 150 Eastbourne rd., Newton Centre, when a defective faucet in the bathroom could not be shut off. The firemen resorted to the simple expedient of shutting off the water in the cellar. The same day Engine 9 crew went to 188 Beacon st., Chestnut Hill, to stop steam escaping from a defective boiler. At 6:53 last Friday Engines 3 and 9 and Ladder 2 went to the home of James O'Neill, 262 Beacon st., where a fire in a rubbish barrel filled the house with smoke and some fire damage also occurred.

Youth Charged With Robbery

Mabel Davis, employed as a domestic at 131 Danehill st., Newton Highlands, complained to Newton police that as she was walking on Walnut st. on Thursday night, April 6, she was accosted by a young man who threw her to the ground. She attempted to hit her assailant with her handbag, and a 50-cent piece fell out of it. The "bandit" picked up the fifty cents and vanished. Acting on a description given by Miss Davis, Patrolmen Keating and Holmstrand on last Friday night arrested Richard Cassidy, 22, of 7 Newbury ter., Newton Centre. Cassidy denied that he was Miss Davis' assailant. He was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday and his case continued until April 17.

Kiwanis Club

At the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, talked on city affairs with particular reference to the financial problems of the city. He said that the committee cut the Mayor's budget recommendations for 1939 about $200,000 and this will not curtail any of the many services rendered by the city. He said that Newton's share of the State tax in 1938 was $193,000 to $502,000, causing an increase in the tax rate of $4. He stated that assessments on Newton properties have been lowered, little building has been done for several years, and the welfare burden has increased tremendously. Mr. McKay advocated that the annual budget be submitted to the Aldermen the first of January instead of two months later, and he advocated a city manager for Newton.

Newton H. S.

During Wednesday morning's assembly period the Newton Chapter number 592, of the National Honor Society, held its annual induction ceremony, welcoming 106 new members to its ranks. The society is a nation-wide organization whose activities, carried on by various committees, include, in this school, supervising the lunch room, helping in the building offices, and directing visitors on Parents' Night. Each spring new members representing five per cent of the Junior Class and fifteen per cent of the Senior Class, chosen from the highest fourth in scholastic standing, are inducted into the society at a ceremony widely known for its impressiveness. The ceremony was opened by Tom Powers, this year's president of the Newton Chapter. President Powers' introduction reviewed the history of the organization, the qualifications for membership, and the society's emblem, the Keystone and the Flaming Torch. Remarks to the significance of membership were next discussed separately by robed members with scrolls. Expositions upon character, scholarship, leadership and service were given by Mary Louise Shadman, Jean Roberts, Daniel Needham and Leon Kruger, respectively. As each stepped forward a leaf of a large illuminated book in center stage, with a page inscribed to each quality was turned, and a torch lighted. Mr. Ellicker, next introduced, confined his remarks to the significance of membership in the society and concluded the ceremony with the pledge and presentation of pins to the incoming members. The guest speaker of the day was the Rev. William R. Leslie, minister of St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal Church in Brookline, whose subject was "Our Unrealized Possibilities."

Burglar The Winner At Bridge Party

Mrs. Robert G. Howard of 245 Waverley ave., Newton had a bridge party at her home last Thursday night. The principal winner was not one of the ladies who were contestants at the bridge tables, but a burglar who climbed up to a second story window, entered the room where the players coats were placed, and made a getaway with one sealskin coat and seven pocketbooks. Fortunately none of the pocketbooks contained much money, and the amount of cash reported stolen totalled $26. In addition the pocketbooks contained store charge cards, compacts and house keys. The owners of the stolen articles are all women residents of the Newtons.

Found Guilty of Stealing Watch

Kenneth Singleton, 29, of 21 Pleasant st., Newton Centre, was found guilty by Judge Mayberry in the Newton Court on Tuesday of stealing a watch valued at $32.50 from Herman Fish of Franklin who formerly roomed in the same house at Newton Centre with Singleton. Fish complained to the police that his watch had been stolen, and after questioning by Inspector Hammill, Singleton admitted that he had taken the watch and hidden it behind a picture at the Pleasant st. house, but that he had done so just as a joke. Judge Mayberry could not see the joke part and gave Singleton a suspended sentence of 30 days in the House of Correction.

Hit Bus Driver, Gets 3 Months in Jail

David Evans, 30, of 1 Robin Hood rd., Auburndale, was sentenced to serve 3 months in Billerica prison by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday. Evans was found guilty of assaulting Oscar Belmonte, 43, of Natick, a bus driver on the Middlesex & Boston bus company. Patrolman Cunningham testified that late Saturday night Evans was a passenger on the bus, and as it approached Greenough st., West Newton, he hit Belmonte, breaking the latter's nose. Evans told the judge that Belmonte would not stop the bus to let him off. Belmonte was not in court because of his injury. He told the police that Evans told him to stop at Prospect st., and when he did so, Evans did not alight from the bus. Belmonte said he then stopped at Auburn st. to allow Evans to get off, but the latter again did not leave the bus. Then Evans started to argue about Belmonte's alleged failure to stop the vehicle, and climaxed the argument by swinging at Belmonte. Evans was later arrested by the police. He took an appeal from the sentence.

Two More Persons Bitten By Dogs

Donald Cameron, 15, of 856 Watertown st., West Newton, was bitten by a dog on Monday afternoon on Webster st., Auburndale. The dog ran away after attacking and the identity of its owner is unknown. On Saturday another dog bit Richard McGrath, 26, son of Patrolman John McGrath of 5 Noble st., West Newton. The child was near the home of his grandparents at 33 Crescent st., when he was bitten. The ownership of this dog is also not known, so neither of the dogs can be examined for rabies. It is estimated that there are a couple of thousand unlicensed dogs in the city, and the number of persons bitten by dogs in the Newtons has largely increased the past few years. In 1938 the number reported to the Health Department totalled 204. The State law specifies that all dogs running at large shall wear a collar (or harness) bearing a license number and the owner's name and address. This law has not been enforced in Newton for years.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, April 16.
The Golden Text is: "We also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement" (Romans 5:11).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and collective. He did life's work aright not only in justice to himself, but in mercy to mortals,—to show them how to do theirs, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility" (p. 18).

Powers' Paragraphs

a matter of fact in 1932 there were 83 persons arrested for drunken driving in Newton, and in 1937 only 62 were arrested. We quote these comparisons because it seems that some persons in their zeal for righteousness may make mistakes.

We respect the efforts of those who attempt to better social conditions but there is such a thing as having too much of a tendency toward inhibition, too great a desire to taboo. We believe that Rev. Charles Farrar, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, showed common sense on Wednesday night when he told the License Committee of the Aldermen that a pool room need not necessarily be detrimental to a community, and that it can serve a useful purpose as a means of recreation for youths.

Governor Saltonstall recommends a sandwich with cracked eggshells as filling, according to a Boston newspaper. He was quoted as stating that the time in the eggshells is beneficial. In conjunction with the egg-shell sandwich, why not have a salad composed of diced grapefruit or orange rinds, covered with boiled tea-leaves and a sauce made from boiling apple or banana skins. This would truly be an economical luncheon and there would be even less for the garbage collectors to gather than there is now.

It would cost about $1,000,000 to resurface many accepted streets in Newton that are in very poor condition. Our highways are stippled with many thousands of patches. Sooner or later this city will have to spend considerable money rebuilding streets.

We had a few rainy evenings this week and it became dark 15 or 20 minutes earlier than it would have on a bright day. Nevertheless, street lights were not turned on before the scheduled time. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings were all misty or rainy and the lights did not come on until 6:40, although dusk had faded into darkness 10 or 15 minutes earlier, and it is from 5 to 7 that the largest percentage of automobile accidents occur. On Tuesday evening we drove into Boston and observed the same condition in Brighton and Allston. Street lamps should be lighted when it becomes dark, not at a set time regardless of weather conditions.

What Do You Want?

FLOWERS are obliging things. They gladly give the gardener any size or shape plant he wants, almost any color of blossoms in the rainbow.

It is not a long-term proposition, either. Flowers tall, medium, dwarf, climbing, trailing, erect, or bushy; flowers of scores of different colors; all may be grown speedily from seed planted in the spring.

The following lists will be useful as a guide to gardeners now planning their flower gardens, all flowers mentioned being annuals.

For tall backgrounds or borders (three feet or taller)—antirrhinum maximum, feathered celosia, cosmos, ricinus (castor bean), and sunflower.

For medium tall borders (20 inches to three feet)—antirrhinum majus, arctotis, aster, callipais, bachelor button, four o'clock, larkspur, lupin, tall marigold, petunia hybrida, salpiglossis, salvia, scabiosa, and giant zinnia.

For beds and borders (10 to 20 inches)—ageratum, antirrhinum (bedding type), dwarf balsam, calendula, candytuft, carnation, coleus, dianthus, gaillardia, nasturtium, petunia, vinca, and dwarf zinnia.

For edgings (10 inches or less)—alyssum, lobelia, dwarf marigold, pansy, portulaca and verbenia.

For rock gardens—sweet alyssum, lobelia, phlox drummondii, portulaca, saponaria, schizanthus, thunbergia, statice and verbenia.

For screening and ornament—cardinal climber, cypress vine, gourd, humulus, moon flower, momordica (balsam apple and balsam pear), morning glory, scarlet runner bean and thunbergia.

WOW! WOW! When the sun comes out you'll see... the hounds a hunting finery.

WE speak in the language of the Trees... more important than ever this spring because of the weakened condition—open scars—and broken branches of many trees which survived the recent hurricane... Remember that the Empire State Building was built in eighteen months but a tree in your back yard took twenty or thirty, perhaps even a hundred years to grow... It may need spraying, feeding, bark tracing, cabling, even bracing... Let one of Heath's trained staff spend a few hours with saw and tree healing paint now, thereby saving many dollars and possibly the tree later... HEATH TREE SERVICE, 572 Washington St., Wellesley, Wel. 3262.

THE MIDDLE DOOR at 1158 Walnut St., Newton Highlands, is now open to new and exciting treasures... unusual costume jewelry—fascinating bracelets—quaint necklaces—and individual finger rings... and the smartest knitting bags—tailor-made and silk lined in Hand Blocked Linen—in Turquoise, Brown and Red... stunning wooden salad bowls in various sizes with painted sprays of acorns, pine cones and cherries. As Fashion dictates a long way between the hem of the skirt and the shoes—Miss Mott has wisely chosen McCullum Hose.

DANNY DICKSON, young genius (25 years of age) has been playing the piano by ear, as long as he can remember... having heard a piece once he is capable of playing it... Of late Danny has discovered a way in which he can share this wonderful talent with others... If you are anxious to play the piano without giving up too much time to practice—call Longwood 1564—for an interview with Danny and learn about his amazing technique.

THE secret of a finished hostess is a well trained and well appointed servant... Prestige presents itself when a trimly clad maid in either wine or black rayon uniform with white organdie collar and apron moves with ease and confidence among the guests... She is confident because she is wearing a White Swan uniform... Smartly cut and perfectly tailored ($2.95)... work uniforms in white and colored broadcloth in both a zipper and a buttoned style $1.95... separate aprons 59c... Bond's Convenience Shop, Bray Block, Newton Center.

DO look over the 1939 Crosley Shelvare refrigerators at J. H. CHANDLER & SON, Hardware, 796 Beacon St., Newton Ctr. Open the door to the world's most convenient electric box and see the Extra shelves in the door, which provide more usable storage space... 6 and 6 1/2 cubic ft. de Luxe—$89.50—$197.50 respectively (including the extra $5.00 for five year guarantee)... and an 8 cubic foot box $199.50. Every housewife can afford to buy one of these beautiful models because J. H. Chandler & Son can arrange very convenient easy terms that will cost you no more than the cost of your present ice bill... Phone Cen 4000 for service on any type refrigerator.

THE average home manager does not realize that over one-third of her family's life is spent on pillows and mattresses, and that they are one of the most unsanitary articles in the home... Continuous breathing into pillows during this one-third of your life makes them a deposit of disease-breeding germs. THE HINDS LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANERS of Brookline are now offering their Annual April Discount Sale on the sanitizing of pillows and mattresses... The feathers are sterilized by live steam at a temperature of 180 degrees with the tickings laundered and replaced at the very nominal charge of 49c... If desired, your old ticking can be replaced with a new 18-ounce A.C.A. ticking for a total cost of 99c... As an additional feature they also offer you a choice of ten fancy tickings in linen material at a total cost (including sanitizing) of $1.25 each... Special estimates on both the sanitizing and recovering of hair or floss mattresses will be gladly given at your convenience... this is a very unique and worthwhile service being offered to the home manager. Phone Longwood 6186.

ARE you worrying about who is going to mow the lawn this year, and whether or not that certain someone can be depended on? Why not eliminate that expense and worry and invest in a small 1/2 horse powered lawn mower that has just come on the market at $89.50... Simple to handle, easy to start, this softly working motor will climb a 50 per cent grade... it's positively uncanny the way this demon swings out and cuts neatly around the trees... a cinch to guide with one hand... NEW ENGLAND TORO CO. is confident that a demonstration of this handy motored lawn mower will prove its value... NEW ENGLAND TORO CO., 1121 Washington St., West Newton... N. N. 7900, W. N. 1658.

Committee Favors Petition For Use Of Clark Estate

three years to sell the house as a private residence, but without success, and that only a few offers had been received for the property, which includes about 120,000 square feet of land and a garage. The best offer received was one of $15,000 from a real estate firm which represented a purchaser who would raze the house and cut the estate into house lots. The Florence Crittenton Society offers $11,000 for the property. The five members of the Claims & Rules Committee voting in favor of the petition are: Aldermen Bacon, Everts, Hutchinson, McCabe and Walker. The two voting against the granting of the petition are Rawson and Inches.

Safety Council Holds Meeting

Newton Safety Council held a meeting on Wednesday night at police headquarters, West Newton. Ralph Ellis, Jr., secretary of the Springfield Safety Council addressed the gathering on the subject of "Bicycles" and urged support for a bill now before the Legislature which calls for compulsory registration of bicycles. He said that there are about half a million bicycles in use in this State and that the campaign for safer bicycle riding in Springfield has greatly reduced accidents there. Supt. of Schools Warren and Rev. John Reynolds of Sacred Heart Parish, Newton Centre, told of safety education in the public and parochial schools of this city.

Aldermen Find Pension Fund Cut Impossible

One of the three budget items which the Board of Aldermen deferred action on at the last meeting, in the expectation that smaller amounts might be appropriated, and this year's tax rate accordingly made lower to some slight degree, was that of $57,000 as the city's share in the Retirement Fund for pensioned city employees. The Finance Committee of the Aldermen thought this amount might be reduced to $50,000. Information received from George Buck of New York, actuary retained by the city in connection with the Retirement Fund, ends the hopes of the Finance Committee that the smaller amount will suffice. Mr. Buck states that $57,000 will be needed this year to meet the city's obligations in this matter.

Much Agitation Over Pool Room

sociation send a delegation to the meeting of the Licenses Committee of the Aldermen to oppose the renewal of the license. He said that after the license for the poolroom had been granted to Gerard last year, letters were sent to 150 members of the Newton Highlands Men's Club asking for their views on this license. Sixty replies were received, 45 of which opposed the granting of the license, and 15 favoring it.

Harold Piper, a director of the Improvement Association, said he would not go to city hall to either favor or oppose the license renewal. Piper said there are things at Newton Highlands worse than the poolroom, and he asked "Why pick on the poolroom?" Francis Mellen agreed with Piper, and said the Improvement Association is out of step in attacking Gerard. Rev. Ben Roberts said that poolrooms are not dens of iniquity, but they can be. He said he had received no complaints against the poolroom, but objected to its being concealed. He suggested that the wooden partition between Gerard's barber shop and the poolroom be replaced by a glass partition. Alderman McKee said that we can't keep Newton Highlands without a poolroom, but the real issue ought to be in a motion to see it.

John Gerard said he had conducted the poolroom in a proper manner and is willing to co-operate with the civic societies in making Newton Highlands a desirable residential community. He stated that the law compels the poolroom to be kept separate from the barber shop, and he feared a glass partition is not practical because flying pool balls would smash the glass. A vote was taken on the question of opposing the renewal of the license. Twenty-two were against the license, and sixteen for the revocation of the license. The point was raised that some of those who voted were minors, so a second vote was taken. This resulted in 20 opposing the renewal of the license and 16 favoring it.

At the hearing on the matter before the Licenses Committee on Wednesday night, Rev. Charles Farrar, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, advocated that Gerard's license be renewed. He said the poolroom, which was opened in January, had taken boys off the streets, that the boys find the poolroom fills one of their recreational needs, and it is not interfering with the work he has been doing as sponsor of the Newton Highlands Boys' Club. Rev. Farrar said he wished he had a poolroom at the boys' club. He said he has known Gerard for 15 years and he has no objections to his poolroom. Patrolmen Joseph Lyons and James McMahon, who cover Newton Highlands nights spoke in favor of the poolroom. They said they have never seen traces of gambling at the place, and Lyons said the poolroom has taken boys off street corners. Chief of Police Hughes said he has visited the poolroom several times, found it being properly conducted, and the minors there had written permission from their parents. Gerard said some of his opponents had sent a detective to the poolroom, but the sleuth had found nothing out of the way there. He said he did not allow lottery agents to do business at the poolroom.

Dr. Ward again lead the opposition to the renewal of the license. He told the Licenses Committee of the vote taken at the Improvement Association meeting on Monday night, and of the poll taken among the members of the Men's Club. He said that some residents of Newton Highlands may withdraw their support of the boys' club if the poolroom is allowed to continue, as it will "be impossible to support a boys' club under the conditions." Dr. Ward said that the playground department has assigned a supervisor to take charge of the boys' club which is located in a room in the basement of 101 Hyde st. He again asserted that the poolroom is a danger spot, when it is hidden by a partition which prevents the public from seeing what goes on there.

Alderman Fahey, chairman of the Licenses Committee, asked for a "show of hands" to ascertain the feeling of those present in regard to the poolroom. Twenty favored the renewal of the license and five opposed.

Many other cities throughout the country have enforced reasonable speed limits within their confines, with resultant increases in safety.

Policeman Loans Money To Pay Fine

Maynard Grundle of Farm rd., Sherborn was summoned to appear at the Newton court last Friday to answer charges of speeding, driving without a license, and driving a car with improper lights. It developed that Mr. Grundle was not the offender, but his son, Paul D., 18, a student. The senior Grundle was co-operative, offered to plead guilty on the charges against his son, and to pay whatever fines were levied. Judge Mayberry imposed fines totalling $25. Grundle had only $15 in cash with him, but Inspector King, who was prosecuting the case, offered to loan the Sherborn man the balance, commenting that he had an honest face. The offer was accepted and Grundle promised to repay the loan later that day.

At that time Judge Mayberry imposed a 30 days' sentence on Alley, but suspended it on condition that the defendant make restitution. Alley failed to pay back the money, so he was again arrested and committed to prison.

Both were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and both pleaded not guilty to the charge of promoting a lottery. This case was continued until April 20, Terrio pleaded guilty to the charge of having lottery slips in his possession.

Magazine Seller Uses Fake Racket

Complaints have been made to the Newton police that a young woman has been going from house to house through the Newtons soliciting subscriptions to a magazine and telling persons that she is doing so to win a scholarship at the Newton Hospital nurses training school. The Newton Hospital training school for nurses does not offer scholarships, and the young magazine saleswoman is alleged to be a faker.

Dogs now have radio sets. That is, the dogs trained by Australian constables have them. A set is strapped to the animal's back and the dog's movements are controlled by a person's great distance away, the commands issuing from the speaker on the dog's back.

A dog, on the command of a concealed officer, will trail after a suspicious person, bring him to earth and guard him with little danger to the pursuing officer.

Just think of the conveniences for home use. You strap a set on your dog when he goes out and when you want him to return, all you would have to do is go to the microphone in your home and say, "Come on home, Rover. Your supper is ready." For those who have to go out to find their dogs before they will come home, these sets also would be a great help. At the front door with the microphone in your hand you might say in a quiet voice, "Where are you, Rover?" then in a very loud voice say, "Over here." If your dog is in the neighborhood you will know just where to go for him.

When you have to give your dog medicine remember that age must be considered as well as weight. A young puppy and a very old dog require smaller doses. It is always better to err on the side of giving too little than too much. Above all, never give a dog medicine unless you know what it is or unless it is under a veterinarian's orders.

Last week I wrote about a dog that jumped up and pushed the pedestrian's button on a traffic pole, thus changing the lights in his favor before crossing the street. Now I have before me a letter from Roger Dolan of Baltimore, who states he has taught his dog, a German Shepherd, to carry a letter in his mouth to the corner mailbox and with his paw pull down the slot and drop the letter in.

The people of Marion, Pennsylvania, certainly have their dog-catching done in style. The commissioners of this fashionable Philadelphia suburb ordered an ultramodern truck with chromium trim, adjustable individual cages and a ventilation system. While waiting for their masters to come and claim them from the pound the dogs are fed by a caterer. With this kind of service, many of the town's dogs will probably start straying around, in the hope of being picked up by the dog-catcher.

Question: With summer and hot weather approaching we are having the yearly family argument as to whether or not we should have our dog clipped. Do you advise clipping dogs during the warm months?—R. D. B.

Answer: No, I do not advise clipping dogs in hot weather. I am going to discuss this subject in detail in a few weeks, and at that time will fully bring out the reasons dogs should not be clipped.

Question: How often should I take my dog out of doors? I live in an apartment in the city—P. W. H.

Answer: A dog should be let out of doors a minimum of three times a day—morning, noon and night. The more you can take your dog out the better off he will be.

Sergeant Mechanic Job Abolished By Aldermen As Unnecessary Office

Board Acts On Motion Of Claims And Rules Com. Chairman; Furthers Controversy Between Aldermen and Mayor

Another step in the controversy between the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen over the office of "Sergeant-Mechanic" in the Newton police department, was taken at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night when Chairman Rawson of the Claims & Rules Committee moved that the city ordinance relative to the police department be amended so that the office will be abolished on July 1. Rawson quoted from the report of the special committee which investigated the duties of the sergeant-mechanic, and which stated that the position is not necessary, and that the repair and maintenance work on the police motor vehicles is mostly performed by a mechanic employed as an assistant to the sergeant-mechanic. Rawson also referred to that part of the special committee's report which recommends that equipment and supplies for the police department be purchased by the Chief instead of by the sergeant-mechanic. On a roll call vote 19 of the Aldermen present voted in favor of Rawson's motion, which had the unanimous approval of the Claims & Rules Committee. Alderman Temperley was the only one to vote in the negative. Temperley explained that his action was caused by caution. He said he wanted "to be free from anything" (Continued on Page 10)

Start New Tel. Building In May

First Step Towards Installation Of Dial System In Newton

Construction of the new telephone building at Washington st. and Central ave., Newtonville, will be started on May 15. Manager Eugene J. Campbell of the Telephone Company announced today. Dial service will be provided by the modern "crossbar" type of equipment, similar to that now being introduced in New York city and soon to be available to telephone users in Lynn.

Present plans call for the completion of the new building and start of installation of the new dial equipment next year, Manager Campbell said.

Specifications worked out by telephone engineers after a careful study of the city and its telephone needs call for a building two stories high with a basement. The first floor will comprise a business office at the left of the entrance, where customers may pay their bills or discuss their service at the desks of telephone representatives. The business office will have desk space for approximately 25 service representatives and their records and files.

At the right of the entrance will be the "switch room" where the complicated large "main frame" and associated crossbar dial equipment will be installed. It is in this room that by means of apparatus and devices perfected in the Bell Telephone Laboratory (Continued on Page 4)

Object to Puritan Road Project

Opponents Claim Improvement Means Increased Traffic On Plymouth Rd.

The hearing before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night on the petition of residents of Puritan rd., Newton Highlands, to have that street improved and accepted, produced "pros" for the petition from residents of Puritan rd., and "cons" from residents of Plymouth rd., Puritan rd. was for many years a "paper street," known as George st. It leads from Plymouth rd. down into the lowland toward the Cold Spring swamp area. A couple of years ago a real estate development started along Puritan rd. and about 15 houses have been built along the street, and an adjoining road known as Vaughan ave. When the realtor developing the tract sought the approval of the Planning Board a few years ago, owners of residences on Plymouth rd. objected, and a compromise was reached when it was agreed that Puritan rd. would be extended to Beethoven ave., so that that way could be used as an outlet toward Beacon st. and Plymouth rd. would not become a thoroughfare for the new section.

At the hearing on Monday night several residents of Puritan rd. favored the petition. Albert Walker of Plymouth rd. opposed it. He told of the 40 or 50 persons who came to city hall a few years ago to protest, and how they were assured that arrangements would be made to have Beethoven ave. used as the outlet for the Cold Spring development (Continued on page 4)

Big Crowd Watches Marathon Race

Despite the threatening weather of Wednesday, the largest crowd in years lined Washington st. and Commonwealth ave. in this city to witness the annual Marathon Race. Many of the spectators trespassed on the roadway, making it difficult for many of the runners to wend their way through the interfering spectators. This condition was worse than in any past year, and comments were made that the course should be better policed. "Tarzan" Brown, running at his record breaking pace, fooled hundreds of spectators who timed their arrival at Commonwealth ave. too closely. He had gone by just before they arrived. The North roadway of the avenue, and side streets, were tightly packed with parked automobiles. When the rain came in a heavy shower about 2:30, there was a rush by thousands to the shelter of their cars, and soon a serious traffic condition ensued on the avenue, Walnut and Centre, and other streets. Jams soon followed at Newtonville sq. and Newton Corner, and it was not until about 3:15, that they cleared up. Chief of Police Hughes went over the course but few recognized him, as he traveled in a new Buick sedan which Mayor Childs and the Aldermen recently made provision for in the 1939 budget. For the past 9 years the Chief had patrolled the course in a 1930 Buick, and this ancient vehicle was missed on Wednesday by the Marathon gallery. All available members of the Newton police department were assigned to duty along Washington st. and Commonwealth ave. during the progress of the race.

Plan Third Annual Cub Scout Palava At Nobscot Mountain

Expect Nearly 1500 at Outdoor Gathering of Norumbega Council May 13

Plans have recently been announced for the Third Annual Outdoor Cub Scout Palava of the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, to be held in the Nobscot area on Saturday, May 13th.

Arrangements are being perfected by a committee headed by Henry S. C. Cummings of Newton Centre, and including officials from each of the fourteen cub packs comprising the Cubbing Division of Norumbega Council, the Junior Boy Scout organization of Woburn and the Newtons.

The Outdoor Palava is an annual event which brings to a climax the winter season of cub activity and which is becoming increasingly important in attendance and popularity. Last year broke all records with over one thousand junior boys and their parents being present at the afternoon ceremonies and picnic supper following.

Geraci Poolroom License Granted

On recommendation of the Licenses Committee, the Board of Aldermen on Monday night speedily granted to John Geraci a license for a poolroom at 27 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands. Chairman Vahey of the Licenses Committee said that the petition of Geraci for the license is approved by Chief of Police Hughes, the two policemen who patrol Newton Highlands' business section, and Re Charles Farrar of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. At a recent meeting of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association a bitter discussion occurred over the question of granting the license. Some of those who spoke in opposition to the poolroom contended that there should be no poolroom in Newton Highlands. Others objected to the poolroom because it is located at the rear of a barber shop, and hidden from street view by a partition. The controversy was renewed at City Hall two weeks ago before the Licenses Committee. Alderman Temperley was the only member of the Board to oppose the granting of the license on Monday night. He explained that he is opposed to any poolroom being conducted in conjunction with a barber shop as he believes the two activities should not be conducted at the same location.

MAJORITY FAVOR THE PROPOSAL

Lack Necessary Two-Thirds As Nine Opposing Votes Block Approval; McCabe Files Motion For Reconsideration

After one of the longest debates held by a Newton Board of Aldermen in open meeting for the past 10 years, the petition of Mildred Clark Sears and the Boston Safe Deposit Company seeking a permit to have the Clark estate on Claremont and Lomton sts., Newton used as a school home for girls under the direction of the Florence Crittenton Society, was rejected on Monday night. The Clark estate is in a single residence zone, and the use of it for the purpose desired, in accordance with the zoning ordinance, would require a favorable vote by two-thirds of the Aldermen. Twenty members of the Board were present at the meeting on Monday. The Claims & Rules Committee, which considered the petition, had voted 5 to 2 in favor of granting the permit; those in favor being Aldermen Bacon, Everts, Hutchinson, McCabe and Walker; Chairman Rawson and Alderman Inches voting in the negative.

The recommendation of the majority of the committee was not accepted on Monday night. Two-thirds of the Board would have to favor the motion to have it accepted. The vote was 10 in favor and nine opposed, with Alderman McCabe, one of those voting with the opposition, stating he would ask for reconsideration. On Tuesday McCabe filed the necessary notice which may bring the matter before the Board again at the next meeting, May 1st.

Alderman Hutchinson presented the majority report. He said that three factors had to be considered; the effect "Welcome House" would have on nearby real estate values, the record of the institution in its present location, and the character of its management; and the character of the sponsoring group. Hutchinson said that like other members of the Board, he had at first been opposed to granting the petition, but after visiting "Welcome House" at Jamaica Plain, he had realized that it is an educational institution, similar to Misses Allen's School at West Newton, or Lasell Junior College at Auburndale, and these two schools are not detrimental to the city. He believed that "Welcome House" would contribute toward maintaining the present character of the neighborhood where it would be located, whereas a subdivision of the Clark estate, with resultant real estate development would be an unknown quantity.

Alderman Rawson, reporting for the minority, said that very serious issues are connected with the petition. Quoting the directory of Social Agencies he told of the circumstances under which girls are admitted to "Welcome House." He said there was no wish on his part to detract from the good work done by this noble institution, and while mindful of this solicitude for the underprivileged, it is the duty of the Aldermen as trustees of the City of Newton to keep it the kind of place it is, and "Welcome House" would change the character of the neighborhood where it would be located. Rawson said that he had talked with a bank treasurer who had stated that real estate values in the section would be lowered if the institution came there, and Chairman Murphy of the Newton Board of As-

A WISE PROVISION

Although a majority of the Board of Aldermen favored the granting of a petition for the use of the Clark property as a school-home for girls, the application was denied when less than two-thirds of the members supported it. Both the pros and cons produced numerous arguments in support of their attitude and there is little doubt that there is a great deal of merit on both sides, making the decision a most difficult one. It is in just such cases as these that the wisdom of a two-thirds rule is exemplified. Almost every matter is of great importance to the person or persons directly concerned and a majority vote is sufficient where the questions involved are not of widespread interest. In the adoption of our zoning ordinance it was, we believe, wisely provided that proposed changes would require a two-thirds vote of the legislative branch of our municipal government. And we believe that there are few who would disagree with the viewpoint that should two-thirds of this body deem any particular change wise that this greater unanimity of opinion is highly desirable. It is the greatest protection that any community can have.

Letters To The Editor

BOSTON ELEVATED

Editor of the Graphic:

Within the past week many residents of Newton have received questionnaires from the Boston Elevated Railway which the president of that organization would like to have answered immediately and mailed to him. So far as I can recall this is the first time in its history that the "Elevated" has requested the public to express its opinion regarding the service given by the company. To my way of thinking the questionnaire is an admission that the railway is in doubt as to recent inauguration of one-man-car service on the Newton-Water-town line. It is to be expected that the company states in an accompanying letter that their service is far better under the one-man-car plan than it was when two men were on each car. To say otherwise would be too frank an admission that a blunder had been made when the extra men were taken from the cars, and such an admission would never do!

This opportunity to tell the Elevated officials just what we think is too good to pass over. Everybody who lives in the Newtons should make it his (or her) duty to write the "Elevated" regardless of whether a questionnaire has been received or not. Evidently the company is sincere in its desire to learn just what the public thinks upon the subject of one-man-car service. We who have tried to use the street car service since one-man-cars have been put on the Newton line know exactly how un-

Sunbeam Chats

Last week I told you about whooping cough, now I'll tell you about measles. I can't have any shots for that either and the District Nurse says it kills more little children than any of these other children's diseases 'cause lots of children get pneumonia and ear trouble and other things. Gee, I bet a lot of mothers don't know that. "Just a cold" is sometimes the measles and you get red all over after awhile—so be careful.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

"Welcome House" Loses In Fight To Locate at Clark Estate on Claremont St.

seers also made the same statement.

Alderman Rawson asserted that a bigger issue than real estate values was involved in this matter—that of protecting the zoning ordinance which has differentiated Newton from Chelsea, Everett, Somerville and other places. He argued that in protecting the single residence zones, which constitute 80 per cent of this city's area, Rawson called attention to the fact that in past years the Aldermen have religiously refused petitions which would let down the bars in single residence zones and only last year had turned down a petition for a nursery school at West Newton. He asked why do the Aldermen favor allowing "Welcome House" into a fine single residence district when five abutters have objected? Rawson said that thousands of persons have come to Newton to live because they believed they would be protected by its zoning ordinance, and if this petition is granted the heart will be taken out of the ordinance. Rawson warned that if the zoning ordinance will be in this regard and the bars let down, many residents will move from Newton to Weston, Wellesley and other restricted communities.

Alderman Colby of Ward 7 read a long, prepared statement in which he strongly opposed the granting of the petition. He quoted from the Newton zoning ordinance to show that reform schools shall not be permitted in single residence zones in this city, and while "Welcome House" is not a reform school in the legal interpretation, Colby asserted that the institution is really for the purpose of reforming young girls, as it is admitted that girls who have been brought before juvenile courts, are accepted as members of the groups who reside at Welcome House. Referring to the sub-division of large estate, he said, Colby said that the tendency for years has been toward small, modern homes. He stated that the protection of single residence zones in Newton is one of the most important functions devolving upon the Aldermen. He argued that "Welcome House" is not a Newton institution, does not serve Newton people, and would remove considerable assets from the city. There are a number of other large estates in the city for sale, or which will be soon for sale, and as they cannot be sold as private residences, if one institution is allowed to come into a single residence district, other institutions will follow by acquiring some of the other large estates. Colby argued that Newton has always been a city of homes, that millions have been spent by the city in recent years to set the stage for more homes here, and by granting this petition, Newton's future may be jeopardized. Mr. Colby said that the Clark estate lends itself admirably for sub-division, and to offset the fears of those who argue that it might be cut up into too small home lots, he called attention to the fact that the Aldermen contemplate approving of the recommendation of the Newton Planning Board, which will give that body authority to restrict undesirable, small home lots in Newton. The Ward 7 alderman said that a proper development of the Clark estate will bring a substantial tax income to the city, whereas a granting of the petition would mean the loss of all taxes on the property. Colby concluded by saying—

"Because I feel that the issue before us tonight involves a much larger question than the specific case involved, a matter which I believe is of great importance in the future development of the city; because the granting of the petition would set a precedent that would handicap this board in future cases of this general nature; because I feel that it would retard the development of this community as a single residence zone, and would be followed by an inevitable lowering of real estate values in the neighborhood, and because I feel that under proper control by the Planning Board the subdivision and rebuilding of this estate will be advantageous not only to the neighborhood but to the city, I shall vote to deny the petition."

Alderman McCabe favored the granting of the petition. He said that if he thought that "Welcome House" is a reform school, he would oppose it, but he had investigated it and found it is no such thing. He said the Clark estate is a beautiful spot and we should preserve it. He stated that while 5 of the abutters of the Clark estate oppose the petition, 8 favor it. McCabe said that neighbors of "Welcome House" at Jamaica Plain dislike to see it move from that location, and he favored the granting of the petition with a limited tenure, the renewal to be determined by the manner in which the institution will be conducted and its effect on the neighborhood.

Alderman Lockwood of Ward 7 read a lengthy statement telling of the activities of Welcome House, his explanation being quite similar to that made by Mrs. Chute, superintendent of the institution, at the previous meeting of the Aldermen. Lockwood argued that the sub-division of the Clark estate will bring in 15 or 16 homes and the cost of street improvements, and schooling for the children of people who will move into the section, may offset the taxes the city will receive.

Alderman Hoffman said he is astounded at the large number of members of the Board of Aldermen who put the finances of the city last when they consider matters. Newton has the highest per-capita cost of government in this State, many houses in the neighborhood of the Clark estate are in the hands of banks, the city will lose $1300 taxes by granting the petition, plus taxes which would come from the development of the property, and yet a majority of the Board favor the petition.

Alderman Hutchinson of Ward 3, who led the fight for "Welcome House" again took the floor to favor the granting of the petition. He told of hearing from abutters and neighbors who favor the petition, and he said that some who oppose it do so on the basis of prejudice. He quoted Walter Channing, a real estate expert, as saying that he doubted if "Welcome House" would deplete the values of nearby properties any more than a sub-division of the estate into small home lots will. Hutchinson said the persons opposing the "Welcome House" in Jamaica Plain did not know it is an institution; they thought it is just one family of rice, young girls. He said that the Florence Crittenton League, which sponsors this activity has high moral and financial backing, and is composed of people of brains and culture. He said that "Welcome House" is conducted on a high scale, but if the Clark estate will be sub-divisioned into 15 or 16 home lots, automobiles will arrive late at night in this neighborhood with parties singing and shouting noisy farewells, and there will be gangs of unsupervised children in the new development.

Hutchinson said that he would prefer to have "Welcome House" in his neighborhood on an adjoining large estate, rather than have the place cut up into house lots. Commenting on the charge that some of the girls at "Welcome House" had committed petty larcenies, Hutchinson said that he stood before the Board a self-confessed thief, and he challenged any man in the room to say that he had stolen anything. Hutchinson said that Alderman Inghes accepted the challenge, Hutchinson continued by saying that he had been running a reform school for his three children, and under different circumstances, the might have appeared in a juvenile court. Hutchinson argued that "Welcome House" is not a reform school but the same kind of a school as is the Florence Crittenton League, which was formerly a school at West Newton, or Lasell Junior College. Alderman Rawson objected to Alderman Hutchinson's comparison of Welcome House with Lasell, saying his daughter had attended Lasell, and he regarded it as a school of high character.

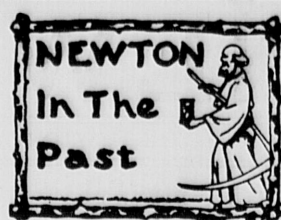

Alderman Inghes in opposing the petition read from the 1937 report of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, which was previously issued in 1938. This report states that the League takes pride in the work of Welcome House, and explains that it is protective and preventive rather than corrective. To report of the League states that unless the girls had been cared for in Welcome House, they might have become a burden or a menace to society. The report read that "the girls all come from broken homes, have poor school records, and most of them from the juvenile court. Some would otherwise have gone to a State or city institution." Inghes contended that this report proved that "Welcome House" is a reform school, and if the Aldermen vote to permit it to come into a single residence zone in Newton, there is enough emotional appeal, they will yield to similar petitions. Inghes said that the aldermen had just insisted on economy, passing the budget for 1939, had reduced the kindergarten age to lessen school expenses, had refused two-platons to the firemen, had refused small increases to clerks who have worked 8 or 10 years at City Hall and are getting only $16 or $17 a week salaries, and yet they propose to give an annuity of $1400 yearly in exemption to the Florence Crittenton League. He asked why should we give $1400 yearly to assist strangers when we refuse our own employees fair increases?

Alderman Tremley favored the petition. He said he was delighted in seeing the large estates which characterized Newton in the past, and which have most been cut up into house lots, and favored the retention of the Clark estate as an asset to the section where it is located.

Alderman Walk favored the petition. He said at his and other members of the Board had first thought that "Welcome House" was a reform school, but such a thought cannot be taken seriously. He said that if Welcome House is a reform school, so is every Sunday school and the Y. W. C. A. He argued that girls are not sent to by the courts, but go there voluntarily, and that he wants to see the beautiful Clark estate retained rather than have 16 small homes built on it. He said it is more important to the city than the matter of taxes.

Alderman Hugs said that he had come to the meeting with an open mind on the question, it had become convinced that Welcome House is a correctional school for girls. He had no criticism of its institution, but he believes it the duty of the aldermen to protect the zoning ordinance, and the theticians had not proved their case. Alderman Fahey asked Buildings Commissioner Campbell if fire escapes would not have to be built on a house because of the number of people living in it. Campbell replied in the negative. President Floyd remarked that fire escapes cannot be construed outside structural changes, but Commissioner Campbell disagreed with him.

Powers' Paragraphs

For the past 16 years the writer has attended every meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen, except four or five, and the meeting last Monday night brought back memories of years past when important questions coming before the Board were discussed and argued in open meeting, as they should be in conformity with a democratic form of government, and as Section 13 of the City Charter specifies. For the past several years in almost every case when an important matter came before the Aldermen, it has been discussed secretly in "a committee of the whole." It is to the advantage of the city and to the prestige of the Aldermen that the very important question of granting a permit to the Florence Crittenton League for the establishment of "Welcome House" on the Clark estate at Claremont and Lombard sts., Newton was thoroughly aired in the open.

The writer was born in Newton, has resided in this city for 50 years, served in the Newton Board of Aldermen for several years, and yields to no one in his love for Newton. Because of his occupation in newspaper work, he cannot help but being unusually well acquainted with what is going on in Newton. We refrained from heretofore making public in this column our view on the matter of allowing "Welcome House" to come to Newton, because it is a problem for which much could be said on either side, and because ordinarily we believe in allowing a neighborhood to settle its own affairs. Privately we had stated that were we a member of the present Board of Aldermen, we would have voted "No" on the petition to allow "Welcome House" at the Clark estate. Because we happen to be president of the Ward 1 Improvement Association, it was suggested that we write a letter objecting to the petition. We declined because nearly all the members of this association reside North of the B. & A. railroad tracks, the activities of the association have heretofore been concerned with matters in that section of the ward, and therefore in our opinion it would not have been good ethics for us, as president of the association to enter into the controversy affecting the other end of the ward.

Like Alderman Temperley, who favored the petition, the writer took pleasure in seeing the beautiful, large estates which adorned Newton in past years, and which have, for the most part, unfortunately been divided into sites for smaller houses. We believe it a pity to see a beautiful residence such as the Clark house destroyed, and the spacious grounds surrounding it cut up for small home sites. At our age, if we resided contiguous to the estate, we would prefer to have it used for "Welcome House," rather than see it razed, and the land around it subdivided. But, we do not blame property owners in that neighborhood, especially those with children for objecting. We agree with the contentions of Aldermen Rawson, Inghes, Colby and the other five members of the Board who took the stand that to grant the petition which would permit the establishment of "Welcome House" at the site desired would be a serious blow at the Newton zoning ordinance, and a breach of faith with people who purchased homes in a single residence zone with the belief that Newton Aldermen would protect the zoning ordinance. In our opinion it took more moral courage to vote "No" on this question than it did to vote "Yes" in view of the pressure brought to bear on members of the Board of Aldermen by many persons of influence. It usually takes more courage to vote "No" than "Yes," when one is in the minority.

All fair-minded persons must admire the work which has been done by the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion. But we can't agree with Alderman Hutchinson in his comparison of "Welcome House" to the time-honored school of Misses Allen, or to Lasell Junior College, and we can't agree with Alderman Walker in comparing it to "every Sunday school or the Y. W. C. A." In 1937 the report of the Florence Crittenton League, quoted by Alderman Inghes, explicitly states the type of young girls who enter "Welcome House," and the purpose of that institution. And while "Welcome House" and its work are admirable, it is our belief that such an institution belongs not in a closely settled suburban neighborhood of high type; but at a location where it will have spacious grounds on all sides; not for the advantage of the neighborhood, alone, but also for the advantage of the girls who reside in the institution. Granting that the people who belong to the Florence Crittenton League are highly moral, possess culture and wealth, if the institution they

Useless Onlookers

No doubt a large number were surprised. I know I was, to learn that any male between 18 and 50, who may be watching the operations of firemen, can be called upon to render assistance in extinguishing a blaze. If he refuses he may be fined or sent to jail. The State Commissioner of Conservation recently raised the point, warning fishermen not to stand around gaping at forest fires unless they were prepared to assist in fighting them.

There isn't any doubt but fires in the rural districts and in the city get too large audiences. Those who come in their cars create a congestion that plays the mischief with the progress of the fire apparatus. The police and the firemen find it is getting worse. Whether application of the law referred to would help I am not prepared to say. There might be cases where a good fire-fighter might be drafted from the crowd. More likely there would be a crop of dumbbells who would make matters worse. Men and women, young and middle-aged, are invariably present and in the firemen's way when there is a blaze of any size right here in Newton. Compelling them to assist might discourage rubber-necking. I'd have the law made co-educational so the girls wouldn't miss anything.

"Where Did I Read That?"

We admit the charge that we are a nation of readers and take a secret pride in that fact. I wonder how readily we will confess that we frequently forget where we read this or that. So often you hear it said, "I read so-and-so the other day," as the speaker proceeds to enumerate some views which to him, at least, are of great importance. If you are feeling in a grouchy mood at the moment or would have some fun with him you have only to ask, "Where did you read that?" The chances are better than ten to one that you will upset him completely. I have seen many a thinker intensely embarrassed because he could not recall the newspaper or periodical which gave him the information.

In not a few instances an entire household will be turned topsy-turvy in a hunt for the morning or evening newspaper of the day before yesterday. Everybody will be cross-examined in an effort to trace the whereabouts of this eagerly-sought journal. The person in charge of gathering up the newspapers each day will have to answer for every move. Then there is a strong probability of a search through the rubbish pile. The hunt can extend most anywhere. If fruitless, there follows the telephoning to a friend or neighbor to see if they happen to have saved the paper of that date. All these things have occurred all too often to me so I am not poking fun at others and allowing myself to escape. We're all in it and, as far as I can see, the best thing is keep a copy of the paper, or clip the article. At any rate don't let people get anything on you.

Frankness in Politics

The optimists who believe it possible to attain governmental and political perfection may be shocked at the course pursued by a recent candidate for elective office in Dresden, Tennessee. I feel, however, they will agree he was both original and frank when he advertised, flatfootedly, "Help me to get off relief. Elect me tax assessor." I admire the man's sincerity, although I would not urge other relief recipients to follow his example, particularly not in Newton. As I understand it, there are going to be plenty of candidates in our coming city election.

More About Park Benches

The subject of park benches discussed two weeks ago in this column, has brought an interesting communication from a GRAPHIC reader in St. Petersburg, Florida. Mr. Frank H. Burt, one of our best known citizens who is held in high regard, wrote from his winter stopping-place:

"Your reference to sitting on benches suggested to me that perhaps you are not familiar with one of the greatest institutions of St. Petersburg, the green benches—source of comfort and rest to thousands and the birthplace of romances unnumbered. The best account of them I have seen is the enclosed sketch by 'Ernie' Pyle, who was here recently."

The clipping which accompanied Mr. Burt's letter to me revealed that Mr. Pyle, columnist, said in part:

"The green bench is to St. Petersburg what the flower lei is to Hawaii, the gondola to Venice, the rolling chair to Atlantic City, the sidewalk cafe to Paris."

"At the latest count there were 4,697 of these benches. About 1,200 are owned by the city and are in parks. The rest are owned by merchants and placed in front of their stores for the public."

"By 10 o'clock of a warm morning it's almost impossible to find a seat." Mr. Burt, always thoughtful, as those who know him will agree, also sent pictures of the crowds sunning themselves on the benches, together with a photograph of his St. Petersburg home.

Teeth and Tobacco

As one of those whose knowledge of dentistry has been largely obtained through personal experience and therefore decidedly limited, I wouldn't be at home at the convention of dentists to be held in Boston next week. I have had my own dental troubles and I have heard of others, including people who acquire a nice set of uppers or lowers and, finding them uncomfortable, stow them away in a bureau drawer or some such place for permanent and safe keeping. Still, there are brave souls who wear their false teeth in spite of whatever misadventure they entail. All sorts of devices have to be employed so that the teeth remain in place. I know a man who smokes cigars, almost constantly. "He has to, to keep his teeth up," a friend informed me.

Object To Garage At Newtonville

Persons residing near 719 Washington st., Newtonville again came to City Hall on Monday night to protest against a petition of Carl Mitchell for a permit to conduct an automobile repair shop at that address. Several times in past years owners of properties on Court and Washington sts. have come to City Hall to protest at hearings before the Board of Aldermen on petitions for garage repair shops and paint shops at this locus. The objectors in past years asserted that the repair shop formerly located at 719 Washington st. went in there under deception, and that the owner of the property had only obtained a permit for a garage.

Martin McMorro of 717 Washington st. again led the protestants. He reiterated the complaints he had made in former years about the garage having been operated until late hours at night, preventing him and his family from obtaining proper sleep, and driving tenants from his property. Mrs. Margaret Waters of 54 Court st. agreed with McMorro's complaints about the noise caused by the repair shop and said that all the neighbors are opposed to such use of the place. She said that Mitchell may sublet the property if he gets the permit. John M. Jones of 727 Washington st. called attention to the small area at the garage, and predicted that automobiles would be parked on Washington st. Others who objected were Martin Murphy of Court st. and John Dillon of 721 Washington st.

Charles C. Burke of 384 Newtonville ave., some distance from 719 Washington st., favored the granting of the permit to Mitchell. Burke said that Mitchell has for some years operated a repair shop at 791 Washington st. and has kept the place clean. He said that Mitchell would not work after 6 p. m. at the proposed new location, and that the place is in a business district. Martin McMorro spoke in rebuttal to tell the Aldermen that Burke resides some distance from the locus, and he contradicted Burke's statements by asserting that Mitchell works at his present shop until 11 o'clock some nights. McMorro said that the former occupants of the garage had been found guilty twice in the Newton court because of working too late nights, but had appealed and won out at the Superior Court, so he predicted that if another permit is granted at the place, the neighbors can have little hope for relief. The matter was referred to the Licenses Committee. The Licenses Committee reported adversely on the petition and it was given leave to withdraw.

Hints to Gardeners

by Gordon Morrison
Vegetable Expert
Ferry Seed Station

Know Your Varieties

A GOOD working knowledge of vegetable varieties is of great importance to the gardener. One man may have an excellent crop of tomatoes while the gardener on the plot next to him may have poor results—all because the former chose the right variety.

In northern sections, for instance, where seasons are very short, gardeners must be careful to choose an early variety of tomato so that fall frosts do not destroy a large percentage of the crop. The earliest of all varieties is Earliana. Bonny Best, however, is only a few days later and is somewhat better quality.

If the season is comparatively long, and if the gardener prefers a late-bearing tomato, Ponderosa and Beefsteak are the best varieties, especially if large, mild-flavored, almost seedless fruits are enjoyed. Size and location of the garden are also factors in choosing proper varieties. Where only a small plot near the house is available, varieties like Dwarf Stone and Dwarf Champion are best. They are somewhat tricky in form and need not be trained to stakes to conserve space. They give a good, medium-sized yield of smooth fruits of high quality.

Many persons in comparatively temperate climates prefer an all-purpose tomato. By all-purpose is meant a tomato as suitable for table and salads as for canning or making of juice or catsup. In this group are Bonny Best, Pritchard, Marglobe and Greater Baltimore, all red-meated, and Gulf State Market and Gloval, both pink-meated. Gloval, Marglobe, and Pritchard, moreover, are decidedly resistant to fusarium wilt and somewhat resistant to nailhead rust.

In selecting your tomato seed packets from the seed displays, check the variety name. See that you get a tomato variety with the characteristics you want. It may mean the difference between mediocre and superlative crops.

velopment. He told the Aldermen that in the past residents of Plymouth rd. have never received decent consideration from the Aldermen, either when they protested against the gravel pit nuisance, the tar plant nuisance, or regarding Puritan rd. He said that if the latter street is improved, it will be used by many automobiles as a short cut between Newton Highlands and West Newton. Mrs. Walker said that the resultant traffic with the steep grade and sharp curve on the road will endanger the lives of children in the neighborhood.

J. Edward Spike of Kingston rd. said that Plymouth rd. people were assured that houses in the Puritan rd. development would cost $10,000, but have been sold, including the land for $7000. He said that trucks going over Plymouth rd. have ruined that street, and he stated that Beethoven ave. is the most disgraceful dirt road in this city, and cannot be used. Until Beethoven ave. is improved, Spike said residents of Plymouth, Kingston and other roads in the neighborhood should oppose the improving of Puritan rd.

More Lottery Agents Arrested

peared in the Newton court last Friday, and the case was continued until April 21.

In the Newton court last Friday Judge Weston reversed a decision he had made the preceding week when he found John Badaracco of Roland st., Newton Highlands, guilty of promoting a lottery, and rescinded a $50 fine he had imposed at that time. Badaracco had been arrested the day preceding that on which he had been arrested for the alleged offence he was tried for by Judge Weston. His attorney, Thomas Donnelly, contended that when Badaracco was arrested the second time, he was merely paying off bets on lottery tickets he had been selling on the day of his first arrest, so his client was being doubly penalized. After studying cases cited by Donnelly, Judge Weston agreed the lawyer was correct.

In the Newton court yesterday Judge Mayberry fined Clarence Terrio of 29 Faxon st., Nonantum, $50 for promoting a lottery, and $50 for having lottery tickets in his possession. He fined Roland Blennerhassett of 9 Troy lane, Waban, $50 for promoting a lottery. Blennerhassett appealed. Patrolman Thomas McCormick was the complainant against the two men.

In an article appearing in last week's GRAPHIC, it was stated that the CHILD POPULARITY TEST, which is being conducted by the Paramount Theatre in conjunction with the J. ## Start New Tel. Building In May ories telephone calls can be routed swiftly to their correct destinations automatically through equipment that is almost human in its response to the desire of telephone users.

Behind the business office on the first floor of the new building there will be a central testing bureau where telephone men will assist in keeping more than 20,000 telephone lines in Newton in the proper condition for telephone service. Also in the rear of the first floor will be the office of the line assigners, who will determine what number shall be given to each new telephone and how its line shall enter and pass through the exchange.

On the second floor, above the business office, will be the operating room, where a force of operators will assist telephone users with Long Distance, emergency, information and other calls requiring the personal service of an operator. On the second floor also will be the rest room and a luncheon room for the operators, and the balance of the crossbar dial equipment.

The basement will comprise the cable vault, where the cables containing thousands of customers' wire lines will enter the building, the heating equipment, the power plant necessary to provide telephone service and the locker rooms for the men.

The building will have approximately 155 feet of frontage on Washington st., set back ten feet from the sidewalk, and will be 100 feet deep. It will be of reinforced concrete construction with brick facing and a portico probably will be of New England granite. The grounds will be properly landscaped so that architecturally the new building will be an attractive addition to the present buildings near the site, which is near Newtonville sq.

Newton Wins In Health Contest

On April 19 the United States Chamber of Commerce and American Public Health Association announced that Newton and Brookline, Massachusetts had won prizes in the 1938 annual health conservation contest. Newton won first prize in the main contest in the class which includes cities of between 50,000 and 100,000 population. In this contest awards of merit were given to Madison, Wisconsin; Greensboro, North Carolina; and Evanston, Illinois. In the special contest for tuberculosis and syphilis control, including cities of all sizes, Newton was tied with Hartford for first place. New Haven received an award of merit in this contest. Newton was third in this contest in 1937. Brookline received a special award for the excellence of its public health work.

The awards are made on the effectiveness of health work in a community, and do not mean that the winners are the very healthiest places in the country. Things taken into consideration are safe water supply, sewage disposal, infant and maternal deaths, tuberculosis and syphilis control; protection of child health, milk and other foods, and medical and dental service.

Revived After 25 Minutes In River

Robert T. Sproat, 56, formerly of Tremont st., Newton, and now residing at 142 Langley rd., Watertown, was miraculously resuscitated after having been immersed in 12 feet of water in the Charles River for 25 minutes yesterday morning. Mr. Sproat, for many years chauffeur for Charles A. Clarke of Newton, was driving a sedan along Soldiers Field rd., Allston, opposite Magazine Beach about 10:30 when another automobile cut in front of his car, causing him to lose control. Sproat's sedan swerved off the road, down a steep embankment, and came to a stop 8 feet from the shore, completely submerged.

Arthur Varile of Waltham was following Sproat's car and notified Patrolman William Malcolm of Station 16, Brighton, who was checking automobiles a short distance up the road. Malcolm hastened to the scene, and diving into the river, unsuccessfully tried to get Sproat out of the car. A wrecking-car soon arrived at the scene and Malcolm attached a chain from the wrecking car to the bumper of the sunken sedan, but when tension was put on the chain, instead of dragging the automobile out of the river, it pulled one of the doors off the submerged sedan. Ladder 14 of Brighton arrived at the spot, and Fireman Thomas Maloney, after diving a few times, managed to pull Sproat from the sunken sedan. Maloney, exhausted by his efforts, and chill, was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Sproat had been under water for 25 minutes, when Patrolman Arthur Maguire of Station 14 began to apply the prone method of resuscitation on him. To Maguire's surprise, after a few minutes, Sproat started to show signs of life. He was placed in an ambulance and taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, with Patrolman Vincent Kennedy continuing the resuscitation effort. On the way to the hospital Sproat recovered consciousness and inquired what had happened. Upon arrival there his name was placed on the danger list. His wife and son had been notified and hastened to the hospital. It is expected that Mr. Sproat will recover.

Mr. Sproat was born in Newton, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sproat. He is a brother of Ex-Alderman William Sproat. As a boy he went to work in the Stanley Motor Carriage Company at Newton, and several years later became one of the first private chauffeurs in this county. He has travelled extensively in Europe and has been employed for many years by Mr. Clarke.

Complain About Cleansing Shop

The petition of Raymond Miller for a permit to build an addition to his cleansing shop at 14 Hawthorn st., Nonantum, was opposed at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night by Louise Manning of 15 Adams st., and Charles Scipione of Waltham st. Miss Manning said that she cannot sit on the piazza at her home or open her bedroom window because of the disagreeable odor from Miller's shop, which she stated is also a dyehouse. Charles Scipione said he owns two houses near Miller's shop and the place has been a nuisance in the past because of conditions there, and also trucks being driven over other persons' land. He said that if a larger shop is permitted, the nuisance will increase, and he called attention to the fact that the property is partly in a residence zone. Miller said that most of his property is in a business zone and that he is not responsible for those who drive trucks over the land referred to by Scipione.

It has been complained of in the past that waste fluids from the cleansing shop seep into the Hawthorn playground which is located across the street. The matter was referred to the Licenses Committee which reported favorably and the permit was granted.

Gets 6 Months For Assault on Girl

In the Newton court on Monday Judge Mayberry sentenced Richard Cassidy, 22, of 7 Newbury ter., Newton Center, to six months in Billerica prison when he found him guilty of assault and battery on Mabel Davis of 131 Danehill st., Newton Highlands. On the night of April 6 as the girl, a domestic, was walking home, she was accosted at Walnut and Beacon sts. by a man who kept alongside her, despite her protests, until she reached the corner of Walnut and Dedham sts., about 2 miles distant. There, her unwanted escort, grabbed her wrist and knocked her to the ground. Her screams aroused persons in nearby houses, and a woman in an adjoining house invited the girl to come in. Her assailant escaped, but from her description of him, Cassidy was arrested and identified by the girl. He appealed the sentence.

ARCHERS DEFY RAIN, HOLD TOURNAMENT

The feature of the annual Patriot's Day tournament of the Newton Archers at Newton Centre proved to be 15-year-old Bobby Goldich who finished second in the men's competition and won the Cummings Handicap Cup with a score of 89-559. Jim Waterman, Eastern Archery champion, finished first; but due to a membership restriction, he could not receive the Cup.

In the Columbia round for women Mrs. Mabel Schall won the Carzu Clark Cup, which was offered for members only, and placed second in the competition. Mrs. Mildred Johnston of Worcester finished first in the round with a 68-118 score.

Winner of the W. Seward Mariner Handicap Cup was Scott Doten in the Junior American round. His score of 85-562 exceeded that of Donald von Roosen who was second. Jim Waterman and Bobby Goldich finished first and second, respectively in the men's grand totals for the day; and Mrs. Mildred Johnston and Miss Thelma Phillips held the first two places in the Women's Grand Totals.

Heavy rains hampered accurate shooting, and the scores were lower than usual. Diverting from a long-standing policy, the archers held mixed competition for four range prizes to replace the former handicap awards.

Miss Thelma Phillips of Everett won the American round for ladies with a score of 68-322. With only a two-point lead, Mrs. Hazel Wilson of Newton placed second, and also finished third for the Grand Totals for the day.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, April 23.

The Golden Text is: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me" (Psalms 23: 4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. . . . But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you" (Romans 8: 5, 6, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death" (p. 487).

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting and election of officers of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held Friday morning, April 14. Opening the meeting at 11:30 o'clock, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president of the Club for the past three years, called for the reports of the officers and of chairmen of committees. Following the President's Report, which included a resume of the many philanthropies of the Club during her administration, a large arm-bouquet of spring flowers was presented to Mrs. Hitchcock. Each chairman was thanked personally by Mrs. Hitchcock, and presented with a pink rose by Mrs. E. Brigham Widger. The recommendation of the Executive Board that the legacy of $250.00 from the estate of the late Mary Elizabeth Bemis to the Newton Centre Woman's Club be applied to the permanent Jennie C. Harwood Scholarship Fund, was moved and carried unanimously.

The report of the Nominating committee was given by the chairman, Mrs. Thomas W. Cumner. The president, Mrs. Hitchcock, announced the election of officers as: President, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow; first vice-president, Mrs. Ralph E. Houghton; second vice-president, Mrs. Melville D. Loring; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry J. Ide; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Willis E. Pattison; treasurer, Mrs. Walter I. Muldoon; assistant treasurer, Mrs. John W. Duthie; auditor, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett; historian, Mrs. William E. Calling the newly-elected president to the platform, Mrs. Hitchcock presented the gavel, together with a message, to Mrs. Winslow. Exchanging gracious addresses, the retiring and incoming presidents made the transfer of office of the presidency. Mrs. Winslow then addressed the members of the Club, thanking them for electing her and asking for their continued support in the coming year.

Adjourning to the Recreation Room, the incoming and outgoing members of the Executive Board were seated at a long table in the center of the large room. During the luncheon Mrs. Winslow presented Miss Jane Hutchison, president of the Junior Woman's Club. Mrs. Lincoln Alvord, chairman of the Education committee, introduced Miss Barbara Beyer, winner of the Newton Centre Woman's Club Scholarship Award for 1939, as the outstanding senior girl member of the graduating class of the Newton High School, and she was given a scholarship of $400.00.

Following the custom of many years the ladies of The Baptist Home and of the Stone Institute were guests of the Club for the afternoon entertainment.

Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, chairman of the Dramatic committee, was in charge of the program for the afternoon. "Famous Paintings of Women in Poetry," arranged, posed, and costumed by Ann Gorton Inman. Fire in W. Newton
Apartment Block

A fire in the apartment occupied by Patrick Gilroy at the Caroline Block, Washington st., West Newton, at 12:40 Monday morning, caused Gilroy and his wife, together with the family of Hugh McCusker, to make a hasty exit from the building. Mrs. Gilroy and her husband, who live on the second floor, were awakened by smoke, and found their kitchen ablaze. They awakened the McCuskers who live on the third floor of the building, and the latter, with their five children, hurriedly left their apartment. The fire was confined to the kitchen where it started.

Cars Parked In Yards Looted

Joseph Pass of Brighton reported to Newton police last Friday that four tires had been stolen off his car while it was parked in a yard behind 560 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre. Addie Schwamb of 15 Richardson st., Newton reported that someone has been draining gasoline from the tank on her car several times recently while it was parked in the yard at her home.

Edward Donosky, owner of a market at 79 Waltham st., West Newton, complained to the police last Friday that an early morning thief had stolen a case of milk and several bottles of cream from the doorway at his store. A similar theft occurred a few days previously.

Cyril Forbush of Church st., Newton, who recently started a nursery on Washington st. opposite Beacon st., Lower Falls, may have to place a night watchman there. The other night some thief stole twenty peach trees off the nursery.

Cub Scouts Hold
Palava May 13

This year a total attendance of between twelve hundred and fifteen hundred is expected. This estimate is based on increased cub membership figures and the widespread interest among the younger boys and their families which is in evidence even at this early date.

Cub membership is open to boys between the ages of nine and twelve. Cubbing activities are carried on by neighborhood groups known as Dens under parental co-operation. All of the Dens in one district are combined to form a Pack. There are now fourteen packs in Norumbega Council and the work is co-ordinated and directed by an advisory council which includes twenty-eight men who are parents of scout cubs and who are active officials in local pack organizations.

There has been a remarkable growth in the number of local packs, one new group having been installed in the Oak Hill district in Newton Centre within the past few months and installation ceremonies for two new packs in Wellesley are scheduled shortly, one being on the 26th and the other being on the 28th of this month.

Cubbing in Newton and Wellesley is under the leadership of Representative Douglas B. Francis of Newton Centre, Commissioner of Cubbing in Norumbega Council. Philip C. Shute of Auburndale is Deputy Commissioner. Norumbega is one of the oldest and largest Boy Scout organizations in existence, its leadership being watched by scout organizations throughout the nation.

Members of the Outdoor Palava Committee, headed by Henry S. C. Cummings, Chairman, include: William V. M. Fawcett, Council Scout Commissioner, and Past President of Norumbega Council, and William T. Cass of Newton; John C. Duff and Harold H. Claffin of West Newton; John H. H. Turner of Auburndale; Carter H. Hoyt, Wm. H. Mansfield and Carroll F. Hoffman of Newton Centre; Harold Banks of Newton Highlands; William M. Dunkle of Waban; Orville O. Clapper of Wellesley Hills and Russell M. Sanders of Wellesley Hills.

that might later transpire" in connection with the controversy over the sergeant-mechanic. Sergeant-Mechanic Cullen was appointed to the department on May 7, 1914, and had the rating of patrolman. In 1929 the office of sergeant-mechanic was created and Cullen was given a preferred appointment to it because of special qualifications.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

cordian selections included all the old familiar popular airs, in which the audience joined in song. One of the special features at this time was a song written by Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, one of the founders of the Club, which was sung by the seven past presidents who were present, Mrs. Henry A. Wentworth, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. George Nudd Hibbard, Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, and Mrs. Edward B. Gray. Later another song was sung by the Charter members, and the last number was one also written by Mrs. Lane in which the entire Club joined.

The decorations, which were silver and white, had been arranged by members of the Art committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. William M. Flye, and of members of the Garden Club headed by Mrs. John F. Brown, Jr.

Mrs. Herman Krueger was responsible for the afternoon's program which was a skit she had written called "Alice in Memoryland", in which the retiring president, Mrs. James Dunlop (Alice to those who know her well), acted as hostess to the past presidents or their substitutes. She was aided by two of the Junior members, Miss Annetta Couchman and Miss June Krueger. The first guest, Miss Louise Peloubet, daughter of one of the founders of the Club, told of the events leading up to its organization. The story was then continued by the guests in order of their terms of office, including Mrs. Guy M. Winslow for Mrs. Charles A. Brown; Mrs. Henry A. Wentworth; Mrs. Arthur W. Lane; Mrs. George A. Bacon in place of Mrs. Henry S. Dawson; Mrs. Frank O'Brien substituting for the late Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick; Mrs. Arthur L. Shaw for Mrs. Henry H. Longfellow; Mrs. Stephen E. Wright; Mrs. George Nudd Hibbard; Mrs. Alfred L. Billings in place of Mrs. Charles C. Willson; Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger; Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, and Mrs. Edward B. Gray. Mrs. James Dunlop, having brought the Club to the present time, the author, Mrs. Krueger, in cap and gown to typify an ageless person, told of the future of the Club.

As the participants had been clothed in hats and gowns of the period which they represented much amusement was occasioned by their appearance.

During the business session, over which Mrs. Dunlop presided, there were the usual annual reports and the election of officers. These are: President, Mrs. Austin W. Fisher; first vice-president, Mrs. Eldin V. Lynn; second vice-president, Mrs. Herman Krueger; recording secretary, Mrs. Franklin K. Hoyt; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gwyn M. Hughes; and treasurer, Miss Anne E. Bunker.

As the new president, Mrs. Fisher, had been called to California by the illness of her father, Mrs. Lynn received the gavel for her and read a letter from Mrs. Fisher sending her greeting to the Club.

Waban Woman's Club

At the Annual Meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, April 17, the following officers were returned to office for a second term: Mrs. Ernest A. Hale, president; Mrs. Jerome J. Shuman, first vice-president; Mrs. Arthur W. Davis, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles S. Hoyt, recording secretary; and Mrs. William B. Plumer, corresponding secretary. New officers elected were Mrs. Ralph J. Evans, treasurer; Mrs. John M. Powell, assistant treasurer; Directors are Mrs. Roy A. McMullin, Mrs. Russell Burnett, and Mrs. Frederick C. Steglich.

Following a three-course luncheon, a one-act play, coached by Mrs. Howard Musgrave, was given. The play, entitled "The First Woman's Club," portrayed the first Woman's Club founded in America, in Jackson, Illinois, in 1833. Waban attics were ransacked for old costumes, which delighted the audience. The stage arranged in the period was carefully carried out in every detail by Mrs. Frederick E. Woodruff and Mrs. Kenneth S. Nugent. Antiques were lent by Waban residents.

The members of the cast were Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson, Mrs. Roy A. McMullin, Mrs. Charles S. Hoyt, Mrs. Jerome J. Shuman, Mrs. Harcourt Davis, Mrs. Frederick C. Steglich, Mrs. Arthur W. Davis, and Mrs. Earl Mark Dempsey.

of the members. Mrs. Arnold Barker is chairman of the supper. She will be assisted by Mrs. Roderic Blod, Mrs. Louise Carter, Mrs. Ralph Emery, Miss Virginia Gray, Mrs. W. D. Gillespie, Mrs. Florence Lucas, Mrs. George Palmer, Miss Charlotte Pettimoret, Mrs. Gilbert Ross, Miss Dorothy Taylor, Miss Betty Thompson, Miss Martha Weeden, and Miss Martha Wight.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

On Tuesday evening, April 25, the Newton Highlands Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, 1471 Centre st., at 8 o'clock. Plans for the Spring Flower Show, to be held in the middle of May, will be discussed. Mr. and Mrs. Percy I. Merry will give a talk on "Gladoli", illustrated with natural color movies. This will be the last regular meeting of the Club for the season, although there will be several garden pilgrimages during the spring and early summer.

Newton Community Club

Mr. Sidney N. Shurcliff gave a most interesting lecture before the Newton Community Club on April 13. A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the beautiful colored slides, and his descriptions of these pictures of "Colonial Williamsburg," before and after its "Restoration."

Tea and biscuits were served by the Social committee, Mrs. Wallace Wales, Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, and Mrs. G. Albert Aston were dressed in Colonial costumes and acted as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, announced a Food Sale, of which Mrs. George W. Wyman was chairman.

Mrs. Briggs urged all members to attend the Annual Meeting which is to be followed by a luncheon and operetta, especially as it was the Twentieth Birthday of the Club.

May 11, 12, and 13 are the dates for the Sale for the Blind, sponsored by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Newton Centre. May 13th is Newton Day, of which Mrs. Alfred H. Handley is to be chairman.

Interesting posters were displayed around the Auditorium, made by the children of the Underwood, Bigelow, and Ward Schools, illustrating various methods of Conservation in the city. They will be shown at Swampscott at the Annual Meeting of the State Federation.

This display was under the direction of the Conservation committee, of which Mrs. Donald V. Baker is chairman.

Mrs. John L. MacNeil spoke of the housing condition in Newton and asked the cooperation of all Club members for their improvement.

Mrs. Carleton L. Shaw reported a net receipt of $207.00 from the Rummage Sale.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A farewell party was given on Friday afternoon, April 14, to her Executive Board by the retiring president, Mrs. James Dunlop, at her home on Wolcott st.

Luncheon started the festivities, followed by Contract Bridge. During the afternoon an outfitted over-night bag was presented to the hostess by Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, who was spokesman for the Board. In her rhyme, she likened the president to the captain of a ship, and the Board to the crew.

There was much merriment when the prizes were awarded, as those having a high score had the privilege of taking away the prize of someone else. Only when the highest winner had chosen were they sure of what they had drawn.

Junior Girls to Hold Dance

Members of the Dance Committee are Antoinette Simone, chairman; and Louise DeMaio, Prena DeMaio, Alvia Vespa, Virginia Pignatelli is chairman of Tickets. The publicity work is under the guidance of Anne Federico, chairman; and Louise DeMaio and Ann Caruso.

At that time, the popular Boston radio station changes over to its summer broadcasting schedule. WCOP then will sign off evenings at 8 p. m., instead of at 6:30, as now is the case.

The Newton Graphic program will continue to be heard at the same time, 4:30 p. m., Sundays, based on news appearing in the latest issue of the paper. It is this paper's purpose to bring before WCOP's microphones, from time to time, civic and educational leaders of the community to address their fellow citizens.

They are asked to speak at the express invitation of the newspaper.

support were permitted to be established in a single residence zone in Newton, it would be difficult to refuse a permit to some other institution in a like neighborhood in Newton, an institution which might not be sponsored by persons possessing the culture and wealth which Alderman Hutchinson stated is behind the Florence Crittenton League.

And for the benefit of some citizens of Newton who are criticizing the Aldermen who voted to sustain our zoning ordinance, they should realize that the old generation which made Newton an outstanding residential community has nearly all passed on; that conditions have changed, the population of this city is rapidly changing, and it will be increasingly difficult in the future to guard Newton's zoning ordinance and preserve this city's attractiveness. The Aldermen who voted against permitting "Welcoming Homes" to come to Claremont st. are—in my opinion—just as idealistic as the majority who voted in favor, but they also possessed proper realism.

Mr. Kenneth Taylor, Legislative Agent for the Massachusetts Federation of Labor, is a very generous young man. He favors increasing the salaries of our legislators from $2000 to $4000. He also appeared at the State House this week when the hearing on abolishing four Teachers Colleges was held, and not only objected to this economy measure of Governor Saltonstall's, but advocated more Teachers Colleges. Young Mr. Taylor draws a nice salary representing labor. But, he is not properly representing the working class when he is combating efforts to reduce somewhat the terrific tax burden, which falls most heavily on those receiving small wages. If Kenneth were one of those of the actual working class who has been either without regular employment for years, or on relief, he would not be so generous.

Having taken the initiative in advocating that improved sidewalks be built in Newton as WPA projects on streets largely used by pedestrians, we take pleasure in announcing that we have been informed by Harold Young, WPA Sponsors Agent for Newton, that next week work will start on the construction of an improved sidewalk along Adams st., and sidewalks on other streets will follow.

It would probably seem odd to you buy not only a regular ticket to your self but also one for your dog. People in England do just that. In fact, British railways encourage the transportation of dogs on passenger trains. I have before me a newspaper advertisement which states, "When going on a holiday, take your dog with you."

Usually the fare for the dog is about one-fifth of the regular passenger rate. Special facilities for their convenience are provided. At different stops along the way station agents furnish drinking water for the animals. The advertisement states however that not more than three dogs can accompany one passenger.

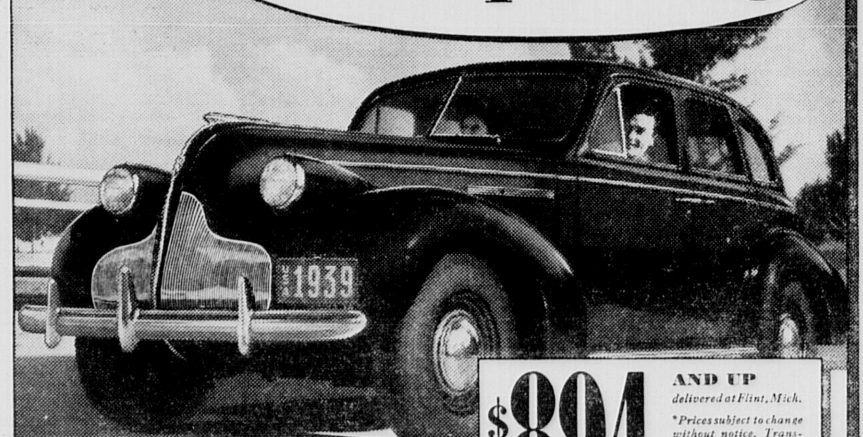

The coming of spring and warmer weather brings out more automobiles on the highways and these in turn mean that more dogs will be run over and killed. Automobiles take a tremendous toll of canine lives each year.

THERE are a lot of things about this Buick any wide-awake-to-value buyer ought to know, but one especially important point is this: Many an item you'll pay extra for elsewhere is included in Buick's eye-opening prices!

No other car, for instance, gives you the Flash-Way direction signal for signaling turns by a mere touch of a switch.

Few have locks on both front doors—or a light in the luggage compartment—or automatic electric lighters in the dash—or ash receivers as numerous and as handy.

And where else may you have your choice of wide running boards or narrow—or get a gas-saving economy gear just for the asking?

No other car, of course, gives you the extra silkiness of the Dynaflex valve-in-head straight-eight engine—none has quite the comfort of the Buick "full float" ride.

Naturally, it's the smart white-tie look of this Buick, its agile stepping and wide-paned outlook that are causing most of the talk.

But look into the good news about "extras"—and you'd spot this honey as the car and the value of the year even without its beauty and its brilliance!

So why not ask your dealer now to quote current prices? They're lower than a year ago, lower than you'd expect, lower even than on some sixes!

Kindergarten Entrance Age Raised Three Months By Newton School Board

Children Must Now Be 4 Years, 9 Months; Claim Action Motivated For Reasons Other Than Economy

The entrance age for children in kindergartens of the Newton public schools will be four years and nine months in the future, instead of four years and six months as in the past. This change was voted by the Newton School Committee at its meeting on Monday night. Recently the Board of Aldermen in considering the budget, recommended that the entrance age to kindergartens be raised to 5 years, and estimated that $20,000 annually would be saved as a result. Kindergartens are not required to be operated by law, and some communities do not have them. At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night, it was emphasized that the action of the school board in raising the age was not motivated because of economy, but rather because over a period of years this change has been considered for the following reasons—

1. Newton is equipped to furnish only one year of kindergarten training.
2. Children under six and one-half years of age are not ready for entrance to first grade, which is so largely concerned with teaching children how to read. Just placing children in kindergarten does not care for the prevention of later difficulties. The Newton schools are not prepared to care for the four-year old child who needs a program more nearly approaching that of the nursery school. Smaller numbers, a different type of equipment, additional teachers, would be needed if two years of kindergarten training were provided for.
3. With children entering at the age of 4 years 9 months, they will have greater maturity, which will lessen at the end of their kindergarten experience the need for pre-primary classes. At the present time, at an additional expense to the community, children who are too immature after their kindergarten experience to enter grade one, are cared for in pre-primary classes.
4. Experience has shown that children who enter grade one at five and one-half years or younger are often social and physical misfits in the elementary grades and later in junior and senior high schools. In fact, very young pupils, upon graduation from high school, often find themselves with a year or more of time on their hands because they are too young in the judgment of their parents and of the school to profit by attending college. Raising the kindergarten and first grade entrance age will lessen this type of problem considerably.

Newton Post, A. L. To Enter Junior Baseball League

First Newton Team To Compete; Meet To Organize At City Hall May 3

The American Legion Junior Baseball activities during the past twelve years have been made possible by the wholehearted cooperation of the American and National Leagues, and thousands of Legion Posts and Legionnaires who have given unselfishly of their time, energy and money. Over 500,000 boys took part in the Legion Junior Baseball program in the United States last year.

Newton Post No. 48 of the American Legion will cooperate in this program and will enter a team for the first time, this year.

Positions on the team are open to any Newton boy who has not reached his seventeenth birthday before January 1st, 1939. A boy living outside of Newton and attending a Newton School is also eligible provided his home town or city does not have an American Legion Junior Team. The team will be uniformed, and if they are able to win the State and Sectional championships, they will be sent to play in the Junior World series with all their expenses paid.

There will be a meeting of boys who are interested in trying out for this team in the Cafeteria of the Newton City Hall on Wednesday evening, May 3rd, at 8 p. m.

Citizens' Clean Up Campaign

During the month of May the Newton Chamber of Commerce will conduct a Citizens' Clean-Up Campaign. As a result of the hurricane, there are unusual conditions confronting the city. The chamber asks everyone to clean up unsightly spots, mosquito and fly breeding places, and to make Newton in fact, as well as in name, The Garden City. Real estate dealers can do their part by having property under their control cleaned up, and not to have 2 to 4 "For Sale" signs on properties, where one will do. Retail stores are asked to clean up the backs of their premises, and to freshen up their store signs. Everybody can help and if everybody does, a good job will result.

Appoint Carver Head of Chest Welfare, Relief

Aldermen Recommend Creation of Unpaid Board on Public Welfare

Harold P. Carver was appointed chairman of the Division of Welfare and Relief of the Newton Community Council succeeding Donald M. Hill who is now chairman of the council at a meeting of the division this week. Twenty-six delegates representing 13 civic organizations in the city are members of the division.

The recent report of the Special Committee of the Board of Aldermen on Newton's Relief Problem was discussed with special reference to its recommendation for the creation of an unpaid Board of Public Welfare. Mr. Carver stated that although the present director of welfare, Mr. Reynolds, is doing an excellent job, it was felt that his work would be aided by the proposed unpaid board of representative citizens. He, also, emphasized that such a board would greatly assist in bringing about greater cooperation between private and public social agencies.

M. John Barry made a report of progress for the division's committee on unemployment, chaired by Clarence G. McDavitt. The committee is at present taking a survey of unemployment in Newton and expects to present definite recommendations for action in a few months.

A preliminary report upon a Case Work Conference for Newton was made by Rev. John A. Sheridan. A committee made up of Mrs. Wm. V.

Rotarians Hear Dealers' View On Bargaining For Used Cars

Shrewd Tradeins Hurt Both Customer and Dealer, States Cahill At Luncheon

The old adage that you cannot get something for nothing holds in the Used Car field; and the customer who succeeds in driving too shrewd a bargain when he trades in a car is very likely putting himself to a disadvantage as great as that he forces upon the dealer. The saving he effects at the time is all too apt to be wiped out by subsequent difficulties. The recurring emphasis on this theme was perhaps the most important aspect of the talk given at the Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club by John J. Cahill, of the Newton Motor Sales.

Talking on the problem that used cars present to the dealers, Mr. Cahill gave several sidelights that the public might well know more about when buying either new or used cars. Usually the dealer has to size up the condition of a car without opportunity for a close inspection and his allowance is based partly upon his estimate of its condition, partly on current advertised prices for similar cars, and partly on tables of depreciation values. If the car is but a year or so old, he can estimate quite readily what it will cost to put it in salable condition; if it is three or more years old, the problem is greater and has to be shared by the ultimate purchaser. The compulsory insurance laws of the state work to the advantage of the public on very old cars.

because the insurance companies will not accept them for insurance without a careful test for safety and this is apt to involve so much trouble for the customer that he will prefer to pay a bit more and get the better—and safer—car.

Going outside the metropolitan area to purchase a car is not always as advantageous as expected. Lower overhead in rural communities may permit of somewhat lower prices and greater allowances but manufacturers now incorporate in the terms of sale under such conditions a standard commission which the rural dealer must pay to the dealer in the city where the purchaser maintains his legal residence. Behind this policy is the appreciation that the manufacturer himself is dependent upon the metropolitan dealer rather than upon the rural one for the backbone of his business. In the matter of purchasing a used car in the country, the buyer

Will Teach Typing In College Course

The Newton School Committee on Monday night voted to approve the recommendation of Supt. of Schools Warren that high school pupils taking the college preparatory course be given instruction in typewriting by paying a fee of $10 for fifty lessons. Heretofore such instruction in typewriting has been given only to pupils taking the commercial course. Twenty pupils will take the special course, which is estimated will cost the city $150 for the teacher's services, and $50 for depreciation of the machines used. School Committeeman Bryant objected to the proposal. He argued that the plan will not work out as proposed, and that the depreciation on the typewriting machines will cost much more than $50. When it was mentioned that a similar plan of

Bishop Francis J. Spellman Made Archbishop and Head Of New York Archdiocese

Archbishop Francis J. Spellman

NEWTON CENTRE PASTOR HONORED BY POPE

Had Served Newton Centre Parish Past Six Years; Prominent in Vatican Affairs

Bishop Francis J. Spellman, who since 1932 has been pastor of Sacred Heart Parish at Newton Centre, was named Archbishop of New York on Monday by Pope Pius XII. Since the death of Cardinal Hayes, former head of the New York archdiocese on September 4, 1938, it has been predicted that Bishop Spellman might be appointed to succeed him. Bishop Spellman, who was born at Whitman, Massachusetts on May 4, 1889, graduated from Whitman High School, and from St. John's (now Fordham) College in 1911. He was then selected by Cardinal O'Connell to attend the American College in Rome, and was ordained a priest by Cardinal Pompili in St. John Lateran basilica, Rome on May 14, 1916. The following day he celebrated his first mass in St. Peter's. Returning to this country he was assigned to All Saints Church, Roxbury as a curate. Two years later he was made diocesan director of literature and became associated with the "Boston Pilot." In 1922 he was made an assistant chancellor of the Boston archdiocese, and in 1926 he was recalled to Rome to become an assistant to the Papal Secretary of State.

During his service at the Vatican he became closely associated with the then Cardinal Pacelli, now Pope Pius XII. In 1926 Pope Pius XI made Father Spellman a monsignor, and in 1936 the Pope made him a chamberlain. In 1931 when the radio broadcasting station was established at the Vatican, Monsignor Spellman followed Pope Pius XI on the air, translating his message into English. On August 1, 1932, he was appointed auxiliary bishop of Boston, and upon coming to this country again was assigned by Cardinal O'Connell to be also pastor of Sacred Heart Church at Newton Centre. Bishop Spellman gained international fame in 1931 when he was selected by Pope Pius XI to carry an important encyclical from the Vatican to Paris, and translate it from the Latin text. The bishop's father, William Spellman, 80, resides in Whitman. He conducted a grocery business for many years. The bishop's mother died about a year ago. He has two brothers, both prominent Boston physicians, Dr. Martin Spellman, and Dr. John Spellman, and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Pegnam of Whitman and Mrs. George Garriety of Abington. Bishop Spellman expects to conclude his duties in the Boston archdiocese about May 14.

List of Eligibles For Fire Captain

Burke, 197 Cypress st., Newton Centre; John R. Marchant, 273 Lexington st., Auburndale. One of the first three on this list will be selected to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement last year of Captain Michael Turner, formerly of Ladder 2 and Engine 2.

Newton residents in all walks of life, of all creeds of belief, join in congratulating Bishop Spellman upon his call to the position of Archbishop of the New York Diocese. ## Newton Post, A. L. Annual Chow Night

Newton Post, American Legion, held its annual "Chow Night" at City Hall's cafeteria on Thursday night, April 20. Commander John B. Foley was toastmaster and the speakers included Governor Saltonstall, Lieut. Colonel Henry Comerals, Past Dept. Commander John Walsh of Waltham, and Daniel Shay of North Reading. Commander of Middlesex County A. L. Governor Saltonstall told of his efforts to give Massachusetts an honest government. He paid tribute to the Newton police department, and said he had not deemed it necessary to ask the State Police to guard his home, as some of his predecessors had done. The Governor promised to march with the Post in the Memorial Day parade in Newton on May 30, as he has done in past years. He is a charter member of Newton Post.

Dancing numbers were given by pupils of Jack Murphy, and Daniel Kerr sang. The committee in charge of the affair was headed by Senior Vice Commander Arthur Hunt. An attendance prize, a hand-made spread, contributed by Mrs. Frances Crosby, a member of the Post, was won by A. J. Rizza of Edgewood st., West Newton. About 200 were present.

Newton Camera Club Hears Talk on Photography, Films

At a recent meeting of the Camera Club for the Newtons, Mr. Edward Kelley of the Defender Photo Supply Co., Rochester, spoke to 22 members of the club on the subject "Cameras and the Films to Use."

An informal discussion followed the talk when Mr. Kelley answered questions concerning photography and the taking of pictures. The regular business meeting was held prior to the brief lecture.

The club will meet again on May 5 at the J. Danham Jones Studio. Arrangements have not as yet been made for a speaker on May 5, but definite plans will be announced next week.

Housecleaning time! My word! mother's turning everything inside out. I'm so excited; never knew there were so many things in our house. She has a big bag she puts things in for somebody or other to salvage, she calls it. I'll be glad when I can read the dictionary, folks use such big words when they don't have to. Anyhow it looks like junk to me and the house seems much cleaner without it. The District Nurse calls such things dust collectors and says dust helps germs to live, imagine that!

Hundreds of Boys Learn To Swim

This week the swimming pool at the Newton Y. M. C. A. has been continually occupied each morning and afternoon by large groups of small boys. The annual Community Swimming Campaign conducted under the auspices of Newton Y. M. C. A. has been on and 296 Newton and Watertown boys between the ages of 9 and 16 have been taking advantage of the opportunity to swim under the expert tutelage of Jack Manning, Mr. Manning, whose salary is paid by the Massachusetts Humane Society, is an outstanding teacher of swimming and was for many years associated with the Boston Athletic Association.

Each year, for one week, the Newton Y. M. C. A. donates its swimming pool to boys who cannot swim, and most of whom are not members of the "Y." Boys desiring to take advantage of the opportunity must fill out a card giving the name, address, age and school of the applicant, and containing the signed approval of his parent or guardian. Last Saturday the 300 or so applicants appeared at the Y. M. C. A. and were examined by a number of physicians from Newton and Watertown. On Monday of this week Jack Manning started his classes. Watertown boys attended the morning sessions, because the schools in that town have been closed this week; and the afternoon sessions were attended by the boys from Newton. The morning classes are from 9:30 to 11:30, and the afternoon sessions from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. The lessons are 30 minutes long, and each boy receives five lessons. A surprisingly large number learn to swim the length of the big pool in that short course of instruction, and receive a button from the Mass. Humane Society as a "diploma." The water in the pool is lowered about 2 1/2 feet before the week's lessons start, so that the safety of the young swimming students is assured. Incidentally, the hundreds of members of the Newton "Y" co-operate by relinquishing the use of the pool for the week.

This annual contribution by the Y. M. C. A. and the Mass. Humane Society has provided pleasure and safety for many hundreds of boys in Newton and Watertown who otherwise might not have learned to swim, or might have learned under hazardous circumstances.

Madame Ruth Turns Poetic In Novel Advertising Series

Poetry appearing in the Madame Ruth Beauty Salon advertisement each week on the Woman's Club page is worthy of merit as good literature. These poems are being written exclusively for this beauty salon, and will appear in the GRAPHIC for several weeks.

These 20 lines of verse portray weekly one of the many services offered at the Madame Ruth Beauty Salon with touches of humor and human interest.

For men they offer an equal attraction in that the poems amusingly depict what occurs during the process of hair beautification at Madame Ruth's.

M. Fawcett, Lyseom A. Bruce, Jr., and Father Sheridan have been studying organization of such conferences in Lynn and other cities. The purpose of Case Conferences is to provide opportunities for social service workers to discuss the best way of handling typical or difficult cases. The identity of cases is however always kept secret. The experience of many communities has proved that "Case Work Conferences" are most helpful in bringing about closer cooperation between social agencies.

The Division of Welfare and Relief will hold quarterly meetings throughout the year.

The horse cars resumed their trips between Newton and Boston, via Watertown and Cambridge, on Sunday, and are running on the old time, leaving Newton at 10 minutes before the hour and half-hour.

Worcester people are again talking about a narrow-gauge railroad, between that city and Boston with fares at the rate of 1 1/2 cents per mile, and are going to have a survey made this season. It is claimed that the road can be built for $1,000,000 and that capitalists are ready to back it. The projectors want owners of land to give the right of way, and the towns to advance money on first mortgage bonds.

In the common council on Monday a petition was received asking the Highway Committee to make a tunnel under the railroad at Newtonville. The highway surveyors were ordered to have the streets watered from May 1 to November 1 at a cost of $50 per Ward; the citizens to pay as much more, and the water to be supplied at half-rate.

The Boston & Albany railroad field a map and description of the Circuit Railroad with the Board of Aldermen on Monday. The road is 3.07 miles long, and almost a straight line from the Highlands to Riverside, with a curve at each end. The Highlands station is 75.8 feet above Riverside; there being a rise of 11 feet going West and 86.9 feet going East. The maximum grade is between Boylston and Chestnut sts. The cost is estimated as follows—land damages, $23,295; cutting and filling, $60,500; masonry, $52,014; iron bridges, $36,400; double tracks, $54,220.13; connections at Riverside and Highlands, $1000; fences, $2280; three stations, $10,000; signals, $3000; total estimate, $243,309.13; cost per mile, $86,420.37.

Councilman Richardson of Ward 6, William H. Mague of West Newton, and the driver of Engine 3 at Newton Centre had an amusing and exciting experience early this week. They were riding behind a new horse which Mr. Mague had brought from Canada and was trying to sell to the Fire Department. Near Mr. Bennett's house the horse bolted through a fence, behind which was a drop of 20 feet. Those in the wagon were surprised to see the horse drop out of sight, and they had a lively time for a few minutes. Fortunately only the fence was injured, and neither the horse nor the harness was the least injured. The fire department did not buy the animal.

Diphtheria has again made its appearance at Newton Upper Falls. The two children who died were Charles S. and James T. sons of John Durrall.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Kennedy introduced an order for the appointment of a Probation Officer with a salary of $50 per annum, to be paid from the police appropriation.

The Newton division will appear in the following order—Marshall, Miss Margaret Hatfield, on horseback; the Daniel Webster coach in which will ride Mrs. William L. Garrison, Jr., Mrs. Harvey E. Chase and Mrs. Samuel L. Powers in the Colonial costumes of the first suffragists in America. This old coach is now the property of R. E. Simon of Weymouth.

The marchers follow, carrying yellow pennants and wearing yellow robes. Automobiles are needed for those unable to undertake the whole march. Will anyone willing to offer his machine kindly telephone Miss Small, Newton South 589-M.

Powers' Paragraphs

Last week Herbert Hoover, the statesman, Dorothy Thompson, the oracle, and Helen Hayes, the actress, appeared before a Congressional committee at Washington and pleaded that our immigration laws be modified so that in addition to the regular quota, 20,000 refugee children from Germany will be admitted to this country this year. We assume that Herbert, Dorothy and Helen must know that each year, for the past 10 years, hundreds of thousands of boys and girls in this country have graduated from schools, and have been unable to obtain employment. A large percentage have had to depend on public relief. Why not devote your solicitude, Mr. Hoover, "Miss" Thompson and "Miss" Hayes to the children of this country? "Charity begins at home."

A couple of months ago the head of a Taxpayers' Association recommended that Lieut. Governor Cahill forego the State owned automobile he uses, and the services of a sergeant of the State Police, who is his official chauffeur at a salary of about $2800 per annum. It can be reasonably argued now, as it was during democratic administrations, that there is no need of this official car and chauffeur for the Lieutenant Governor. It has been only in recent years that this added expense has been placed on the people of Massachusetts, and Mr. Cahill was orating during the campaign last year, asking the people to elect him, so he could assist in giving this State a more economical government.

Our attention has been again called to the State owned and maintained automobile which is used by the Lieutenant Governor, because last week the newspapers gave the information that two suits, totalling $7000 had been entered this week in the Newton district court against Sergeant Crozier, Cahill's State Police chauffeur, by two Newton residents. The claimants allege that they received injuries on February 21 when Cahill's State owned and maintained automobile (S2), crashed into their automobile on the Worcester turnpike in Wellesley. Official automobile "S1" received too much notoriety during Governor Curley's regime. If official automobile S2 is dispensed with, there will be one less State car to become involved in accidents.

For the past six weeks or so there has been a crusade going on in Newton against persons engaged in the

Welcome, Queen of the May

The entrance of the Queen of the May in Newton next Monday would be much more effective if our gardens had received more of Nature's beauty treatment in the past few weeks. At least that is the opinion I have arrived at in discussing the situation with those who are most vitally interested and should know. Even if the May Queen is cloaked with invisibility all true gardeners, and those of us who admire their energies and accomplishments from the sidelines, feel her presence and wish for an appropriate horticultural background.

Gardens, like people, must have attained a reasonable amount of vitality before placing themselves in the hands of beauticians. The spring's backwardness might be offset by large quantities of vitamin A or any good tonic to which growing things would respond with vigor. Meanwhile Newton's gardens, I am confident, will present their customary charm as the result of the half-dozen facial massage and similar embellishments now in progress.

Extravagant Wording
"This way to the big show" is the clarion call of the circus. Another path to which it summons is that of an enriched vocabulary. We are reminded annually there are many high-falutin' phrases that are perfectly sound and genuine yet we seldom use them ourselves. Talk about 25-cent words. Some of them are worth a dollar, if they're worth anything. It takes courage, and publicity men have plenty, to drag out gigantic adjectives. Gorgeous, bewildering, dazzling, beautiful, mammoth, mightiest—there are really too many to enumerate.

The circus seems to have gathered them all to itself. Yet they belong to everybody. Maybe nobody else finds them handy or are afraid. There must be an excellent reason for letting them stay where they belong in the dictionary. Suppose a young man addresses his sweetheart, thus: "The incomparable fridescence of the rainbow, the challenging charm of which inspires paeans of praise from an enraptured multitude, pales into a dim and colorless void when contrasted with exquisite, enchanting and overwhelming brilliancy of your own pulchritude." What would she say?

It's All Right, But—

It's good to see the boys and some girls at marbles again. The sight almost inspires me to dash off some verses. It must be the spring feeling which we blame for a lot of things worse than poetry. What I started to say was that I like to see the youngsters squatting down and shooting their marbles. Sometimes I wish they wouldn't pick out the sidewalk, at least not the one I am using. Don't put me down as a grouch but when you're stepping along at a pretty good sale of lottery tickets of the nigger-pool and horse-race variety, and some righteous persons may think that the city is being purged of a major evil. Personally, the writer does not endorse much over the "crusade" against gambling. When such an extremely pernicious type of gambling as the pari-mutuel system is legally permitted in this State, a form of gambling where the "suckers" can lose a minimum of $2 on eight or more races and a daily-double, day after day, or night after night, why pick on the "small fry" who deal in 5 and 10-cent bets? We don't know of anyone who committed suicide, embezzled public funds, or stole private funds, by betting on "nigger pool," but we do know of numerous such cases caused by big money losses at the race track gambling plants. And we also know that some of the people who have been continually knocking small-time gambling in Newton, gamble themselves, either at bridge, poker, the horse and dog tracks, or the stock market. The urge to gamble is possessed by a large percentage of humans, both men and women, always has been and will be. The writer does not possess this urge, not because he is righteous, but simply because he never got a thrill out of gambling. We have played three or four games of poker during our life, bought a nigger-pool ticket once, and have never been at a race track where pari-mutuel betting is conducted.

We do take a ticket a few times each year on the Irish sweepstakes and play a dozen games of "45" at 5 cents a game, once a week or less often. So, we can't be accused of having any personal grievance because some members of the Newton police force have been obtaining publicity because of their activities in arresting some who have kept off the welfare lists by making a few dollars selling lottery tickets.

The arrests of local small fry gamblers won't stop this business in Newton, or elsewhere. Outsiders will come in and get the local trade. Why swallow camels and strain at gnats?

We shall be criticized for condoning something which is illegal. Such criticism on the part of sincere persons who conscientiously try to obey all laws is merited. Such criticism by persons who profess to be "nice," who pose as being quite law-abiding and socially proper, but who satisfy their own gambling urge by indulging in legal or socially accepted forms of gambling that involve the waging of

Those Missing Dishes

If a man admits his interest in the science of cooking (alias cooking) it must not be assumed that his tastes are over-domestic or his eagerness for food too intensive to be normal. In no way is he to be blamed, for in about everything that is printed daily and monthly for popular reading there is not only news of the day, fiction and other valuable writings but plenty of information as to the preparation of food. It is not that I have any objection to offer as believe this sort of knowledge cannot be too widely disseminated. With no pretense of culinary skill I like to look at the illustrations of marvelous dishes, hoping that if they do not come my way that I may by some fortunate circumstance be led to them.

Casual study of what eminent authorities say, has convinced me that they do not pay sufficient attention to broken china and glass. Pictures of these stately examples of fine tableware when completely intact excite envy and make me wonder how can destruction of such slender articles be avoided. I know, of course, that it is impossible. What I would like to learn is what becomes of them. By that I mean how does the one responsible for damage cover it up? How do they smuggle the pieces out of the kitchen, pantry or dining room without attracting attention? I bet that many a housewife will acknowledge that the breakage in a year is considerable but that she really does not know that such-and-such had been broken until she starts to look for it. It may be that these things disappear because of some unexplained happening. More likely, though, the shattered fragments have been surreptitiously conveyed to the waste barrel. Keeping the news from the head of the house is an art. Scarcely it has developed without discussion or instruction in print. Some are more adept than others. I wish the experts would write on the subject as their theories and explanations would greatly interest me.

What Could Have Happened?

Scraps of conversation, overheard with complete innocence of inquisitiveness, frequently stimulate our imagination and arouse our curiosity. That, at least, was my experience as I waited for the Boston-bound train the other morning at the Newton station. One young man was standing on the platform when another, quite plainly his friend and, I suspect, his companion of the night before, hurried down the path. They gazed at each other for a moment and the first exclaimed, "You look terrible!" stressing the last word. Then he added, hastily, "How do I look?"

Hit By Cahill's State Owned Car, Sues for $7000

Cosmo Cicciariello of 23A Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, has entered a suit for $7000 against Sergeant Lawrence Crozier of the State Police and Peter Chesley of 680 Boylston st., Newton Centre has entered suit for $2000 against Crozier. The cases were supposed to have come up in the Newton court last Tuesday, but were not entered for that date. The plaintiffs allege that on February 21 Cicciariello's car ran out of gasoline on the Worcester turnpike in Wellesley, and that S2, the State owned car used by Lieutenant Governor Horace Cahill, and to which Crozier is assigned, as chauffeur, hit the rear of the stalled car, injuring Cicciariello and Chesley.

Oak Hill Imp. Asso. Annual Meeting

Over 100 residents of Oak Hill attended the annual meeting of the Oak Hill Improvement Association at the Oak Hill School on Monday night. Mrs. Lawrence Early of Parker st., read the secretary's report and Truman Brackett of Leewood rd. gave the treasurer's report. Lawrence Early reported for the Safety Committee and recommended that the association favor a 30 mile speed limit in this city except on the Worcester turnpike. The association, however, after a vote was taken on this matter, decided not to go on record as favoring this proposal.

Dr. H. B. Nelson suggested that the WPA be used to assist in eliminating the mosquito nuisance at Oak Hill and said the committee which was appointed to study this matter had conferred with the Board of Aldermen and other improvement associations.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, H. S. C. Cummings of Oak Hill st.; 1st Vice-President, Norman A. Hall; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Virginia Fawcett; Treasurer, Phillip Saunders; Secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Early, 524 Parker st.; Directors, Truman Brackett, John B. Stetson, Charles R. Davis, Dr. F. G. Balch, Jr., and Harold F. Tracy. Eugene Campbell, manager of the Newton office of the Telephone Company gave a brief talk on pictures showing the damage done by the hurricane of last September, which were shown.

For the past four years the Oak Hill Improvement Association has played an important part in the development of that community. It has been a factor in the building of a new school, new roads, sewers and sidewalks, the creation of a model business centre, and the elimination of heavy trucking from several streets.

Strike At Rose Mattress Factory

About 45 employees of the Rose-Derry Company went out on strike last Friday after demanding that a fellow employee who had been discharged, be reinstated. The employees recently joined a union of bedding workers affiliated with the A. F. of L. and they claim the discharged man lost his job because of his activity in organizing the union. Officials of the company, which manufactures mattresses and bedding, informed the strikers that no action could be taken because Edward Rose, head of the company was away on a trip and would not return until April 27.

The strikers returned to work on Tuesday after a conference with Edward Rose on Monday. Mr. Rose returning to meet the employees, and union officials. George Shea, president of the union, stated that the Rose-Derry Company agreed to recognize the union, to reinstate the employee who had been discharged, and to start negotiations with the union next week. Any disputed points will be referred to the State Board of Arbitration.

Sands-Welch School To Present Dance Recital May 6

A decided departure from the usual dance recital will be made in the program of the Sands-Welch School on Saturday evening, May 6, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

A French medieval farce of lusty comedy will be the sole entertainment for grown people, as "The Tulip Bed," a modern version of an English fairy tale, danced and played by children, is for children. We suspect, however, that moonlight shining on celophane costumed and winged tiny folk, and the winsome lines of this play will delight big folk as well.

Pigeon Boy, a ballet of Old China, has aroused great interest among the Chinese people of Boston. They are not only lending properties and costumes, but are guiding Mrs. Welch in the manners and traditions of China.

Three of the instructors of the school will dance in the unusual group of numbers included in Divertissements.

Among the one hundred appearing on the programme are Miss Harriet Dane, Mr. Donald Berry, Mr. Roy Wyeth, Ruth Randolph, Aldith Sutton, Virginia Tyler, Dorothy Mattson, Ruth Jean Enet, Bette Carder, Sue Railsback, Joyce Stearns, Joan Mitchell, Constance Mosher, Nancy Jane Blanchard, Patricia Dunham, Joan Kellar, Jane Bird, Norma Blinn, Ann Leonard, Ann Blaisdell, Fay Alwood, Others are Jean Mather, Constance Ford, Peggy Estaver, Marcia Jenks, Nancy Lord, Nancy Pennypacker, Mary El-dredge, Alice Vincent, Joan Salisbury, and Helen-Bird Loring.

The patronesses are Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Mrs. Montague Ford, Mrs. Donald Eldredge, Mrs. Grace Dunham, Mrs. Harry Sutton, Mrs. Arthur Pearson, Mrs. Albert Carpenter, Mrs. George Harrison and Mrs. Karl Stearns.

American Republic Line Cruises to South America

The 38 days' cruises to South America, which are being conducted by the American Republic Line, under the direction of Moore-McCormack Lines, Inc., have, in the short time since they were started, won great praise from experienced travellers. The cruises, which were started last year, were made possible through the acquisition by the Moore-McCormack Lines of the palatial steamships, California, Pennsylvania and Virginia, formerly of the Panama-Pacific Line. These huge boats were reconditioned at a cost of several millions of dollars, and renamed the Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina.

They were assigned to a new line, named the American Republic Line, which has the United States government, and is characterized as the "Good Neighbor Fleet." It is expected to promote more friendly relations with the republic of South America. This cruise to southern waters and South America has all that you look for in a cruise and much more besides. You are not bustling about to keep a fixed routine trade. If you find something ashore that interests you particularly and you wish to stop over to enjoy it your schedule can be arranged, usually at very nominal expense. A wide variety of changes and alterations are available and a sister ship is always following two weeks later.

Three luxurious ships provide a fortnightly cruise service calling at beautiful ports on the east coast of South America and at an island outpost of the British Empire.

These ships are built for cruising in Southern waters; they are fast, and the turbo-electric drive of their propellers has made them famous for steadiness and absence of vibration. Nowhere has anything been overlooked that may contribute to the passenger's comfort and well being.

The service is excellent. The crews are hand picked for experience, courtesy and efficiency. The finest available chefs prepare delicious meals which have gained the praise of travellers who appreciate good food. The line is justly proud that it is an American service offering all the excellence in seamanship, service, food, comfort and entertainment that this implies under capable management. These vessels comply with all the maritime laws and requirements of the United States, which are known to be the most comprehensive in the world.

Staterooms are completely equipped and tastefully decorated and have comfortable beds. All rooms are outside and fresh air is constantly circulated by controlled ventilation.

For the convenience of ladies aboard, each ship has a complete Dorothy Gray Beauty Salon with the usual highly skilled operators. There is also a fully equipped gymnasium with an experienced trainer in attendance.

The decks are extraordinarily roomy—there are literally acres of them—round the length and breadth of the ship.

Passenger lists in such a cruise are interesting and varied, for unlike most cruises, these ships are used by travellers of two continents voyaging in the interests of their countries' diplomacy and commerce or for the exchange of culture and ideas.

The increasing tide of mutual interest between the Americas will make the next decade the most important in the history of the Western Hemisphere. Could there be a more timely moment for you to depart from the ordinary channels of travel for something new placed within easy reach by the ships of the Good Neighbor Fleet?

The ships leave New York on a Saturday, arrive at the Barbados on the fourth day, and on the 12th day reach Rio de Janeiro where two full days are allowed. Another day's cruise and Santos, Brazil is visited with a full day's stay at this large city. On the 17th day there is a stop at Montevideo, Uruguay, and on the 18th day Buenos Aires is reached. After three days in this wonderful city, the return trip North starts. Two more days at Santos, a day at Rio de Janeiro are afforded, and also an afternoon and night at Port of Spain, Trinidad. First cabin fares from March 1 to May 31 and from August 15 to January 10 are as low as $480. Full season fares, from January 11 to February 28, and from June 1 to August 14, are from $550 up. Complete details and reservations may be obtained from the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave., Newton. Phone Newton North 4501.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, April 30.

The Golden Text is: "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?" (Genesis 18:25).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty: . . . He shall deliver thee in six troubles; yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee" (Job 5:17, 19).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth." He, who knows God's will or the demands of divine Science and obeys them, incurs the hostility of envy; and he who refuses obedience to God, is chastened by Love. . . . Divine Love corrects and governs man. . . . Calling on Him to forgive our work badly done or left undone, implies the vain supposition that we have nothing to do but to ask pardon, and that afterwards we shall be free to repeat the offence. . . . Every supposed pleasure in sin will furnish more than its equivalent of pain, until belief in material life and sin is destroyed" (pp. 241, 6).

STUDIES RECENTLY made in eighteen of the country's leading Cadillac-LaSalle retail outlets reveal that almost half the people who go for a demonstration in a new LaSalle actually buy a LaSalle. Why? Because of LaSalle's sensational performance. Its Cadillac-built engine is so smooth and quiet and powerful that it makes all others seem commonplace. It's easy to test this. Go for a ride yourself. A half hour will show you why LaSalle's the leader in the medium-price field.

Hints to Gardeners

by Gordon Morrison
Vegetable Expert
Ferry Seed Station

Tips in Brief

YOU need not delay planting just because soil seems too dry to promote germination. After forming the trench in which seeds are to be placed, pour into it about two gallons of water to every 10 feet. Place seeds on the moist bed and cover lightly with soil. Don't be in too big a hurry to get your garden started. In planting these weeks before your neighbor may get crops three weeks later than he does, because the cool weather of spring can set back plants severely. Plants thus damaged are spending their energies recovering from cold-weather shock while those planted later are beginning to mature.

For house bouquets of petunia of greatest beauty, pick petunias in the bud. This protects the opening blossoms from damage from insects, wind, rain and dust. When the blossoms open slowly in the quiet coolness of the house, they are as beautiful as nature can make them.

Handle Heavenly Blue morning glories similarly. Pick those with long stems and some leaves, arrange in a vase and set in a cool, dark place in your house. Usually they will open in 6 to 12 hours; and you will find them far more lovely than the wind-blown blossoms out-of-doors. They will last from 3 to 10 hours, depending upon the light and temperature in your house.

At summer's end, do not throw away dead tomato vines. Use them as a mulch for perennial flowers, for they are far superior to some other materials often used for mulching. Vines do not pack as leaves and straw do. Air and light can penetrate them and snow can sift through, forming an effective seal after the first snow. Just as with other mulches, the vines should not be laid until after the ground has frozen.

Fined $100 On Gambling Charges

James Dezottell of Galen st., Watertown, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday for promoting a lottery, and $50 for assaulting Inspector Alfred Hammell. He appealed. On April 14 Hammell entered a beer cafe at Newton Corner and grabbed Dezottell. Hammell testified that Dezottell resisted him, and that he also threw some lottery tickets onto the floor, and that the tips were grabbed by another man who disappeared. Dezottell contradicted Hammell, and said the alleged lottery slips were actually orders for furniture sales, which he produced. The testimony showed that after Hammell had seized Dezottell and placed an "iron claw" on the latter's wrist, he released his prisoner when James Atkins, an attorney, appeared on the scene and asserted that Hammell had no authority to have arrested Dezottell under the circumstances. Hammell, after releasing Dezottell, obtained a warrant for the latter's arrest, and Dezottell later went to police headquarters and surrendered.

May Festival Features Artists and Entertainment of Unusual Merit

Gathered together for a real "old time" May Festival, the Glee Club of the West Newton Community Service Club, under the direction of Marion Kingsbury, and with a notable group of talented artists, will present a Concert and May Pole Dance at its

In addition to Brahms' well-loved "Liebeslieder," the Glee Club will sing "The Slave's Dream," a moving choral ballad, with Mr. William Preston Helms, well-known lyric Tenor of Boston and Newton, in the beautiful tenor part.

VIVIANE BERTLOAMI and ANTONIO DE FAZIO

seventh Annual Glee Club Night on Tuesday, May 9, at 8:15 o'clock, in the Warren Junior High School.

Among several special features, the Glee Club will have the good fortune to present two outstanding young violin prodigies, Viviane Bertolami and Antonio De Fazio, of the Ondrick School of Music. Each will play a group of solos as well as a Concerto for two violins and piano, with Newton's own talented concert pianist, Mary Pumphrey Tower at the piano.

Of unusual interest will be "The Singing Lesson," a dramatic duet, with William Sutherland, a young Baritone from the West, as the singing teacher, and Ruth Perkins, popular dramatic Contralto of West Newton, as the pupil.

A large Festival Chorus of sixty voices, consisting of the Glee Club, Male Chorus, and Girls' Chorus, also directed by Marion Kingsbury, with Edith Temple as accompanist, will bring the concert to a close with a group of stirring numbers from the lighter classics.

In keeping with the "Merry Month of May," sixteen Newton sub-debs, coached by Eva Gregg, are reviving the Old English May Pole Dance which, with solo dances by Dorothea Walsh, a pupil of Hans Wiener, will be special floor features following the program.

Under the inspiration and guidance of Mrs. Thomas Weston, Jr., while she was president, the Glee Club was founded in 1931 as a sub-division of the Community Service Club and was supported for the first few seasons by the parent Club. Feeling that they had been most fortunate in being helped to a good start, the members of the Glee Club set themselves to establish financial independence, and for several seasons now, through their Annual Spring Concert, have become not only self-supporting but have been able to turn back a surplus for the Benevolent Fund of the Community Service Club. Again this year through the success of the May Festival it is hoped that a more substantial amount than ever will go toward the Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Leslie Pratt Phinney, president of the Community Service Club, heads the long list of patronesses, with Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Kilburn in charge of tickets.

San Francisco Sets The Scene For May Council

California will swing wide open its Golden Gate to welcome the country's leading clubwomen when they gather in San Francisco for the Council Meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be in session from May 8 through May 13.

In a glamorous setting of sunshine, palm trees, blue ocean, gleaming white architecture with a modern motif, tropical fruit and foliage, those women fortunate enough to join in the Council gathering will have an opportunity not only to discuss the problems that touch the heart and life of this nation and to hear nationally-known personages speak on these problems, but also to enjoy the varied attractions for which "The City by the Golden Gate" is famous, including that fairyland of modern ingenuity, Treasure Island, the scene of the Golden Gate International Exposition.

Statesmen, scholars, writers and thinkers representing the most brilliant minds of today will present, in addresses, broadcasts, and forum discussions, many aspects of the vital and timely theme that was chosen by Mrs. Suidie Orr Dunbar when she was elected to the presidency of the General Federation—"Adjusting Democracy for Human Welfare."

The programs of the nine major departments which will be offered have been built around this central theme. The opening night of the Convention will be California Night with addresses of welcome by the Governor of the State of California, by the Mayor of San Francisco, and by clubwomen who hold high office in the California Federation of Women's Clubs. The evening of Wednesday, May 10, is Presidents' Night, a gala occasion. Two other speakers of special appeal that we may mention especially at this time will be Kathleen Norris, celebrated Author, who will speak Junior Night, Tuesday, May 9, addressing young people particularly in the subject she has chosen, "What Do You Want To Do?" and Dorothy Thompson, noted news commentator and writer on International affairs, who will give a special Radio broadcast to the Convention that evening.

Twelve Resolutions will be offered for the action of the Council, which will be listed later also.

Informal social affairs and tours to points of interest will be enjoyed throughout the week, and on the final Play Day, the visiting clubwomen will take a boat trip on San Francisco Bay, through Golden Gate for a view of the great new bridges, and to Treasure Island, where the International Exposition is already in full swing.

Auburndale Review Club

A skit, "Fill in the Doll Shop," written by Mrs. John D. Heilbeck, a Club member, was the feature of the entertainment given at the Annual Meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday, April 18, at Ten Acres, in Wayland.

In this play, Mrs. Frank F. Davidson as the manager, and Mrs. Eugene U. Ufford as the assistant, in a Mail Order Shop, took back a number of dolls which had not met with approval of the delivery. Among these were a singing doll featured by Mrs. E. Dana Kendall; a colonial dame, Mrs. Robert D. Watters; a baby doll and later a Raggedy Ann doll, both carried out by Mrs. Charles E. Valentine; a Chinese doll which was later blacked up and sent away as a colored Mammy by Mrs. Ernest F. Drew; a Shirley Temple and also a talking doll, by Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury; and an old-fashioned doll and a change into the popular Charlie McCarthy by Mrs. Edward P. Kelly. The porters who brought in the dolls and unpacked the dolls were Mrs. Grace H. Fiske and Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson. This skit brought to an end the year's program "A Quarter Century of Progress" which had been arranged by Mrs. Hattie U. Hutchinson, Mrs. H. Alfred Hanson, and the chairman of the Program committee, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew.

During the business meeting which preceded the skit, there were the usual reports and election of officers; Mrs. Eugene U. Ufford, president; Mrs. James G. Patterson, vice-president; Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury, secretary; and Mrs. Amos R. Wells, treasurer, were reelected for another year.

The new Program chairman, Miss Anne L. Buckley, then announced the topic for the coming year to be one of "Biography," and assigned the parts to the Club members.

Luncheon followed, during which

If she thinks it isn't pretty. That's a psychopathic pity! That, alone, might cause her "moods", And "I-don't-care" attitudes.

Take her to that kind magician, Madame Ruth, expert beautician. In whose rosy, chic salon Your "duckling" will become a "swan"! State Federation Launches Campaign for Tree Planting

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 29, is Arbor Day. The Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs is launching a state-wide project on that day that is most appropriate. They suggest that every city and town observe this day and the days of spring to follow by planning and carrying forward a Tree Planting Program.

The hurricane of the 21st of September wrought untold, unbelievable, and still unrealized destruction of New England's shade trees and forests. If we of today are to restore and preserve for future generations New England's greatest asset as a beauty spot of the United States, all must co-operate in such a program of shade tree planting.

Private property owners are urged to join in this project by clearing up fallen trees and by planting new trees to replace the old ones that were destroyed.

A Newton woman, Mrs. Donald V. Baker, of 686 Centre st., has been appointed secretary of the Massachusetts Arbor Day Project.

The regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held on Friday, April 14, at the Unitarian Church Parish house, Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden presiding. Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, Program chairman, before introducing the speaker, read a very appropriate poem for club members entitled "Which Are You?" Dr. David Lewis, lecturer, writer, and teacher, spoke of "Health with a Smile," explaining the great need of vitamins for health and cited many alarming instances, due to the lack of understanding of proper food combinations. An interesting question period followed.

Mrs. Francis L. Kinney, accompanied by Mrs. G. Howard Frost, sang two delightful songs.

Mrs. Patrick Duncan, Ways and Means chairman, announced that the Telephone Bridge held on March 31st, was a great success, and thanked the hostesses and committee for their services.

HOLD THE LINE, Please

The average time to make a long-distance telephone connection is but one and one-half minutes. Most calls go through while you "hold the line." Friends, no matter how many miles away they may be, are within quick and easy reach. And there's a personal quality to telephoning that's like nothing else except a personal visit. Out-of-town rates, you'll find, are very reasonable.

Educators State European Travel Safe This Year

A nation-wide symposium conducted among a group of American educators shows a unanimous view that there is every prospect of continued peace in Europe and that travel conditions across the Atlantic will be normal this summer. Twenty-five prominent members of university faculties, and nationally known lecturers familiar with European affairs, were consulted by Henry M. Willard, president of the Bureau of University Travel of Newton.

The general consensus of opinion can be summarized as follows: (1) the view supported by sensational channels of publicity in this country that a war is imminent in Europe is not justified by the actual facts; (2) the very fact that the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia and occupation of Memel occurred without destroying the general peace is further proof that a major conflict is highly unlikely; (3) private sources of information from abroad are in complete agreement that there will be no serious outbreak; (4) European travel conditions are normal so that the ordinary pleasure and profit of a trip can be expected; and (5) visitors to Europe this summer can be assured of the usual hospitality and courtesy, enhanced by the friendly desire of foreigners to be understood and liked by Americans.

Stebbins, Newton, second vice-president; Miss Geraldine B. Chandler, Brookline, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard D. Walker, Newton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles E. Farnsworth, Winchester, treasurer; Miss Bertha M. Bush, Brookline, assistant treasurer.

Girl Walks Four Miles In Sleep

Sunday morning at 2 o'clock Mrs. Frank Brown of 259 Homer st., Newton Centre, upon returning to her home, found a young girl asleep on the porch. The girl, Norma Kellar, 12, of 57 Strathmore rd., Brighton, showed stonishment when awakened, and said she had no recollection of leaving her bed, dressing and walking the four miles from her home to the Homer st. house. Mrs. Brown telephoned the girl's mother and the Newton police. Mrs. Kellar expressed amazement when she received the telephone call. She said her daughter had gone to bed at 7:30 Saturday night and was asleep before the mother went out visiting. The mother returned at midnight, but did not go into the girl's room, and so was unaware of her absence. A Newton police car took the Kellar girl from the Brown residence to the Lake st. terminal, whence she took a street car toward her home.

The Kellar girl had been visiting Saturday her girl friend, Jean Leach, of 258 Homer st., across the street from the Brown residence, had been driven home early that evening and soon after went to bed.

Fined $25, Drove on Left Side of Street

William Parcels, 71, 15 Prospect st., West Newton, was fined $25 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Tuesday for driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. On April 16 a car driven by Parcels collided head-on in front of police headquarters with a car driven by Mrs. Florence Anderson of Newtonville ave., Newtonville. Three persons claimed to have received injuries. Lieut. Moan, who prosecuted the case, told the court that Parcels turned out to pass another car, and was on the wrong side of the street, thus causing the collision.

Looting, Vandalism At Auburndale

When the family of Eric Kermath returned to their home at 4 Evergreen ave., Auburndale last Sunday after having been away for a week, they found that the house had been entered and looted, and in addition furniture and fixtures had been destroyed. Apparently the burglary and vandalism had been committed by boys, as muddy tracks of a dog's paws were found on the floors. Entrance had been made by breaking a window in the kitchen. The stolen articles included a wrist watch and several pieces of silver. After ransacking the house, the culprits had burned a camera and other articles in the fireplace, poured ink on rugs, broken light bulbs, emptied perfume bottles and scattered papers taken out of desk and bureau drawers. They also turned on a faucet and the radio and left both running, upset the telephone onto the floor, and left electric lights burning. Neighbors told the police that they had observed lights on in the Kermath house the preceding Friday night, but had supposed the occupants of the place had returned.

Powers' Paragraphs

much more money than is won or lost by the lower strata who buy number pool tickets, is hypocrisy. And there is a lot of hypocrisy in this social system of ours.

Nazis in Germany and Fascists in Italy—in retaliation for adverse criticisms of their totalitarian governments by newspapers and persons of prominence in this country, cite instances of alleged decadence in the U. S. A. Between jitterbug contests, collegian gold-fish swallows, wrestling matches held in rings covered with mud or dead fish and exhibits of ladies "in the raw" at the New York and San Francisco fairs, it would seem that culture in this democracy either has passed its zenith, or has temporarily slipped several gears. The propagandists of Hitler and Mussolini certainly have some material to work on.

Residents of Newton and especially members of the Sacred Heart Parish at Newton Center and Newton Highlands, while rejoicing at the great honor which has been conferred on Bishop Francis J. Spellman by Pope Pius XII, regret to see him leave this city, where for over six years he served devotedly as an humble parish priest, in addition to filling the important duties incumbent upon him as auxiliary bishop of the Boston archdiocese. It has long been known how high Bishop Spellman stood in the esteem of the late Pope Pius XI, and the present Pope. He speedily won the respect and affection of his parishioners at Newton Centre because of his genuine friendliness and his unaffected democracy. Together with these attractive traits he possesses the requisite ability, tact and dignity to merit his appointment as the head of the most important Roman Catholic see in this country.

Last week we had a news item about the remarkable escape from death of Robert Sprout, an old Newton resident, who was resuscitated after having been trapped in a submerged automobile under the waters of the Charles River for 25 minutes. We stated that "Bobby" was on the danger list at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. He was for a couple of hours. But, within a few hours after having been pronounced "dead" by a physician, as he lay on the shore of the river, he was as apparently as well as ever. Physicians at the hospital naturally thought that our former rival "red-head" might develop pneumonia, or a nervous breakdown after the terrific physical and mental ordeal through which he went. But, they didn't know our old friend, "Bobby." He didn't even get a cold after having been submerged in icy water for about a half-hour. And the harrowing experience did not even ruffle "Bobby's" nerves. He can take it, and smile—the same infectious smile he has had since we first knew him 50 years ago.

Rotary Club

must certainly keep his eyes open: some nine-hundred cars that were burgled under water last Fall in Providence were needed about Maine, New Hampshire, and New York.

Efforts of reputable dealers to standardize prices and practices in the used car field are hampered by the various anti-trust and anti-monopoly regulations of federal or local governments. At the same time, both dealers and public suffer from unscrupulous individuals and fly-by-night concerns which will set up business for a short time, grant high allowances, and then be well out of the way when the public begins to realize that they have been victimized. The manufacturers are beginning to pay more attention to the plight of the reputable dealers and are trying to work out arrangements with them which will both be legal and be fair to all concerned.

Man's Leg Broken In Street Fight

In a street fight at Oak Hill shortly after midnight on Saturday, Joseph Batten, 42, of 498 Dudley rd., Oak Hill had his left leg broken above the ankle, and his two alleged assailants were arrested charged with assault and battery. One was Philip McHugh, 21, of 439 Parker st., Oak Hill. The other, Earl Hubley, 43, a taxi driver of 501 Dudley rd., Oak Hill was also charged with drunkenness, and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Batten, arrested on a drunkenness charge, was taken from police headquarters to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

According to Patrolmen Kiley and Lupien, who arrived at the scene of the fracas, Dudley rd. and Greenwood st., Oak Hill at 12:30 a. m. Sunday, they found Batten lying on the ground with McHugh punching him, and Hubley kicking him. The alleged assailants were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and their cases continued until June 29, by which time it is expected that Batten will be able to appear in court.

Vandalism In Newton Continues

Newton police were notified on Monday that over the week-end six panes of glass at the Levi Warren School, West Newton, had been broken. Another complaint about vandalism was that received from Ralph Brett of 41 Avalon rd., Waban. He stated that 29 windows had been broken in a vacant house at 158 Pine Ridge rd., Waban, which he owns.

On Sunday Patrolman John Riley found two "For Sale" signs broken in front of a vacant house at 34 Highland ave., Newtonville. One was owned by Alvord Brothers, the other by John T. Burns.

Will Teach Typing In College Course

school pupils paying a fee for extra-curricular instruction in music and tap-dancing has been in operation in Newton public schools, Bryant said that he was amazed to find that tap-dancing is being taught in our schools, and he thinks such an activity silly.

An inquiry from the secretary of the American Federation of Teachers, an affiliate of the A. F. of L., regarding the use of the union label on school books, resulted in a vote by the committee that they would not object to books bearing the label. The committee voted to authorize the lease of the dwelling house on Elm rd. for one year, starting May 1. The school department is not using the building and the city will derive some income by leasing it.

District lines for the new school being erected on Pearl st. were defined as follows—from Watertown line at Centre st. to Watertown line at Watertown st., along South side to Chapel st., to Middle st., to Adams st., to Washington st., along North side of Washington st. to Centre st. The present Lincoln and Eliot Schools will be abandoned at the end of this school year to provide furniture for the new Franklin School at West Newton, $11,861.41 were appropriated, and for the same purpose at the new Lincoln-Eliot School $7,091.57 were appropriated.

Aged Man Hit By Automobile

Peter Delorey, 67, of 219 Pearl st., Newton, was hit by an automobile opposite 317 Watertown st., Nonantum, last Friday night at 7:40. He received an injury to his right knee and was taken to the Newton Hospital, and later removed to his home. The car that hit him was driven by John Chinel, 65, of South ave., Weston.

There is a dog in Brooklyn, New York, who seems to know that to be at large without a muzzle may mean trouble. The dog's owner was served with a summons for allowing an unmuzzled dog on the streets. When the case was called the owner told the judge that at the time the dog was alleged to be on the streets he was actually in the house. At this point the prosecuting policeman interrupted to state that the dog ran into the house when he saw him approaching.

"That's an intelligent dog," commented the judge. "He knew enough to run when he saw the policeman. I'll suspend sentence this time on condition that from now on the dog wear a muzzle as required by law."

Quite a problem is confronting cemetery officials throughout the country by people who desire to enter their pet dogs in the family lot. A few cemeteries permit this practice but in most sections it is forbidden. Recently a dog was buried in a southern graveyard at night by members of the family, who could not bear the thought of separation, even in death. I have many other records in my files of midnight burials of pets whose owners were determined to have them rest in peace in the family lot.

In an Illinois community many persons who own plots in a local cemetery are making vigorous protests because recently a dog was buried there. However, many people who are fond of dogs believe that a faithful pet in life may well deserve this respect and honor in death.
